Yet in the course of the day a dozen persons stepped into headquarters and told C. A. Miller, of San Francisco, the capable and energetic young man who so successfully directed the first Liberty loan campaign here and who will be in charge of this one, that they wanted to subscribe then and there for Mr. Miller was only too sorry not to be able to accommodate them. Applications for bonds, however, must be made out on the regular forms supplied by the Government. Some 160,000 of these applications are on their way from San Francisco, but hadn't arrived yesterday.

Several banks also reported to Mr.
Miller that they had had many calls from patriotic citizens desiring to purchase bonds. All told, the number of such applications made for the day were about 50.
