STRIKERS SEEK WAY OF GOING TO WORK ESTACADA MAYOR NAMED

Mass Meeting of Unions Affiliated in Ship Building Trade Well Attended.

ALL COMMITTEES REPORT

Whether Vote on Mediator's Compromise Proposition Would Be Permissible or Not Dubions Though Men Seem Restive.

A mass meeting of unions connected A mass meeting of unions connected with the shipbuilding industry in Portland was in progress at a late hour last night in the Public Auditorium. It was called to order at 7 o'clock and immediately members of the committee representing the men at conferences with the employers began to lay reports before the session for consideration.

Although the meeting was called for 7 o'clock, an unusually early hour for such a session, large numbers were present and the men exhibited the keenest interest in the procedings. Hav-ing been out on strike and therefore having lost their wages for more than three weeks, they exhibited an intense desire to find some way out of the difficulties and to return to their positions

Whether or not the men would be privileged to vote upon the question of returning to work on the basis of the San Francisco wage scale, suggested as a means of compromise by G. Y. Harry, Federal mediator, and accepted virtually intact by the employers, was not known at a late hour, but it was generally believed that the men would demand such action, so they may ever demand such action, so they may ex-press themselves.

There was no picketing at the Port-land yards yesterday, according to Captain of Police Moore, who has had supervision of the police end of the

A number of the yards are employing new men dally now and it is believed that in one way or another the con-struction work will be started on a considerable scale soon, even should the union men remain out on strike.

ARBITERS WILL BE NAMED Federal Labor Adjustment Board to Finish in Seattle This Week.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 11 .- (Spe cial.)—The Federal Labor Adjustment Board, now in session here, expects to complete the inquiry into the labor troubles of the shipyards and kindred industries of the Puget Sound district, which also includes the Grays Harbor plants, by Saturday and will proto Portland immediately there after.

The board frankly admits, that no decision is to be rendered at the con-clusion of the local investigation, and that none is likely to be forthcoming until the situation in all the sections colors, or who may do so in future is to be erected on the campus. Such was the decision of the student coun-cil at its first meeting of the year last night. Just what form the memowhere labor troubles exist has been

At today's meeting Chairman Macy, following the conclusion of the ship-builders' testimony, announced that the board was empowered to appoint an arbiter to whom will be entrusted the task of examining into the claims of by delegates from the steel and wooden shippards and from the metal and woodworking trades, a joint committee from these to hold a meeting to nomfrom these to hold a meeting to nom-inate the arbiter. The same procedure is to hold good at Portland, and Chairman Macy asked that the Port-land arbiter be named prior to the meetings there. The arbiter selected is to conduct the examination of wit-nesses in each locality. All plants on the Columbia River and in Oregon, in-cluding those at Vancouver, are in-cluded in what the board today desig-nated as the Portland district

On account of the large number of inquiries coming from persons affected by the provisions of the new war revenue bill and conflicting statements appearing in the papers from time to time as to what provisions the bill would finally contain, Milton A. Miller, Collector of Internal Revenue, makes the following statement in order that individual income tax payers in the ndividual income tax payers in the individual income tax payers in the Oregon district may be better informed in regard to the bill:

The new income tax to be assessed under the war revenue bill, which became effective October 3, 1917, affects incomes for the full calendar year 1917, i. e., the period from January 1 to December 31, 1917, inclusive, and is in addition to the tax imposed by the existing act of September 8, 1916; Returns of net income for the year 1917, under the new act of October 3, 1917, are made at the same time as returns under the existing act of September 8, 1916, viz. between January 1 and March 1, 1918, and returns must be filed with 1916, viz: between January 1 and March 1, 1918, and returns must be filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue by March 1, 1918, unless an extension of time is applied for in writing and granted by the Collector for cause.

The new act reduces the exemptions of unmarried persons to $1000 and reduces the exemptions of married persons to $2000, so that an unmarried individual will pay a normal tax upon his dividual will pay a normal tax upon his net income in excess of $1000 at the rate of 2 per cent up to $2000 and at the rate of 4 per cent on his net income in excess of $3000, while a married person will pay a normal tax on his net income in excess of $2000 at the rate of 2 per cent up to $4000 and at the rate of 4 per cent normal on his net incom in excess of $4000.

Surtax Starts at $5000.

Under the provisions of the new act the sur, or graduated, tax commences at $5000, while under the existing act of September 8, 1916, only incomes in excess of $2000 are burdened with in excess of $2000 are burdened with the sur, or additional, tax, so that for the year 1917 individuals whose net in-come is in excess of $5000 will pay the graduated, or surtax, under the sched-ule of rates provided in the new act only up to and including $20,000, and those individuals having a net income in excess of $20,000 are burdened with the sur, or graduated, tax under the combined rates of the two acts. Under the new act returns are re-quired of all unmarried individuals hav-
