TROOP TRAINS PASS THROUGH PORTLAND

Surprise Boxes of Good Things to Eat Are Given Out by Women of Red Cross.

10,000 PIES ARE ORDERED

Specials on Way to American Lake Are Met and Delicacies Are Distributed—Experts See Soldiers Are Well Fed.

All day yesterday detachments of drafted men were moving through Portland, en route to the mobilization and training camp at American Lake.

It was not until evening, however, that any large body of drafted men arrived at one time. Then the specials from California and other points outside of Oregon began passing through the city.

One big special of nine cars came in over the Southern Pacific at 8:45 o'clock. Its stop here was brief. About 800 men were on this train.

At the Union Depot the Portland branch of the Red Cross canteen was ready for them with paper boxes crammed with good things to eat. The contents of the boxes were not intended to take the place of the regular rations provided for the men by the Army authorities, but consisted of delicacies that don't appear in the rations.

10,000 Pies Provided.

The piece de resistance in each box was a tempting and appetizing small apple pie. Special arrangements had been made by the Red Cross canteen with Portland pie bakers whereby 10,000 of these little individual pies will be baked between now and Tuesday, when the rearguard of the draft contingents is expected to reach the city.

Packed in about the pie in each box were a cupcake, a couple of big cookies of the kind grandmother used to make, a piece of Tillamook cheese, one Oregon peach, a handful of candy "chews" and a package of cigarettes.

The Red Cross folks had prepared these boxes with a view to showing the drafted men in a practical way that somebody is thinking of them and appreciates the service they are giving to their country. Portland girls worked all day yesterday filling the boxes with the tempting morsels, at the temporary headquarters of the canteen in the former quarters of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Second and Stark streets.

Dining Car Chief in Charge.

J. D. Farrell, president of the O.-W. R. & N. Company, sent the pioneer O.-W. R. & N. dining car man, W. W. Watson, who always has charge of the O.-W's famous Christmas dinners, to the canteen to take charge of the food arrangements. Mr. Watson is relieved from all other duty so he may devote his entire time to this work.

Fred Strong, chairman of the soldiers' reception committee of the Red Cross canteen, was in charge of the distribution of the boxes at the Union Depot. He was there early in the evening with a corps of volunteer assistants from the banks, waiting to receive several hundred drafted men from Idaho and Eastern Washington points due to arrive on an 11-car special at 7 o'clock.

This train, however, was diverted direct over the Interstate bridge to American Lake at the Peninsula Junction, and did not come through Portland at all. The same course was taken with other O.-W. special troop trains due later in the evening and early this morning, as the diversion saved a good hour's time.

300 Men Happily Surprised.

These trains all had dining cars in which the soldiers had their meals. So the arrival of the Southern Pacific special troop train from California at 8:45 gave the Red Cross canteen its first opportunity to distribute its lunch boxes as a surprise supplement to the regular rations supplied the drafted men. About 300 of the boxes were given out then.

The next Southern Pacific troop special did not arrive until well after midnight. It was decided that as only a few minutes' stop was to be made, and as most of the men were in their berths, not to wake them to distribute the lunch boxes.

The main crest of the troop movement will reach Portland today. Several heavy trains are scheduled to arrive over the Southern Pacific. Those arriving near meal times will be stopped long enough to let the men go to the Multnomah Hotel, where arrangements have been made by the Government to serve them with meals.

Last Specials Due Sunday.

Saturday and Sunday also will see large numbers of drafted men passing through the city en route to American Lake. After Sunday there probably will be no more special trains. Detachments on their way to American Lake after that time will pass through on the regular trains.

Virtually the whole of Oregon's share of this draft contingent, 287 men, has either reported already at American Lake or is on its way. The largest number of men taken from any Oregon county is only 24, so no special trains were necessary for them.

NAME ALONE IS GERMAN

Ernest Otto Herman Stumpe Not Only Willing but Anxious to Go.

Of the nine drafted men from Jefferson County to pass through Portland last night en route to American Lake, one was Ernest Otto Herman Stumpe. It had been reported that Mr. Stumpe claimed exemption on the ground that he was an alien enemy and that he had a mother and brother sighting in the German army. This statement Mr. Stumpe stoutly denies. His father is a citizen of the United States and Mr. Stumpe was formerly a subject of Great Britain, but he has his first United States naturalization papers.

"I at first claimed exemption because I had not received my first papers in this country, but, now that I have them, I am more than anxious to get into the Army," he said last night before departing for American Lake. "I was born in Eberslenwalde, Germany, but became a naturalized citizen of Great Britain several years ago. If anyone thinks I am not anxious to fight for the United States against my fatherland, let him follow me and see."

Mr. Stumpe has a large ranch near Grand View. He had the privilege of claiming exemption on the ground of being a farmer, but instead telegraphed his father and mother, whose home is in Wisconsin, to come and take charge of the farm. They arrived Wednesday just in time to tell their son good-bye before he left with his comrades for Portland.

RUMOR THIRD OREGON WILL STOP AT STATE FAIR CREATES JOY

Story Is That Governor Withycombe Has Asked War Department for This Last Favor to Departing Soldiers.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE.

WITH the Third (Beaver) Regiment Oregon Infantry, Sept. 20. —(Special.)—No stop orders yet!

Which means unless the stop order does come the Third Oregon will be winging its way to North Carolina September 24, Monday next.

It is funny what a pleasing effect a slight rumor will have on a lot of soldiers. This morning, from where no one knows, came the rumor that Governor Withycombe has petitioned the War Department for permission to have the Third Oregon detrain for several hours at Salem and take part in the opening of the great Oregon State Fair. It is understood, not officially, that Governor Withycombe and the fair officials, if they can obtain the consent of the War Department, purpose to make the coming of the Third Oregon an event that will never be forgotten. Aside from the athletic programme which is being arranged, there will be motorcycle races, and—hush—even riding stunts in which the "Mounted Scouts" may participate. Even Captain Hockenyos and Lieutenant Spaulding, of the supply company, are thinking of unloading the trainload of mules and entering them, not only in a fancy stock exhibit, but in the hauling, bucking and kicking contest, in fact in all events which will call for a pyrotechnic display of mule temperament.

It is understood Governor Withycombe's main reason for wishing to have the troop train stop at the state Fair is because it will afford the farmer parents a chance to say farewell to their boys at Salem and at the same time visit the fair without the extra cost of making a trip to Clackamas. It will also afford a happy sendoff for the soldiers.

Work of loading the equipment will be finished Sunday evening and the regiment, by an early start, would be able, if permission is granted by the War Department, to spend four or five hours at Salem. It would also furnish a chance for Portland parents and friends to enjoy an added prolongation of their farewelling.

Major M. B. Marcellus, regimental surgeon, today received permission to increase his regimental medical corps to the full quota. This will give a chance of recruiting 15 more men in the enlisted personnel. Colonel May has urged Major Marcellus to exceed the speed limit and if possible enlist the 15 men before the Third goes away early next week. Major Marcellus has been hoping ever since the regiment was called out that he would receive orders to recruit his regimental medical corps up to full strength. He has a long waiting list, but a few grew restless and enlisted in other hospital units. As it is, however, Major Marcellus does not believe he will experience much trouble in securing the 15. As quickly as possible, those whose names are on the waiting list are being notified to appear at Clackamas for examination. What is needed in this branch of the service is experienced men, or men whose appearance indicates they will make good as hospital corps man.

Not all of the Third Oregon will entrain Monday for North Carolina. There will be left behind, just to throw a chill into the trouble makers, about 20 officers and between 800 and 900 men.

* * *

This is "dream" week for several officers. Dream week with several carloads of nightmares thrown in. Here is the way one officer "dreams" out a schedule: Leave Oregon September 24; October 4 arrive at Camp Greene; December 15, sail for France; arrive "somewhere" in France December 24; the next day, December 25, would be Christmas, so to have a nicely rounded-out dream and Christmas, each man in the Third Oregon is to receive from the French government a bottle of champagne.

One other dreamer dreamed that he had work for months and months up in the wilds of Eastern Oregon, capturing all the rattlesnakes in the country. These he teased and tormented until they were "plumb" deadly.

He then obtained consent from the War Department and shipped the lot into France. At night, instead of building wire entanglements and digging in, his trained deadly snake makers would slip quietly up to a German trench and let go a bag of Oregon rattlers. Nothing to it! They cleared the trenches.

* * *

I will take a solemn oath to this: These dreams are truthfully recorded as they were told over breakfast mess, yet not a drop of liquor is to be had in camp and not a cook (here's a chance for my being murdered) in the Third Oregon can make a Welsh rarebit. A Colonel dreamed out the schedule and a Major dreamed the rattlesnake dream.

FAMILY SENDS SIX

John T. Hindle Last Member of House to Help Allies.

ALL NOW IN SERVICE

Clackamas County's Quota Ready to Leave Today for Camp and Commercial Club Gives Big Farewell to Soldiers.

OREGON CITY, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—John T. Hindle, a husky young rancher of Clackamas County, stalked into Sheriff Wilson's office today to report for the mobilization of Clackamas County's quota. He, with 20 others, leaves for American Lake early Friday morning.

"Are you ready to go?" asked the Sheriff.

"Ready! Why, man, I'm tickled to death for the chance," he replied. "When I jump into the game today," said Hindle, "it means that the last of half a dozen brothers and sisters is now working in the cause of the allies."

Mr. Hindle came to this country a few years ago and has been living with his uncle, George Armstrong, a well-known Clackamas County farmer, in the Redlands country, east of Oregon City.

Service Given in Army.

At the age of 16 Mr. Hindle enlisted in England and served three years in the British armies.

His brother George is an expert machine gunner with the British troops; Fred, another brother, is a member of the Royal Flying Squadron, while the youngest lad of the family is engaged in clerical work with the Canadian troops. Two sisters, Alice and Nellie—one married—are expert government telegraphers in constant service. The father is R. S. Hindle, a special military constable in London, at 127 Windsor road.

Mr. Hindle is a naturalized citizen. He was clearly the proudest of all the 21 who reported to the local board today.

"Believe me, I'm glad to get into it. One brother fighting for Canada, two for England, two sisters doing their "bit," dad helping along a little, and three cousins fighting with the Australians, an' me with the Stars and Stripes—can you beat it?"

No Exemption Asked.

Mr. Hindle is 26 years of age and unmarried. He is a popular young farmer of the Redlands district, but has sought no exemption.

Every member of Clackamas County's second quota, consisting of 21 men and four alternates, appeared before Sheriff Wilson promptly at 2 o'clock. Following the splendid showing of the "regulars" the alternates were dismissed for the present.

The boys were checked up by Shiriff Wilson and County Clerk Harrington and were then dismissed to reassemble at 6:15 tomorrow morning. The boys leave on the Southern Pacific at 7:06 Friday morning en route for American Lake. Garland Hollowell, of Gladstone, and John T. Hindle, of Redlands, were placed in command of the quota.

Trained Men in Command.

Mr. Hollowell has had military training at Oregon Agricultural College, and Mr. Hindle has served in the British army. Both are ranchers and neither claimed exemption. The second quota, in addition to Mr. Hollowell and Mr. Hindle, consists of the following:

Charles A. Lindquist, Champion Chamberlain, Robert Stephen Green, Fred Elvin Aune, Albert Zerkel, Lawrenc Henry Barnes, Edgar Allen Stewart, Axel Anderson, Elmer Walter Johnson, Clarence C. Conner, Robert J. Mattoon, Roy John Anthony, Arthur Newton Farr, Arnold E. Schneider, Jacob Carl Kraft, Wilsen Edd Test, William John Tevin, Enrico Severi and Joseph Walsh. The alternates were Maynard Cole, Anton T. Olsen, Rafaele Tunsi and Otto Hogg.

Ten of the boys will stay at a local hotel tonight, while the others, who live in and about Oregon City, will be allowed to remain at home. A big reception was held in the Commercial Club parlors under the auspices of the local Commercial Club tonight in honor of the boys.

The local board was highly elated at the promptness with which the boys reported and at the fine spirit of patriotism shown by the entire quota.

MESS FUND IS PROPOSED

University of Oregon Red Cross Hospital Unit Urged to Drill.

Members of the University of Oregon Red Cross hospital unit held their regular Thursday night drill and business meeting on Multnomah Field last night and it was unanimously decided to raise a mess fund by public subscription. While this unit has not yet been mustered into the Federal service, the call is expected at any time and the boys are desirous of raising their fund before the call is issued.

The plan as outlined last night, is to issue a uniform receipt for every subscription received and this will be in the form of a souvenir for the donor to remember the boys after they go abroad. There are 229 enlisted in the unit which is comprised of enlisted men, doctors and nurses. An effort will be made by each member to raise at least $5 for the mess fund. The subscription work will start in a few days and the unit will make a special effort to bring the campaign to an early close.

P. W. Cookingham, drill master of the unit, has issued an urgent call for all men in the unit to appear for drill each Thursday night hereafter. It is not compulsory for the men to drill, but the training received here assures them of a better chance to become noncommissioned officers when the unit is mustered into Federal service. Of the 80 Portland members in the unit, only 25 reported for drill last night.

HEROES WALK ON FLOWERS

Seattle and King County Pays Tribute to Soldiers of Draft.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 20.—The second quota of drafted men from Seattle and King County, 738 in number, paraded through the business streets of Seattle at noon, to the music of six military bands.

Flowers were strewn before the men, and tens of thousands of people cheered the recruits as they passed along. Baskets of lunch were given to the men before they entrained for Camp Lewis at American Lake.

Mrs. G. Miller, of Mossyrock, Dies.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Mrs. George Miller, of Mossyrock, died at her home yesterday, age 69 years. Funeral services will be held tomorrow from the Christian Church at Mossyrock by Rev. Abraham Vanderlinde, of Napavine. Mrs. Miller leaves her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Adie Swigert and Mrs. Bertha Carson, of Mossyrock, and Minnie Tillinghast, of Wyoming, and three sons, George and Leon, of Mossyrock, and William, of Bend, Or.

Postal Clerk's Error Keeps Willing Man Out of Army.

Auto Hired and Trip Made Direct, but Camp Lewis Would Not Receive Anyone Without Credentials.

HOQUIAM, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Because a postal clerk made a mistake, Clarence Fain, of this city, failed by a few hours to get into the National Army as a member of the second contingent called to Camp Lewis despite the fact that he used automobiles, trains and the telephone in an effort to break in. He now will have to wait until the next call and in the meantime has gone back to his work at a logging camp near Rainier.

Mr. Fain was registered and examined in district No. 1 of this county. He was accepted and, while waiting, went to Rainier to work in the woods, leaving his address at the Rainier postoffice. When his notice of call to report reached Rainier the postal clerk got addresses mixed and forwarded the letter to Mr. Fain's address in Hoquiam. Friends getting the notice at once sent a telegram to Mr. Fain, which reached him late Tuesday night. The contingent was to leave Montesano Wednesday morning and Mr. Fain could not arrive there in time.

Determined not to be counted absent and to get into the Army, Mr. Fain hired an auto and drove to Camp Lewis. At the camp, however, they refused to let him into the Army as his only credentials were his telegram. The telephone line to Montesano was not working and so he took the train for the city, still hoping he would not be too late. But it was all of no avail. He must wait for the next call.

SOLDIERS IN DANGER

Attempt Made to Wreck Train En Route to Camp Lewis.

ROCKS WEDGED IN TRACK

Order Approved for Construction of Great Amusement Park With All Forms of Clean Pleasures for Men at Cantonment.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—What is believed by authorities to have been a deliberate attempt to wreck a troop train was revealed yesterday by the finding of nearly a dozen large stones hammered in between the Northern Pacific tracks and plank crossing at Meeker Junction near Puyallup.

"The rocks were put in between the tracks and the crossing plank for only one reason, I believe, and that was to wreck the soldier train that passed through here for Camp Lewis at 5 o'clock," said Marshal Olson.

"It was not the work of children. No child could have placed the rocks so securely. Chips of the rocks were found around the tracks, which gives every evidence of a deliberate attempt to wreck the next train due."

The discovery was made at 2 o'clock, three hours before the next Tacoma-bound train was due. This was a troop train of several coaches, carrying soldiers to Camp Lewis.

United States Marshal Boyle's office at Tacoma was informed and will conduct an investigation, together with special agents of the Northern Pacific.

The question of providing amusements for the men of the National Army to be trained at Camp Lewis assumed definite shape today after weeks of waiting, when Major-General H. A. Green, commanding, received a telegram approving his recommendation to the War Department that an amusement park be authorized at the Tacoma post, but off the cantonment proper, the park to be placed in charge of a responsible promoter and under the supervision of Ray F. Carter, representing the training camp activities commission.

The amusement park will be located opposite the entrance of the cantonment on the Pacific Highway, across the tracks of the Northern Pacific and northeast of the Dupont School, extending towards Tacoma as far as necessary. Concessionaires will construct their own buildings, but David L. Stone, constructing quartermaster, will lay out the park and pass upon the type of structures.

The idea which will now be worked out will include every sort of clean amusement from theaters with the best shows on the Klaw & Erlanger circuit to shooting galleries, bowling alleys, pop stands and the like. The area to be devoted to this amusement center covers more than 100 acres, and every inch of the ground will be utilized in making fun for the soldiers of the great National Army.

ROUSING FAREWELL TENDERED

Camas and Washougal Boys Called to Colors Banqueted.

CAMAS, Wash., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—A rousing farewell was tendered the boys of Camas and Washougal who were called to the colors last night. The boys from Washougal were brought over by automobiles and joined by the drafted men from Camas, and at 7:30 P. M. all were banqueted at the Commercial Hotel. Patriotic songs were sung by Mrs. Blanche Burrit, of Portland, and addresses were made by Arthur Thayer and William F. Woodward, of Portland.

Those leaving from Camas were: Harold Bennett, Alfred W. Hertzler, Roy L. Van Camp, Louis Walter Johnson, William Asher Cole, Albert Eugene Henderman, Ivan Miller, Fordyce Wilmer Stebbins, William Darling, Nick Morris, Peter Seateries, Bijah Smith and Charles Kraemer. Those from Washougal were: Otto Henry Acker, Leonard Roy Greenman, Sidney Raymond Wall, Benjamin F. Carpenter, Julius Joseph Krohn and Theodore Gotlelb Krohn.

AUTO BALKS; DRAFTED IS LATE

Great Banquet and Parade Given at Ben dto Second Quota.

BEND, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Because the automobile in which he was riding balked a few hours before he was due to report in Bend for departure with the second installment of the Deschutes County draft quota, John Garrison, of Deschutes, was unable to leave with his comrades last night and a substitute was sent in his place. Garrison arrived just before the train carrying the recruits pulled out, but was unable to obtain the necessary papers.

The other 14 of t hecounty's quota, with the missing man's substitute, were recipients before their departure of the greatest demonstration given any men yet to leave here for the war. Early in the evening a banquet was tendered, after which a parade escorted them to the railroad station.

MILITARY ORDER IS DEFIED

Man Drafted in California Declares He Won't Respond.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Further defiance of United States military authority was expressed today from the witness stand in the trial of Daniel O'Connell and five other men charged with conspiring to hamper enforcement of the selective draft law.

Carl J. F. Wacher, one of the defendants, declared that, although he has been ordered to report for military duty tomorrow, he will refuse to go with San Francisco's second contingent of the National Army to Camp Lewis. He said his refusal was based on the belief that the law was unconstitutional.

ALBANY FEEDS 500 RECRUITS

Honor Guard Girls Serve Men on Way to American Lake.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Five hundred young men en route from California to American Lake for enrollment in the National Army were dined in the Albany Armory tonight. The local chapter of the Red Cross was in charge of the dinner, with Honor Guard girls as waitresses.

The local dinner was evidently appreciated, as the soldiers cheered Albany enthusiastically.

Livestock Leaves for Fair.

GASTON, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Two carloads of high-class stock leave here today for the State Fair at Salem. Thomas Carmichael is sending 12 of his choicest registered Holsteins. His herd sire, Sir Johanna Fayne Bonheur, which carried off the grand championship honors at the State Fair last September, is included in the bunch. Lionel L. Paget, of Somerset Farm and Mayor of Seaside, is sending a few young Holstein bulls.

GEORGE A. WHITE STAYS

ADJUTANT-GENERAL ASSIGNED TO OREGON FOR PRESENT.

Commission as Major in Army and Assistant Divisional Adjutant Not Countermanded.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The question as to whether the Federal Government or the state of Oregon is to have the immediate services of George A. White, Adjutant-General of the state, has been satisfactorily adjusted between Secretary of War Baker and Governor Withycombe.

The Secretary has telegraphed Governor Withycombe, in response to a vigorous protest made by the Governor against orders to General White to report for duty immediately with the Forty-first Infantry Division at Camp Greene, N. C., that the Government is willing to permit General White to remain on duty in the state for the time being.

At the same time the Government retains him as a Major in the Army, with the original assignment as assistant divisional adjutant of the Forty-first Division.

General White admitted last night having received orders from the Secretary of War, through the commanding officer of the Western Department, delaying the date of his reporting for duty with the Forty-first Division as Major and assistant divisional adjutant. He was to have left Portland for Camp Greene at the end of this week.

MISHAP LEADS TO ALTAR

DAISY POLK MEETS GENERAL WHEN AUTO BREAKS.

Marriage of San Francisco Belle and French Officer Takes Place in Vitrimont Church.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—The marriage of Miss Daisy Polk, of San Francisco, to General Marie Joseph Louis Robert De Buyer, of the French army, which took place in the village of Vitrimont, near Luneville, in Lorraine, yesterday, was the result of a romance begun nearly a year ago, when Miss Polk's automobile broke down one day near Vitrimont, where she had been in charge of the reconstruction of the village. General De Buyer happened to pass and offered the services of his chauffeur to repair the break, thus beginning the acquaintance.

The marriage took place in the church, which was the first building restored in the village, thanks to Miss Polk's work. It was followed by a breakfast in the second building which had been completed.

Miss Polk by her marriage becomes Countess De Buyer-Mimeure, as General De Buyer carries the title of Count De Buyer-Mimeure. After leaving St. Cyr, Count De Buyer-Mimeure entered the cavalry and at the beginning of the war was a temporary General of Brigade, taking command of the Sixth Brigade of Cuirassiers. He was appointed to the command of a division in 1915, taking command of the Third Artillery Corps, and in 1916 of the Second Army Corps. He was cited in January, 1915, for brilliant services performed and was promoted to commander of the Legion of Honor in July, 1916.

Camp Lewis Notes.

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Sept. 20.—There will be seven regimental bands organized soon in Camp Lewis, according to present plans. Corporal Leland D. Bullard has been assigned to the 346th Artillery and recommended as band leader. Sergeant Julian, a recent arrival from Fort McDowell, Cal., has been assigned to the 367th Field Artillery and recommended for the same position. He was formerly band leader in the Second California Infantry.

Private H. M. Hetzler, in the finance department of the miscellaneous company of the Quartermaster Corps, and Miss Ruth Thornburg, of Santa Barbara, Cal., were married Monday at the home of Rev. W. E. Bates, of South Tacoma. The bride is a graduate of the University of California.

Major John O'Neill, field artillery, National Army, has been ordered to Camp Lewis and will have one of the battalions of the heavy field artillery here.

Captain Alfred B. Lewis is ordered to report to the commanding officer at Rockford, Ill. He was an officer of the 316th Engineers.

Company A men, in common with other units at the camp, had their first mess out of their own kits last night. During the first two weeks at camp they used dishes. Hereafter the kits will be used and each man will have to wash his own. The fellows say they are sadly minus dish towels and they are hoping to be remembered. For supper last night Company A had hamburger steak and gravy, browned and baked potatoes, stewed prunes, tea and bread.

Approximately 1500 men of the National Army arrived at Camp Lewis today and tonight. The largest delegation, 500 strong, came from Seattle in a special train, preceded a few minutes by Snohomish County's quota of 47 in automobiles. Both automobiles and train were placarded with patriotic and belligerent slogans. Tomorrow's schedule calls for the reception of 3750 men, which, with those already in camp, will make an army of 10,000 to respond when taps are sounded tomorrow night. Among the arrivals today was Antoine Mound, of Puyallup, the first Indian to report at Camp Lewis.

Four officers have been relieved from duty at Camp Lewis and ordered to report to the commanding officer at Cristobal, in the Panama Canal Zone. They are Second Lieutenants Leonard W. Stone, Lawrence W. Hester, Henry F. Arnold and Prince L. Blair, of the Coast Artillery section of the Officers' Reserve Corps.

The following officers will proceed to Fort Sill for duty indicated: Captain Frank Heath, 26ist Infantry, grenade instruction; First Lieutenant C. W. Meyers, field fortification; First Lieutenant Ralph J. Hurlbart, 362d Infantry, bayonet training; Captain William Robbins, 363d Infantry, musketry course; First Lieutenant Ward M. Ackley, 364th Infantry, automatic rifle course.

The largest number of blankets ever purchased in the Northwest has been bought on the open market by Captain Como, quartermaster of Camp Lewis. The order consists of 9478 wool blankets, valued at more than $59,000.

HOQUIAM MAN APPOINTED

Dr. E. R. Ahlman to Enter Army Service at Camp Lewis.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Dr. E. R. Ahlman, of Hoquiam, has been appointed one of the four surgeons, who with Dr. Ray W. Matson, of Portland, noted tuberculosis specialist, will form the tuberculosis examining board for the Army cantonment at Camp Lewis, American Lake. His official title will be that of contract surgeon, United States Army, and he will have the rank of First Lieutenant.

Dr. Matson was selected by the Surgeon-General to head and organize the tuberculosis board for the Camp Lewis cantonment. Dr. Ahlman was one of the four surgeons he selected from among medical men of the Northwest as being particularly fitted for this service. Dr. Ahlman has been notified to hold himself in readiness to report for duty in about 10 days.

SOLDIERS WANT BOOKS

WAR LIBRARY WEEK PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY GOVERNOR.

Million-Dollar Fund to Be Raised to Supply United States Troops With Reading Matter.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Governor Withycombe today issued the following statement proclaiming the week beginning next Monday, September 24, "War Library week":

Whereas, Honorable Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, has appointed a National War Library Council for the purpose of raising a $1,000,000 fund to be used in supplying books and reading material to the men in our Army and Navy; and

Whereas, Every state in the Union has been called upon to organize for patriotic service and generous giving to this worthy fund during the week beginning Monday, September 24, 1917; and

Whereas, The Oregon State War Library Committee is now organized throughout the various parts of this state and is anxious to collect Oregon's quota of this fund at the earliest possible moment; and

Whereas, The patriotic and generous response of the citizens of our state to all calls made upon us during these war times has earned for us the proud title of "Oregon First"; and

Whereas, Recreation for the men of our Army and Navy is of paramount importance and the purpose of this fund will be recognized by all to be of inestimable value in providing a wholesome and beneficial relaxation for our soldiers and sailors in their leisure hours; and

Whereas, Realizing the value of this deserving fund, the citizens of Oregon should respond as quickly and generously to appeals in its behalf as they have responded to other patriotic demands;

Now, therefore, in view of the foregoing premises and by virtue of the authority in me vested as Governor of the state of Oregon, I, James Withycombe, Governor, do hereby set aside the week beginning Monday, September 24, 1917, as a week for contributing to this fund and I earnestly urge our citizens, whose patriotic generosity has earned for our state such an enviable position, to respond promptly and liberally to this meritorious appeal.

Guard Your Home From Disease

The invisible menace that threatens every home all the time, is the disease germ.

Millions of deadly germs will, in a few hours, breed in a garbage can, an unwashed milk bottle, a clogged kitchen sink, or anywhere small food particles or any other matter subject to decomposition can collect.

Yet you can make a better fight against disease than it can make against you, if you will fight with Lysol; it will make your home germ-proof.

Lysol is the ideal home disinfectant because it unfailingly and immediately kills germs, no matter what their nature. Its frequent use is simple, easy, economical—and wise.

Get some Lysol today. Don't use it full strength, for that is wasteful. Mix it with water in a jug or large bottle (25 cent bottle makes a two-gallon solution, a 50 cent bottle makes five gallons).

Use a little of this solution every day in the garbage pail, the toilets, the kitchen sink, the stable, the cesspool, the outbuildings, etc. Always put some in scrubbing water, for soap alone will not kill malignant germs.

Lysol Disinfectant

Lysol is also invaluable for personal hygiene for the sick-room. There is but one true Lysol and that is the product made, bottled, signed and sealed by Lehn & Fink. Accept only when in the original yellow package.

Three sizes: 25c, 50c, and $1.00. Sold everywhere.

Lysol Toilet Soap Contains Lysol, and therefore protects the skin from germ infection. It is refreshingly soothing and healing and helpful for improving the skin. Ask your dealer. If he has none, ask him to order it for you.

Lysol Shaving Cream Contains Lysol, and kills germs on razor and shaving-brush (where germs abound), guards the tiny cuts from infection, and gives the antiseptic shave. If your dealer has none, ask him to order a supply for you.
