OREGON ASKED TO RAISE $16,500,000

State's Second Liberty Loan Campaign Will Open Next Monday.

WORK TO BE SYSTEMATIC

Bonds in New Issue Will Bear Per Cent and Will Be Due Twenty-Five Years After Date.

With a quota of $16,500,000 to raise, Oregon will enter upon the state's second liberty loan campaign next Monond liberty loan campaign next Mon-day. Preliminary arrangements were made yesterday at a conference be-tween C. A. Miller, special representa-tive of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, who will manage the campaign, and the liberty loan commit-tee. The second liberty loan will bear 4 per cent.

State headquarters for the second liberty loan will be opened in the former home of the Lumbermen's National Bank, at Fifth and Stark streets, and workmen were bustly engaged yester-day in preparing the offices for occu-pancy. The official residence of the liberty loan state central committee, and of Mr. Miller, campaign manager for Oregon, will be there throughout the campaign, which is to be waged during October. Work Will Be Systematic.

None of the hit-or-miss methods of the first drive will be in evidence, said Mr. Miller yesterday, but a carefully thought-out plan will be followed through the appointment of committees to undertake definite phases of the work. Four committees will be named, on organization, distribution, publicity and speakers.

C. C. Chapman, of the Oregon Voter, already has received and accepted his appointment as director of publicity. He will have the services of an active assistant assigned to duty at the head-quarters. C. H. Davis, of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, is to arrive and take charge as office manager. Under the system of committees and sub-committees which will be named for Portland and Oregon, duplication of work will be avoided and care taken to assure the most expeditious progress to assure the most expeditious progress of the drive.

Departure from the former method of soliciting will be found in the plan to name committee chairmen for Portland and other citles from each busi-ness or profession. These in turn will name the committee members by the same procedure of choice and the unit so formed will confine its efforts to the field represented by one particular business or profession. General soliciting committees will be named to visit the office buildings, as in the former drive, and to cover the city at large.

Secretary McAdoo Coming. Among the notable speakers for the second liberty loan who will arrive during October are Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, expected on October 10, and Cyrus Peirce, of San Francisco, who will arrive about October 22, on a speaking tour of the Northwestern

The state headquarters will be a general clearing-house for all information relative to the issue. Subscriptions will also be taken, but the main purpose of the general office is to keep the public in touch with data of the drive and to provide a base of operations for the entire state.

The second liberty loan drive is to raise $2,000.000,000,000 as compared with the $2,000,000,000 goal of the first campaign. Oregon's quota for the second call has been increased by practically $5,000,000 over that asked in the first, which was heavily over-subscribed. German states, Bismarck wrote the constitution, and when it had been signed by these 25 Kings and Princes signed by these 25 Kings and Frinces he declared it was the constitution of the German people. In it he provided only one place where the people could have a voice in their government affairs; that is in the Reichstag. The delegates to the Reichstag are elected by male voters 25 years of are and by male voters 25 years of age and over. Wealth, land and nobility are factors determining the order of one's vote. Then, too, cities which have arisen since 1871 are inadequately represented; the result is the laboring classes are poorly represented. But classes are poorly represented. But the Reichstag cannot enact; it merely proposes, debates and argues. One of its members has called its meeting place 'the hall of echoes.'

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

HALF A CUP OF MILK—whole, skimmed or sour—a seemingly trifling matter, hardly worth the trouble to keep or use. In many households quite a little milk is wasted—left uncovered in glasses—regarded as useless, because the cream has been skimmed off—allowed to sour—poured down the sink or thrown away.

NOW, IF EVERY HOME—there are 20,000,000 of them—should waste, on the average, one-half cup daily, it would mean a waste of 2,500,000 quarts daily, 915,000,000 quarts a year—the total product of more than 400,000 cows. This is intolerable—when milk is so nutritious—when skim milk can be used in making nutritious soups and cereal dishes—when sour milk can be used in bread making or for cottage cheese.

THIS PEOPLE'S MARKET, a market for the people, urges you to help Hoover in the conservation of foods. We are doing our part in selling foods at the lowest possible prices, you must eliminate waste when they reach your home. PEOPLE'S MARKET AND GROCERY.
