

KENTUCKY KLIKK VOICES ITS WANTS

Inner Circle Resolutely Resolves to Put Some Things Through.

FOUR OFFICES DEMANDED

For Deputy Marshals Names of E. T. Mass, F. B. Tichenor, Mark Holmes and Frank Berry Presented.

KENTUCKY KLIKK CHOICES FOR NEW DEPUTY MARSHALS.
E. T. Mass, of Oregon City, ex-Sheriff of Clackamas County.
F. B. Tichenor, legislator of Port Orford, representing Coos County, who had the state indorsement for United States Marshal.
Mark Holmes, a postmaster from Polk County.
Frank Berry, now a deputy under Marshal Montag.

The Kentucky Klirk, an organization of faithful and unflinching Democrats, in order to restore and keep harmony and build a strong Democratic machine in Oregon, has recommended the appointment of four hard-working and well-known Democrats as outside deputies under the new United States Marshal, George F. Alexander.

The recommendations were made at a lively and auspicious equinoctial gathering of the inner circle of the Klirk Saturday night at the quarters in the Worcester building, T. G. Morrison being in the chair, Mark O'Neil the president, and E. E. Versteeg, treasurer, were unable to be present, being away at the spring, and after the important business in hand was dispatched, that of recommending and demanding the appointment of certain of the untried as outside deputies, postponed other business until the regular meeting of the Klirk.

The recommendations were made in solemn determination to put them through, and the following resolution was drafted and signed and will be presented to the new Marshal:
"Whereas, the Democrats who have grown gray in the service of the party and Chamberlain in this state, contend that the new United States Marshal, George F. Alexander, is a carpet-bagger, being from Missouri, the inner circle of the Kentucky Klirk, in equinoctial assembly, do hereby deny the charge and firmly state that he is not, his father being a Congressional representative from the Third Missouri district, and

"Whereas, there are a number of defeated candidates for the office of United States Marshal still within the confines of Oregon who are worthy and deserving gentlemen and, in the interest of harmony and a strong machine for the good of the party, should be recognized, inasmuch as George F. Alexander, the newly appointed Marshal to succeed Montag, was the duly accredited and supported candidate of the Klirk for the remunerative appointment to the law-enforcing branch of the Oregon legislature, to succeed John Montag, now, then,

"Be it Resolved, That the following faithful be appointed the outside deputies to the new United States Marshal of Oregon City, ex-Sheriff of Clackamas County: F. B. Tichenor, Democratic Representative for Coos County in the last Legislature, who had the state committee indorsement for U. S. Marshal; Mark Holmes, of Polk County, a postmaster by vocation, and Frank Berry, now a deputy under the incumbent Marshal."

The Kentucky Klirk is composed of Democratic stalwarts, all untried and unafraid, who go so far in the cause of independence as to kick against the pricks whenever the occasion demands. They all boast of a record of success from south of the Mason and Dixon line and admit no office-holders to membership.

BEANS PROVE PROFITABLE

Big Acreage Planted in Lewiston District This Year.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Beans from 450 acres in the Waha prairie are today piled in 14 big stacks awaiting a bean thrasher which has been purchased in the East and which will reach the ranch this week. The rain yesterday is not expected to damage the beans to any great extent. Although the past season was very dry the big venture of putting such a large area to beans proved profitable, and now plans are under way to increase the acreage next year. The experiment was in part due to the National patriotic policy of increasing food production during war time.

FAN-TAN PARTY ARRESTED

Twelve Chinese and Japanese were arrested for gambling at fan-tan yesterday in two successful raids conducted at 53 and 57 1/2 Second street by Patrolmen Miller, Welbrook, Cordes, Strain and Lewis, working in plain clothes. The Orientals were released on $35 cash bail each to appear in Municipal Court this morning. In both places it was necessary for the officers to break in barricaded doors with heavy axes before they could make the arrests.

MADCAP GIRL AT STRAND

"Spindle of Life" is Title of Most Enjoyable Love Story, in Which Ambitious Mamma Plays Part.

A madcap story of a madcap girl and how she upset all her mother's aristocratic reckonings, is the theme of "The Spindle of Life," the Butterfly photodrama opening at the Strand Theater yesterday afternoon, and the photoplay is balanced by a series of vaudeville acts that are in a strictly "all-star" class.

Featured in the photoplay are Neva Gerber and Ben Wilson, and the romance of "Gladstone," the beautiful and her "Sandman," who turns out to be one of the big financial kings of Wall street, is delightfully fresh and unconventional.

In the close of the play, when ambitious mamma discovers that the man who has eloped with her daughter is a bigger catch than the one for whom she had been angling, much to Gladstone's disgust, the situation is deliciously comic.

An act that was full of pretty and delightful little surprises is that of the Roth Rossa Company, with its musical novelties. They have a cat duet set to the music of a standard opera, which is laughable as can be, the appearance of two pretty children in character singing at the close of the act gives a beautiful touch to the programme they offer.

Eddie Harris, with his English-Scotch impersonation, is a hit with his audiences and introduces a dramatic reading into his act that carries the audience off its feet.

'GIRL IN MOON' SUCCESS

HIPPODROME BILL THIS WEEK FULL OF GOOD ACTS.

"Princeton Five" Are Accomplished Musicians, One of Quaint Being Al Jolsonesque Comedian of Much Merit.

Seated in the curve of a silvery crescent, a lovely maid swings far out over the heads of the Hippodrome audience in the new bill that opened yesterday. The startled and interested folk turned their faces moonward to where the pretty girl, perched saucily in mid-air, swung her slippered toes and tossed roses out of a tiny basket, the white cap and happily in a sweet soprano.

"The Girl in the Moon," as she is billed, offers an extraordinarily interesting act, unique in detail and artistic in every measure. The moon rises over a garden wall on which climb great roses, illuminated with colored electric lights.

An act of more than passing interest is that of the Princeton Five, composed of a quintet of accomplished musicians. In their "Spruced Hotel" they offer a rapid-fire fund of repartee, excellent eccentric dancing and singing of real merit.

"The Two Specks" are a pair of funsters, a pretty maid and a clever chap, who dress nautically and present a capital melange of songs set to smart stepping.

A keen little comedy sketch, "Taking Chances," with a surprise finish, is offered by Fannie Keeler and Billie Belmont.

Frank Wilbur and Blanche Sherry open the bill with a bright juggling turn set to piano accompaniment and full of clean fun. An O. Henry picture and the always interesting Mutual Musical selections have been chosen with care, and the act goes great.

A pair of entertainers who register a riot are Austin and Bailey, a colored team. In their "Spruced Hotel" they offer a rapid-fire fund of repartee, excellent eccentric dancing and singing of real merit.

Provision Will Be Made for Regiment of Negroes—Work to Be Finished in Two Months.

TACOMA, Sept. 23.—Orders to increase the size of the Army post at Camp Lewis and to make extensive alterations to many of the present buildings were received Saturday by Major David L. Stone, construction quartermaster. While the details of the plan were not announced definitely, it is understood that approximately 100 new buildings will be built. These will include between 25 and 30 barracks, several of them the size of the present 150-men barracks.

In several of the barracks now built mess rooms will be converted into sleeping quarters and additions will be made to others. It will take two months to complete the work. The alterations are due to the increase in the size of the companies since the American Lake cantonment was started.

Changes will also be made in the light and heavy artillery sections.
