PREMIER IS UPHELD

Socialists Alone Refrain From Voting Confidence.

FIRM POLICY PROCLAIMED

Painleve Will Take Action Against Intrigue, but Will Avoid Publicity, Lest Morale of People Suffer by News Spreading.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—(Delayed.)—Premier Painleve, replying today in the Chamber of Deputies to interpellations by Deputy Frederic Brunet, who asked the government to associate itself with President Wilson's refusal to treat with the German people so long as they were submissive to the military caste and advocating an institution or society of nations, said that he had made every effort to preserve collaboration with the Socialists.

After paying a tribute to Albert Thomas' services, the Premier said that the absence of Socialist Ministers would make no change in his policy. He declared his determination to proceed energetically against all intrigues and certain foreign agents, but added that he did not intend to allow these scandals too much publicity in the press because they were picked up abroad and weakened the country's morale. This part of the Premier's speech was interrupted, especially by the Left, as were his declarations that the generalship was necessary and ought to be respected. The government, he said, hoped to remain in agreement with the press by appealing to the newspapers to maintain their own discipline. The Chamber applauded the Premier's allusions to the society of nations and President Wilson's message as principles to which France fully adhered, thereby showing her abnegation of moral grandeur.

Alexandre Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, told the Chamber that all documents concerning France's agreements with the allies were ready and could be published tomorrow, but that the entente allied nations must be consulted.

LITTLE STORIES OF REAL LIFE BOB UP BEFORE JUDGE ROSSMAN

Anna Turner Kneels Alternately at Altars of Hymen and Bacchus—Retail Price of Whisky Now $6 a Quart.

ANNA TURNER, so run the matrimonial and police records, kneels alternately at the altar of Hymen and the altar of Bacchus. On five separate occasions she has put to sea in the frail bark Matrimony, but on each occasion she has run afoul the reef of "Firewater."

Anna, with a sob and a headache, appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Rossman and "confessed" that she had imbibed too freely of hard cider and Jamaica ginger.

"My husband had me 'pinched' because he was tired of supporting me," she said. "I guess he's tryin' to beat the high cost of living."

"How would you like to stay here in jail with the matron for a while?" asked the court.

"Believe me, Judge, I'd rather stay here than go home to my husband."

"Well, how long would you like to remain as a guest of the city?"

"That's up to you, Judge, but—I don't want to stay here."

So Anna, a bride of four months, was told she might go "upstairs" for a short stay. She has been there so often that she admitted that it felt like "comin' home."

Jimmie Ryan had stayed "on the wagon" for a long time, but Wednesday night he just couldn't resist the temptation to "hit 'er up." That he more than succeeded was indicated yesterday morning when he appeared in Municipal Court with a badly battered eye and a whiskey bottle containing "three fingers" of pure alcohol, or at least as pure as can be bought through the bootlegging route.

Jimmie admitted he had staged a remarkable "high lonesome" by drinking the alcohol straight up, so he was told to remain in jail for a couple of days until the bruised eye and parched throat felt better.

It would stand Portland bootleggers in good stead to take up the study of memory in the "know." Almost invariably a man charged with bootlegging can remember nothing as to where he secured the booze or what he intended doing with it.

Ja White's poor memory cost him a fine of $20 yesterday. He had been arrested by Patrolmen Elliot and O'Halloran with 108 quart bottles of whiskey in his "for hire" automobile. In court yesterday, White failed to remember where he had secured the booze, except that two men had commissioned him to take it from a river dock to Third and Olsson streets. He was arrested as he was unloading his liquid cargo.

President Robert Walter, of the local union, declined to discuss the matter yesterday, but at the last meeting of the men on September 11 he expressed the belief that the new wage scale would go into effect September 25.

"I still have the fullest confidence in that statement," he said yesterday. "And beyond that I have nothing to say."

POPE AWAITING REPLY

Germany's Note Believed Delayed by Emperor.

BELGIUM NOT DISCUSSED

Impression in Berlin Is Teutons Consider Nation Too Valuable a Pawn to Be Jeopardized by Any Ill-Timed Move.

ROME, Sept. 20.—(Delayed.)—Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, tonight declared to the Associated Press that the reply of the central powers to Pope Benedict's peace proposals, had not yet been received at the Vatican.

Cardinal Gasparri believes that the reply of the central powers was held up when Emperor William went to Riga and that it is not likely that it will reach the Vatican until next week.

BERLIN, Sept. 19, via London, Sept. 20.—While the text of the German reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals will not be announced before Saturday, the Berlin press and parliamentary circles concur in the prediction that the message will not contain specific declarations concerning Belgium.

The impression prevailing in well-informed quarters is that the note will leave the subject of Belgium in abeyance.

The German attitude on this point might be tersely expressed this way: "Germany considers Belgium too valuable a pawn to be exposed to jeopardy through an ill-timed or hasty move."

On the subject of international arbitration, the German note, it is believed, will express approval of the suggestion.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The attempt by the German press to create an atmosphere for another peace maneuver again is given prominence in the morning papers, which are of the unanimous opinion that there can be no peace until Prussian militarism is crushed. The Daily Mail, under the caption "The Hun Peace Plot," declares:

"The true friends of peace are the allied armies of the governments which are striving to remove the cause of all this misery, unrest and bloodshed by destroying Germany's military autocracy."

The Daily Mail rebukes the pacifists, saying: "President Wilson has shown how these people can be handled. He is the most scrupulous of democrats, but he knows that liberty at such moments as this has the most to fear from its pretended friends."

The Times quotes the Atlantic City speech of Secretary Lane and adds that the war will end, as Secretary Lane says, "when Germany knows she must give hostages for good behavior in the future."

OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Melvin Mahlum, a young rancher from the Canby country, headed for the big fair-week dance at Canby Wednesday night to liven things up a bit with a suitcase full of homemade beer. He was arrested and before Justice of the Peace Sievers today pleaded guilty to a charge of transporting liquor and was fined $20 and costs.

On the boy's promise forthwith to abandon the brewing business, no other charge was placed against him.

Elopers Ride as Freight.

SUNBURY, Pa., Sept. 17.—Believing that love laughs at carfare, Miss Carrie Milroy and George Emerson, both of Harrisburg, boarded a freight train at Marysville, a suburb, and came to Sunbury to be wedded. They admitted having made the trip in a boxcar, saying they were without funds to pay both carfare and the preacher.

DEFENSE IN TONG MURDER TRIAL AROUSES DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

DEFENSE IN TONG MURDER TRIAL AROUSES DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Suppression of Evidence Alleged in Case and Attempt Will Be Made to Show Trouble Expected.

Charges that the District Attorney's office had suppressed evidence in the prosecution of the case marked the opening of the defense in the trial of Joe Guk, charged with second degree murder for shooting to death Chin Hong, in Circuit Judge Tucker's department of the Circuit Court yesterday.

Following the statute, the local District Attorney's office omitted the name of the purchaser of liquor, and ex-Senator Fulton's contention was that this was in violation of the constitutional provision that every accused person must be apprised of the nature of his crime.

The receipt was admitted by the court.

I. W. W. PRISONERS FREED

Pardon was granted on representations made by the trial judge, the prosecuting attorney and the Sheriff of this county, and was brought about by Attorney J. M. Phillips, who succeeded in getting a reversal of judgment on appeal in about 30 cases a few days ago.
