EIGHT PLACED IN JAIL

Three Alleged Slackers Arrested as Result of Disturbance at Northwest Steel Plant—Sixty Officers on Scene.

E. P. Daniels, 28, an employee of the Northwest Steel Company plant, was taken to the Emergency Hospital with a deep scalp wound and badly bruised jaw yesterday.

For a time it appeared as though a riot would be started as several of the more rabid strikers attempted by shouts and threats to induce their fellow strikers to attack a detachment of police which had been rushed to the plant by Captain Moore.

Pickets Storm Car. One striker, Marion Casten, is alleged to have threatened Police Sergeant Sherwood, while another, Arthur Knutson, is said to have been one of those who shouted loudest to rush the police reserves who had been sent to quell what appeared to be an incident riot.

At various places in the vicinity of the steel plant, small fights were started. The police, however, had the crowd well in hand about the plant and about the carline where the shipyard workers took the cars for home.

Daniels, who was the only one reported to be badly injured, was attacked at Fourth and College streets by six or seven men, who are said to have rushed him from behind. One of the attacking party had a heavy piece of slabwood, with which he hit the defenseless man over the head and face two or three blows.

Police Rescue Defenseless Man. Police hurried to Daniels' assistance, and the men fled in various directions. One man was caught and was at first identified by Daniels as the man who had struck him. Later he said he was not sure that the man arrested was one of the attacking party, so he was released from custody.

Nick Depento and James Graham are strikers arrested on a charge of fighting. The police say they were identified as two of the men who attacked the shipyard employes as they went off shift.

Reserves Rushed to Scene. Police Captain Moore first received information that the striking shipyard workers would concentrate their efforts about the Northwest Steel plant shortly after 2 o'clock. With 15 officers, he hurried to the plant and saw the strikers begin to gather.

As the strikers grew in number about the plant he sent a hurry call to police headquarters for reserves, and shortly before 4 o'clock he sent another order for all men. Police Captains Inskip and Circle, with a force of patrolmen from the night force, went to the assistance of Captain Moore, and by the time the shipyard employes began leaving their work more than 50 officers and police were there to hold the picket line in check.

While answering a call to the plant Motorcycles Patrolman Crane nearly collided with a streetcar at Second and Montgomery streets. He was forced to ditch his car in order to avoid a collision. He escaped injury, although his machine was somewhat damaged.

RISE FOR EVERY TEACHER ORDERED

PENDLETON BOARD SHOWS APPRECIATION FOR EDUCATORS.

Proposal to Put Women Instructors on Same Wage Basis as Men Is Defeated.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—A raise for every teacher has been granted by the Pendleton School Board. To three heads of departments in the High School, all of whom are men, were given salaries of $1200 a year, an increase of nearly $300, and to each of the other teachers was given $10 a month additional.

Mrs. S. A. Lowell, the only woman member of the board, asked for salary increases putting the women teachers on the same wage basis as the men, citing a state law forbidding discrimination against women as the basis for her argument.

The board, however, decided that on account of the war men teachers are at a premium and the law of supply and demand should govern. Mrs. Lowell announced, after the Board acted, that she would seek an interpretation from the State Superintendent and Commissioner of Labor.

The response in favor of it was deafening. "Let the records show that for once the Council agreed unanimously on a subject," said the Mayor.

SILVER DOLLARS SCARCE

Dollar Bills Also Short Enough to Worry Army Paymaster.

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—Scarcity of silver dollars and currency of like denominations in Pacific Coast banks is worrying the paymaster's department as to how to pay the men being discharged. Not less than $75,000 in silver dollars or bills is needed for the October muster.

The reason assigned is that with silver quoted around 85 1/2 cents an ounce and a dollar containing 90 cents worth of silver, many persons are hoarding their money to melt into bullion when the price of silver tops the amount in the standard coin.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Like Lochinvar of old, the Chicago Americans came out of the West and won the world's series baseball championship today, defeating the New York Nationals, 4 to 2, in the sixth and deciding game of the 1917 diamond classic.

For the first time in almost a decade the world's championship banner will flutter over the fans in the Middle West metropolis next Spring when the series pennant is raised at Comiskey Park as evidence of the superiority of the White Sox in the great National game.

Final Battle Sensational. After winning the first two games on their home field and losing the next two at the Polo Grounds, the Chicagoan clinched the gonfalon with two straight victories, one at Comiskey Park and the other at the lair of the Giants.

The New York club did not go down to defeat today without desperate resistance. The battle was surcharged with sensational situations and thrilling plays, but the invading combination with the edge of a one-game lead was not to be denied. It was the Giants who eventually broke under the strain of the conflict.

Giants Falter and Lose. With "Rube" Benton, the towering southpaw from Clinton, N.C., waging pitching duel for the locals against the curves of Urban Faber, the Cascade, Ia., hurler of the White Sox, the battle was fought through three full innings without either team giving the slightest margin either offensively or defensively.

In the "fatal fourth," however, the Giants faltered for just a moment, and, seizing their advantage, the players of Chicago redoubled their attack and captured the first world series championship emblem won by the city on the shores of Lake Michigan since Frank Chance's Cubs defeated the Detroit Americans in the struggle of 1905.

Nationals Rally Gamely. While the Nationals made a game rally in the fifth and the Sox added another run in the ninth, the three runs scored by the Chicago team in the fourth session were the deciding factor. The play in this inning convinced

According to word received by Postmaster Noble Warrum, the robbers jumped on the train 19 miles south of Wendover, near the Utah-Nevada boundary. They ransacked the mail pouches and then robbed the passengers, hundreds of dollars' worth of jewelry and a considerable quantity of cash being given up. It is believed that the bandits following the robbery escaped in an automobile, the state highway being near the spot.

A special train left for the scene at noon with E. A. Abney and A. G. Haas, postoffice inspectors, aboard. This train will return to Salt Lake City with Barberg and any other persons who might have been shot by the bandits.

Liberty Loan Special Speeds Like Meteor.

PURSE STRINGS ARE LOOSED

Procession Is Continuous Triumphant Parade.

PATRIOTIC ARDOR ABOUNDS

John H. Stevenson, Orator, and J. L. Etheridge, Investment Specialist, in Tour Financed by Eric V. Hauser, Using His Motor.

The "million-dollar special" is flashing across Central Oregon like a meteor, leaving a golden trail of liberty bonds in its wake.

Advices received yesterday at Liberty loan headquarters from John H. Stevenson and John L. Etheridge, who are orators of the motoring dash financed by Eric V. Hauser, of the Hotel Multnomah, assert that wayside and town meetings are marked by the utmost enthusiasm, and that subscriptions are tumbling in at every halt.

Head Is Reached. Last night the motoring special was at Bend, where the speakers addressed a large gathering on the liberty loan issue. As at all previous stops, the brief, whirlwind talks delivered by Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Etheridge carried the audience before them. Both predicted that the total of the Central Oregon trip will form no small part of Oregon's quota, and the objective of the drive has been fixed at $1,000,000.

The trip has been replete with incidents. At Dufur, where they received applications Saturday amounting to $6520, one Wasco County farmer smiled good-bye to his dream of a new automobile as he subscribed for a $500 bond. "There goes my new car," he commented.

Rancher Signs for $1000. Conrad L. Hauser is a sheep rancher at Bake Oven. He heard the speakers at a wayside stop, revolved their remarks, and drove posthaste to The Dalles. The First National Bank was closed, but he insisted that Max Vogt, the president, reopen it. Whereupon the rancher gave his subscription for a $1000 liberty bond.

Citizens of Maupin, which has a population of 150, had backed their patriotism with $7000 in bonds when the big yellow car rolled to town. Yet they subscribed an additional $2000 in the short time that the campaigners spent among them.

L. A. Newell, a garage man of Madras, came forth to sell gasoline to the special, with a $4 transaction in prospect.

Garage Owner "Victim." "Have you a liberty bond?" queried one of the party. The garage man shook his head. "Well, you can't sell any gasoline to us," he was told.

Mr. Newell laughed as he made his subscription, and assured the solicitors that the purchase was of such significance he felt no uneasiness about the loss of gasoline profits.

At a mass meeting in the streets of Maupin Sunday morning $12,000 worth of liberty bonds were taken at the close of speeches by Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Etheridge. At Madras, that afternoon, $1190 was subscribed.

Bankers Giving Aid. "Bankers in all towns so far visited by the flyer, and the advantages of the encouraging opportunity for the people to buy liberty bonds," reads a telegram received at headquarters.

"Their offer is to carry any bond buyer for any reasonable time; the money to be advanced by the banks and repaid by the subscriber in installments of $5 or $10 a month, the bank charging 4 per cent interest on the money advanced. This is the same rate the Government charges on the deferred payments, and thus the subscriber loses nothing, the bank makes nothing, and Uncle Sam gets money for his war chest."

Ovation Given Speakers. The speeches made by the campaigners are vigorous and pointed. Says Mr. Stevenson, to ringing applause: "When the best young blood of America is moving across 3000 miles of death-baited water to fight for the continuation of American independence and for the very right of the world to be free, can you and I, who risk no death and run no danger, do less toward the supreme demand of this unexampled crisis than to see that the country does not fall here and there if they are willing to die for the ideals of Americanism and world democracy, can we stand by and withhold the simple assistance of loaning our surplus money to the Government?"

Mr. Etheridge's task is to set forth the security and advantages of the investment. Here is a typical extract from one of his speeches, which are delivered following Mr. Stevenson's appeal: "The bonds are the best kind of an investment and the safest security in the country. The smaller denominations will pass in trade as legal tender, like larger currency bills."

Tomorrow the "million-dollar special" will be at Klamath Falls; on Wednesday at Merrill; Friday after
