BY JAMES J. RICHARDSON.

Before 3000 wild-eyed, yelling fans the Beavers and Angels broke even in yesterday's double-header, which gave the Angels the deciding game of the series of five games.

Harry Gardner, the human string-bean, was the whole show in the first contest, which the Beavers won, 2-0. He pitched airtight ball, allowing the Angels only two scratch infield hits. Not an Angel reached second. In only two of the nine innings did more than three men face him.

Crandall, who opposed Gardner, pitched great ball. After the first, when he allowed one hit, he held the Beavers hitless until the eighth, when they managed to garner three safe clouts and a base on balls for two runs.

Willie Makes First Score.

It looked as though the game would go into extra innings until the eighth, when Willie, the first man up, walked. Siglin bunted in front of the plate and Crandall fell all over himself trying to field it. When he pulled himself together Willie was on second and the scorer credited Siglin with a hit. Willie and Siglin advanced on Baldwin's out. Harry Gardner, the pitching hero, singled to left, scoring Willie, Siglin pulling up at third. Farmer singled to center, scoring Siglin.

Sensational fielding featured both games and the fans were generous with their applause. Farmer twice raced over the foul line back of third and gathered in catches which looked impossible. Siglin made a beautiful one-hand spear of Bole's drive and threw the Angel catcher out at first.

There were no stolen bases in the first battle. Gardner retired two Angels via the strike-out route and did not issue a base on balls. Farmer's puff of Crandall's easy fly was the only boot of the game.

Brown Turns Tables.

With Curly Brown on the mound the Angels proceeded to polish off the Beavers in the second and deciding game of the series. The Angel southpaw let the Beavers down with four hits, struck out five and had perfect control. The Angels got to "Lefty" Jamison in the second for two hits, which netted the only tally of the game.

With Meusel out of the way Fournier hit one over second, which Rodgers tried hard to get, but which rolled to center field. Hollocher covered second, but while Williams, in center, was telling a fan in the bleachers a funny story and paid no attention to the ball, Holly raced out after it. In the meantime, Fournier pulled up at second. Fournier went to third on Ellis' out and scored on Bassler's single to left.

Salt Lake Wins Series by Ninth Inning Rally in Final Game.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—Vernon and Salt Lake divided honors in two games. Slagle, for Vernon, won a pitchers' duel from Kirmayer in the morning game, when his teammates scored one run in the eighth inning with the score tied.

The Bees found Quinn in the ninth inning of the afternoon game for a single, a double and a triple, with the score tied and won. The visitors won the series, four of the seven games.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

McCredie sent Lee up to bat in the eighth for Lefty James, but the best he could do was to fan. The Angel pitchers discovered Lee's weakness—a curved ball. In Saturday's double-header they curved him to the bench four times.

* * *

The Beavers and Angels played five of the hardest fought games seen here this season. Every game was a pitcher's battle. The Beaver twirlers seem to be going good, and with a little luck they should win oftener.

* * *

Earl Sheely, Salt Lake first-sacker, sat in the press box and viewed the battle. He is on his way to San Francisco to join the Bees. Salt Lake plays San Francisco, starting tomorrow, and as both teams are fighting for the lead, it ought to be a battle royal. Sheely will add strength to the Mormon tribe.

* * *

Houck went in to pitch for James in the ninth. Houck had no trouble. Meusel retired via the infield route, Fournier fanned. After walking Ellis, Houck caught him off first with a quick throw to Griggs.

* * *

In the sixth inning of the first game Farmer was safe at first on a fielder's choice. He strayed away from the bag too far and Boles threw quick to Fournier. Farmer got back ahead of the ball, but Fournier tagged him while he was switching his feet on the bag. It was a catlike move both on the part of Fournier and Umpire Frary.

'PINKIE' WRIGHT IS NEAR-HERO

Lincoln Student in Canoe Crash Is Hurled in Lake, but Not so Girl.

"Pinkie" Wright, Lincoln gridiron star, almost qualified as a hero yesterday while the Lincoln seniors were enjoying an afternoon at Oswego Lake. Canoes occupied by Miss Esther McGuire and Wright collided, throwing the Lincoln captain into the lake. For a few thrilling seconds it looked as though Miss McGuire's boat would capsize, and, as it was known that she could not swim, her classmates expected "Pinkie" to have to do the rescue act.

However, only Wright was thrown into the water and he swam ashore amid much merriment from the other members of the party.

GIANTS AND SOX INCREASE LEADS

Probable World's Series Contenders Playing Better Than Runners-Up.

NEITHER PENNANT CINCHED

Philadelphia, in National, and Boston, in American, Fail to Gain. Indianapolis Gains Full Game on St. Paul.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The league leaders and probable contenders in the annual world's series, the New York Nationals and Chicago Americans, increased their respective margins of safety the last week. Neither team, however, has yet succeeded in making absolutely certain the championship in its organization. New York and Chicago both played better baseball than the runners-up.

In four double-headers in as many days the first part of the week the National League leaders won five of the eight games. Against Brooklyn, New York won four games and lost two, and divided the double-header with Boston. The Giants defeated the Braves Friday and Saturday. It was the most successful week New York has had since mid-August.

Six Drp First in Two Weeks.

Philadelphia won only four games out of seven. Playing five games with Boston in three days, Philadelphia won three and divided two games on Thursday with Brooklyn.

None of the other teams in the National, except Chicago, won a majority of its games the last week.

It was not a busy week for Chicago in the American, the leaders being idle four of seven days. They defeated Cleveland Sunday and Detroit Friday. Saturday Chicago lost its first game in two weeks in dropping the first game of a double-header with the Tigers. The lead of the White Sox was increased to eight games by a 10-inning victory over St. Louis Sunday.

Boston Breaks Even.

Boston, by winning three, losing three and tying one, failed to keep up with Chicago. Against Washington the Red Sox won one and lost two, in addition to playing a 16-inning 1-1 tie on Wednesday and took two out of three games from New York. Cleveland increased its lead over Detroit by winning four out of six.

Although it had the best week since the first of August by winning five out of eight, New York was tied for fifth place on Saturday by Washington, which had five victories, two defeats and one tie for its week's work. Philadelphia, in the seven games it lost, was able to score no more than one run in any contest.

By winning two games today from Kansas City, Indianapolis increased its lead in the American Association by a whole game and now leads St. Paul a game and a half. The season will close Wednesday.

Prizes well worth shooting for have been offered. They include the Freidlander cup, Staples cup and three prizes offered by the Portland Gun Club. Ray Winters has donated a camera, Backus & Morris a set of silver spoons and C. B. Preston has donated a sack of flour.

The Multnomah Anglers' Club will hold its monthly meeting Friday night to make plans to enter the shoot, as special events for the fishermen have been put on the programme. The shooting will start at 10:30 A. M., and from the enthusiasm displayed to date, a large number of shooters, good, bad and indifferent, will be on hand to break the clay birds.

The Portland Gun Club is at Jenne station and can be reached by auto on the Powell Valley road and by the Estacada cars at First and Alder streets. To those who wish to shoot and who do not own a gun, the members of the club will see that they are provided with a shooting iron.

FAST RACES PREDICTED

TRACK RECORDS EXPECTED TO Go at North Yakima.

Fastest Horses Ever Seen in Northwest Will Compete This Week, Secretary Announces.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—Five days of the best horse racing scheduled in the Northwest this year is promised at the State Fair here this week by Secretary Frank Meredith, who announces 80 entries from 30 of the representative stables of the Pacific Coast and the Canadian provinces, including consistent performers and many holders of track records on this and other circuits.

The Canadian stables are represented by James Stewart, of Calgary; J. Taylor, of Edmonton; J. Carson, of Winnipeg, and Dr. Frank Craig, of Edmonton. The Winnipeg stables bring College Gent and Strathtell, both well known on this circuit. The former won the $2000 stake at the Oregon State Fair two years ago in 2:08 and won one heat in the free-for-all here the same season in 2:05¼.

The 2:08 pace on Wednesday and the free-for-all pace on Friday will bring together the best fields of harness horses ever sent to the wire in the Northwest. The track record at the Washington State Fairgrounds is 2:04½, made by Prince Zolock last year, but the prediction is the record will be lowered again this year, as the track is in splendid condition.

Tomorrow will be devoted to automobile racing, with four events on the card, and $1250 in purses offered for the winners. Monday will celebrate also the opening of the new $20,000 grandstand, completed this year for the accommodation of those who wish to enjoy the races

OAKS COMING TO BATTLE BEAVERS

Del Howard's Pitching Crew Working With Pep and May Cause Portland Trouble.

1918 MACKMEN DOPED

San Franciscan Predicts Successors to Rodgers and Hollocher—Angel Slabmen Cut Batting Averages. Scores of Last Series Close.

Exit the Angels—welcome the Oaks. The Angels left last night for a seven-game series with the Vernon Club at Los Angeles. Del Howard and his Oaks will arrive tomorrow from the south for a seven-game series with the Beavers. Howard's men took a double-header from the Seals yesterday, which gave them the series.

Five out of the seven games played between the Seals and Oaks were won by a lone run:

Tuesday, Oaks 5, Seals 4.
Wednesday, Oaks 4, Seals 3.
Thursday, Oaks 3, Seals 5.
Friday, Oaks 2, Seals 3.
Saturday, Oaks 1, Seals 2.
Sunday A. M., Oaks 3, Seals 1.
Sunday P. M., Oaks 2, Seals 1.

That the Oaks have taken a new lease on life is forecast by their series just closed with Hen Berry's men. Del Howard always manages to inject "pep" into them when they hit the trail against the Beavers.

Howard's pitchers are working nicely. "Speed" Martin will be with the Oaks on this trip north. This will make his first visit to Portland this season. Krause, Kremer, Prough, Goodbred comprise the rest of the Oak hurlers.

If rain should prevent the playing of any game during the week a double-header will be staged Saturday.

Walter McCredie's forecast of probable pitchers for the next day's game is about as reliable as Doc Cook's story of his discovery of the North Pole. He hasn't guessed correctly in any game this week excepting the opener against the Angels. From now on we will attempt to "clock" the boys ourselves, even though we do "boot" one every now and then.

A San Francisco writer takes delight in wasting type to tell the natives of his home town how McCredie will run his club next year. He has Bill Rodgers fired on account of the high salary our fiery
