

BERLIN CONSIDERS REPLY DIGNIFIED

Press Points Out Conservative Tone of Kaiser's Note to Pope Pius.

LONDON SEES HYPOCRISY

British Papers Declare Germany Realizes Impending Disaster and Ruin Sure to Follow America's Entry in War.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—It is generally pointed out by the Berlin press that Germany's reply to the papal peace proposals impresses by virtue of its dignified tone and spirit in contradiction to President Wilson's reply to the Pope and also on account of the absence of all vilification of Germany's enemies.

The Liberal press is especially jubilant because the government unreservedly has brought itself into harmony with the Reichstag peace resolution. Pan-German and ultra-Conservative newspapers, with one exception, are unexpectedly moderate in their comment.

It must be admitted that the German reply heaps fiery coals on the heads of our enemies. After President Wilson's nastiness and the presumption of the French Foreign Minister, M. Ribot, and his followers we have here a document which, marked by dignity and reserve, is alone dictated by an appreciation of the brotherhood of men.

Several newspapers concur in stating that the omission of direct reference to Belgium amply is atoned for in the official admission that the government approves of the Pope's mediation, and, a further circumstance, that the much-mooted point is accounted for in the acceptance of the Reichstag's action of July 19.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The London morning papers are almost unanimous regarding the reply to the central dispatch to the Pope as vague, hypocritical and hopeless, and all the more reason why the war should be prosecuted to certain victory.

The Daily Mail declares that the object of the new German maneuvers is clear, that the enemy fears Field Marshal Haig's victorious troops and the future appearance of a great American army in France.

"Above all," continues the paper, "the fears that the allies, stirred to energy by President Wilson, will at last apply commercial and economic pressure, which, if properly utilized, might long since have brought the Hohenzollern system down to ruin."

"With the Hohenzollerns and the gang of militarists around them no honest abiding peace can be made." The Express, under the caption, "The Mad Dog of Europe," declares that Germany no longer hopes for victory and foresees that the war the creation of a league of nations from which she will be excluded, adding: "Germany's reply to the Pope in effect is a bid for membership in the league of nations. It must be useless to bid. Treaties gained by a Hohenzollern must remain scraps of paper until the end of time."

Progress of the War.

In none of the battle areas of Europe has there been any marked activity in the last 24 hours. A momentary lull appears to have settled upon the fighting operations in Flanders, on the Aisne and at Verdun, and along the Isonzo.

Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, finding his efforts to dislodge the British from their recent gains in the Ypres salient ineffectual, has ceased his infantry attacks and resorted to artillery.

The British are resting after their effort.

RUSSIAN REVOLT IS LAID TO KERENSKY

March on Petrograd Said to Have Been Planned With Korniloff Beforehand.

PREMIER MAY BE OUSTED

Opposition Parties Demanding Explanations and Charge Is Made Conspiracy Was Aimed to Crush Workmen's Delegates.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 23.—The controversy over the source of the recent Korniloff rebellion has proved to be the sensation of the day. Petrograd newspapers publish columns of revelations and interviews with the chief actors in the revolt, and while much is inexplicable, it is agreed that negotiations between Premier Kerensky and General Korniloff for the establishment of a strong government at Petrograd preceded the rebellion.

The Russian Volya said the revelations had made an overwhelming impression on the members of the government who were not initiated in the plan, and that these ministers were awaiting Premier Kerensky's explanation.

General Savinkoff, ex-director of the War Department and later commander of the Petrograd troops sent against General Korniloff, declares that he was dispatched to Petrograd by Premier Kerensky, who had resolved to proclaim martial law, with a mission to ask the Russian commander-in-chief to send to Petrograd a cavalry corps and the "savage" division under command of a General who was in bad political repute. General Korniloff broke the agreement by sending both Krymoff and the "savage" division toward the capital.

ports of Thursday, having gained all but a few minor posts of the objectives desired and having taken 2242 prisoners, but their big guns still hammer the German positions and their aviators harass the airframes, dumps, communications and other military points behind the German lines. Northeast of Gouzeaucourt, between Arras and St. Quentin, the British carried a successful raid into the German trenches. On the rest of the western front, the French and Germans have been content to bombard each other. The artillery activity is reported as quiet along the Aisne front and northwest of Verdun in the region of Hill 304. Berlin reports reconnoitering engagements on this portion of the front, but no action of moment.

Having captured the Jacobstadt bridgehead, south of Riga, and forced the Russians to retire to the right bank of the Dvina for some distance and the Italians, after exploding a mine, captured two advance positions from the Austro-Hungarians.

Argentina probably will not declare war on Germany at this time, although no decision has yet been reached. Action by the Argentine government in the matter was halted early Sunday by the announcement that an official communication had been received from the Berlin foreign office disapproving of the ideas expressed by Count Von Luxburg, the German Minister to Argentina, in the telegrams he sent to Berlin last week. Swedish Minister at Buenos Aires.

General Cadorna, in his report on operations in the region northeast of Gouzeaucourt, mentions the traditional Austro-Hungarian attacks on the Bainsizza plateau. In the region of Monte Marmolado, northwest of Trent, the Italians, after exploding a mine, captured two advance positions from the Austro-Hungarians.

THEATER LINE WAITING

ENTHUSIASTS BEGIN WATCH 49 HOURS AHEAD.

Seats Reserved for Entire Season by One Appearance and 50 Were in Group Last Night.

The Baker season seat sale opens tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, and as the line started to form and gradually grew all day until last night at least 50 were gathered in the line of the lobby to hold their places. They expect to be relieved by others of their family or friends and thus hold their positions until the office opens Tuesday morning. They are about equally divided between men and women.

The system of holding these season locations is one that has a strong appeal to the public, as having once secured these seats, the holder is spared the extra expense required. They are simply laid aside in the holder's name every week for the performance desired and held until a specified time, thereby obviating the necessity of ordering and taking chances of getting good seats each week. No mail orders and telephone orders must also wait their turn until those at the window have been served. This annual custom has long been a feature of the Baker season. The new season opens next Sunday. The first offering will be George Cohan's famous success, "Hit the Trail Holiday," and it will be followed by a long list of new and important productions, many of which have never been seen here.

RICH FAMILY RECEIVES

MR. AND MRS. S. R. RICH OBSERVE 25TH ANNIVERSARY.

Friends Pay Tribute to Couple Who Have Made Home in Portland for 22 Years.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Rich celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage yesterday by giving a reception for their friends at their home on Flanders street. More than 100 friends called during the reception hours. Mr. and Mrs. Rich were assisted in receiving by their son, Jesse J. Rich, Mrs. E. P. Lewis and Mrs. Sanford Brannan.

They were the recipients of flowers and congratulatory messages from their friends in this city and other places. Mr. Rich is well known throughout this city and state. He has been engaged in the retail cigar business in Portland for the past 22 years, first with his brother, B. R. Rich, and then for himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich, who was Johanna Sender, were married in Los Angeles. They came to Portland three years later and some time after that Mr. Rich became the proprietor of the stores which now bear his name. Mr. and Mrs. Rich have two sons, Jesse J. Rich, who is in business with his father in this city, and Eugene J., who is a student at Columbia University.

ORGAN RECITAL AUDIED

WILLIAM H. BOONE PERFORMER AT PUBLIC AUDITORIUM.

Rule Against Persons Entering and Leaving During Playing of Numbers Is Approved.

William H. Boone, organist in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, gave a splendid recital of organ music yesterday in the Public Auditorium, and was greeted cordially by a large audience. He played with good knowledge of the capabilities of the pipe organ on which he gave the recital, and brought to his work fine sympathy and taste. His selections were from the compositions of Faulkes, Spinney, Piene, Boellmann, Wagner, Nevin, Handel, Durand and Berlioz. These selections were for full organ, and displayed also the soft registers.

It was pleasing to note this message at the foot of the programme: "Patrons will not be seated during the playing of a number and are requested not to leave the Auditorium except during intermission." Formerly people attending these recitals entered and left out of the building at will and disturbed the rendition of the music.

The organist next Sunday at the Auditorium will be Mrs. Gladys Morgan Farmer.

OSWEGO PAVING IN COURT

Mayor and Six Councilmen Charged With Spending Money Illegally.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The right of the city of Oswego to pay for the improvement of Front street in that town out of the municipal treasury will be tried out in the Circuit Court here Wednesday before Judge Campbell. Mayor Wilson and the six councilmen, who are defendants in a suit filed by Mrs. Julia Cooper, filed an answer Wednesday before Judge Campbell. Mayor Wilson and the six councilmen, who are defendants in a suit filed by Mrs. Julia Cooper, filed an answer Wednesday before Judge Campbell.

Mrs. Cooper charges that the City Council railroad through an ordinance, by the terms of which Councilman Fred Morey, of Oswego, was authorized to proceed with the improvement of Front street. It is alleged by Mrs. Cooper that Front street is a county road, and the city has no legal right to expend its money for the improvement of the street, except 1904, which is the city's share of the county road fund.

WORLD WAR IS "OUR DAY"

Rev. E. Olin Eldridge Delivers Impressive Sermon on Opportunities.

Rev. E. Olin Eldridge, pastor of the Mount Tabor Episcopal Church, last night delivered an impressive sermon, in which he dealt with the opportunities of the people of the United States today as compared to the people of Europe. He took as his subject "Our Day," and his text was from the gospel of Luke, 9-44.

He told of the kindly feeling which the other grief-stricken nations of the world must have for this country, which he termed the dollar nation of the world because of our love for humanity and the millions of dollars which we can furnish without any assurance of reckoning.
