President Wilson Will Take Hand in Settling Troubles if Necessary.

Confidence Expressed by Government Officials That Settlement Can Be Reached When Both Sides Are Brought Together.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 18 .- Employers and employes involved in the labor disputes in River.
Pacific Coast shippards are to be asked thin. to come to a speedy agreement to aid the Government in its task of shipbuilding. If necessary President Wilson will take a hand in settling the troubles which have threatened disruption of the Government's plans.

As yet the White House has held off from suffering into the situation and from entering into the situation, and the settlement of the dispute has been left largely in the hands of the Shipping Board and to President Compers. of the American Federation of Labor. Negotiations thus far have come to naught, however, and tonight Chairman Hurley, of the Shipping Board, announced that he will leave tomorrow nounced that he will leave tomorrow or Thursday for San Francisco, and will later visit Portland and Seattle. He may delay his departure 24 hours in order to confer with representatives of the Skinner and Eddy yards, of Seattle, who are due here tomorrow

The situation, it was announced at the Shipping Board today, has reached a point where a settlement must be reached without unnecessary delay, and officials express confidence that settlement can be reached when the situation is placed before the contend-ing factions and the interests of the Government made plain to them.

Government Favors Compromise The Government, it can be stated on authority, is not prepared to accept and direct the payment of the full scale of wages demanded by some of the union representatives, and it is not willing to accept the Skinner & Eddy scale on the other hand.

Scale on the other hand.

Some yards are hindering an adjustment by refusing to come to an agreement as to the portion of increased cost of construction they shall bear, incident to the granting of an increased wage scale. The more radical yards are still insisting that the Government absorb this entire increased cost, while the Shipping Board is disposed to share this increased expense with yards. his increased expense with yards which have contracts on unusually favorable terms.

Chairman Hurley spent much time today in consultation with President Gempers and Secretary of Labor Wil-son. These officials had been hopeful for a favorable break in the situation today, but the announcement that Mr. Hurley will leave almost immediately for the Coast is taken to mean that an agreement is now expected and that he deems it advisable to consult first hand the men who are involved in the San Francisco Situation Most Serious The Shipping Board has been striving to bring about an equitable agreement against which no element can stand out. The President, it is said, has been holding off in the hope that such an agree-ment might be tentatively reached, and then stood ready if necessary to exert his influence with any selfish interest that might hold back.

Mr. Hurley and other officials are today more concerned over the San Francisco situation than that at either Portland or Scattle. The chairman feels confident that he can adjust dif-ferences at the Northern cities after personal conference with the men. In Seattle indicated that most of the wood shippards there have agreed to buy lumber only from union mills.

No specific or satisfactory advices were received today from Portland bearing on the "closed-shop" situation. Concillator Blackman was out of the city today, but will return tomorrow to participate in the conference with the Skinner & Eddy representative

Speculation has been indulged in as to whether the Pacific Steamship Com-pany, which tried several months ago to obtain sanction for the purchase of the turbiners as well as the Beaver and

Rose City, might now be interested in the Columbia River trade to the extent of placing vessels in the service. In view of doubt as to the future of its own fleet, because the President and Governor, also the steamer Umatilia. are of a size that would be desirable are of a size that would be desirable on the Atlantic, it is reasoned that the company officials feel they will have plenty to do in maintaining serv-ice with the Admiral fleet and such other smaller carriers as would be left.
