Total Reports From Oregon to Date Only $6400.

SOME TOWNS RUN AHEAD

The Dalles, With $159; Corvallis, With $150; Astoria, $225, and Eugene, $239, Leading Out-of-Town Contributors.

With the war library fund on its last two days, slightly in excess of $6400 has been reported to headquarters...

Ad Club Will Work

The Ad Club committee which has been busily organizing under M. E. Lane, chairman, is about to make a sturdy one-day drive in its territory today.

One of the hardest residential fights has been made under L. A. Andrus on Portland Heights. Up to date this committee has turned over $120 to Treasurer Cookham.

Gresham, which was reported to have ended its campaign with $40 collected, indignantly repudiated this statement and asserted it would keep right on until its $100 quota was reached.

Among the more striking out-of-town reports yesterday was $51 reported by H. M. Cox of Arlington, safely over that city's quota: Bandon, $40, raised by a patriotic tea with a notable performance to close the week.

Two cities stood out markedly, The Dalles, which with $459 to its credit leads all other out-of-Portland localities, and Corvallis, which raised $150 solely on a newspaper campaign conducted by the Gazette-Times.

Not one person has been solicited personally in Corvallis. N. R. Moore, news editor, promises that the entire $300 quota will be raised.

Astoria's announcement of $225 already raised puts that city away forward, while Eugene's total of $239 keeps the University City in the limelight. A vigorous drive is being made there today.

Redmond, under the leadership of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Hosh, was instrumental in raising $25, or 25 per cent more than its apportionment. Moro with $25, Junction City with $11, Mitchell with $10, St. Benedict with $10, Clin with $10, Monroe $10 were typical of what was done by the smaller cities.

RED CROSS MAKES $990

Big Profit Realized From Meals Served to Soldiers at Albany.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 27.—(Special).—The local chapter of the Red Cross Society made a net profit of $989.97 serving meals during the past week to men en route from California to American Lake, Wash., for service in the National Army. Because most of the food was donated, the society had an expense of only $568.33 and received $1558.30 from the Government for the meals served.

According to the soldiers, the meals served at Albany were the best they received en route because at other places they were served by private concerns, while here the Red Cross Society took pride in serving good meals and giving the men big reductions. All of the money realized will be used for Red Cross purposes.

A total of 2598 men were served with one meal here. About 2700 more men will be fed here the second week in October.
