British Army Captain Declares Portland Doesn't Realize Country Is at War.

MEDALS PROOF OF SERVICE

States Is Wrong in Lending Money to England.

BY ADDISON BENNETT. There has been at the Hotel Seward for several days a typical English army officer, one of the retiring sort who would as soon face a cavalry charge as an interviewer, a man who during the 57 years of his life has had about as many adventures as most men who cover many magazine and newspaper pages with tales of their

The Captain received a four months leave of absence on the second day of August and has spent all of his time in the United States and Canada, and will remain here until the last mo-ment that will allow him to be present at his post of duty near the front in France on the second of December. John W. Beresford was born in London in 1860, and received his education in that city and Edinburgh, his enlistment dating from the ninth of January, 1879, his first training as a soldier being in the Princess Royal Dragoons. His first active duties in the field were performed in Egypt, where he went under command of Sir Garnet Woolesley. He took part in the famous battles of Kersinin and Tealibar. In 1884, in practically the same campaign, he went with Kitchener to the relief of General Gordon at Khartum, but the latter was killed in the following January before relief reached him. For vallant services in these campaigns Captain Beresford received a decoration from the Khedive of Egypt. at his post of duty near the front in tion from the Khedive of Egypt.

Served in Boer War. Next he served in the Boer war of 1890, under General Colley, but was soon taken with the fever and invalided home early in 1891. Upon his recovery he rejoined his regiment and served until his retirement in 1897, when he returned to London and lived there with his three sons until the present war broke out in 1914. The Captain was married in 1881, and three sons were born of the union; all three enlisted early in the war and two of them have paid for their devotion with their lives, having been killed in battles on the Flanders front. The third son enlisted as soon as he was of proper age and is now in the trenches at Ypres, which the Captain pronounces he rejoined his regiment and served The bar observed on the Captain's coat in the protection of the troops, if it is not the proper one.

In June, 1915, Captain Beresford was appointed to serve in the commissary department and has been on active duty close to the front in France, so close that the poise of the shells and artist of the trains and white, the whole makthat the noise of the shells and arill-lery seem so close at times that ap-parently the enemy has broken the line and is storming their trenches. One of the first things the Captain explained to me was that he had no kinship with Lord Charles Beresford. "There are several honorable families in England by the name of Beresford, the

War Not Realized Here.

"Your people," said the Captain, "do not realize yet that you are in the war. It is too far away. The fact has not come home to you yet. When it does it will be far easier to seil your war bonds than it is today. Up in Vancouver, B. C., I saw two men in a small motor carriage, a sort of toy affair built for two. These men had recently returned from the front, where one had lost one leg and the other both of his legs. If sights like that could be seen on the streets of Portland, as perhaps they will be, you would have no trouble selling your war bonds."

The Captain has had a splendid visit in our country. "I have always wanted to visit America," he observed, "but never before saw just the logical opportunity. Now I am jolly glad I came, for I have had a wonderful time. On all hands I have been treated like a brother. Your country is beautiful and

ICE-MINT A NEW DISCOVERY STOPS SORENESS AND CORNS FALL OFF.

Just a touch or two with Ice-mint adm your corns and foot troubles are ended. It takes the soreness right out, then the corn or callous shrivels and lifts off.

No matter what you have take is off.

No matter what you have tried or w many times you have been disapinted here is a real help for you at sgain or bother with bungling tape or plasters.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It's wonderful. You feel no pain or screness when applying feemint or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin.

This new discovery made from a Japanese product is certainly magical the way it draws out inflammation from a pair of swollen, burning, sching feet. Ice-mint imparts such a delightful cooling, southing feeling to the feet that it just makes you sigh with relief. It is the real Japanese secret for fine, healthy little feet. It is greatly appreciated by women who wear high-heel shoes. It absolutely prevents foot edors and keeps them sweet and comfortable.

fast time before, but never had I had a ride like that. Aside from the speed, the train was as luxurious as one of the royal trains of the other side."

In the time he has spent in the United States, something like two months, the Captain has had but one unpleasant experience, and that happened in Portland. He entered a store a day or two ago and the salesman brought up the hond question and very frankly told the Captain that this country had no business loaning money to his country, England. "I was very much shocked," said the Captain to me, "so I merely answered that if the United States had got into trouble with Japan, England would have sent them men and money to the last man and the last dollar, and the last man and the last dollar, and I feel sure I spoke the truth. I do not in any way blame Portland for this episode; we have just such fellows at home—fellows who ought to be shot. Every country has such muckers in time of war; always will have them.

Portland Is Lauded.

"But of all the places I have visited since coming over I like Portland the best. Your beautiful buildings, your fine hotels, where every want and every wish is anticipated; your splendid home centers, the lovely dwellings and the beautiful lawns. Why, you have a fairy city. Indeed, I have been so impressed with Portland that I feel I must come with Porland that I feel I must come back after the war and stay with you a long, long time.

"And we are going to win this war. There was a doubt until America came in, but there is no longer any doubt. And it is going to be won in the air. Remember what I say—this war will be won in the air. When you get your $250.000.000 worth of aircraft comwon in the air. When you get your $350,000,000 worth of aircraft completed and manned there will be short work made of the Kaiser's army, mighty short work. All the German soldiers want is a chance to quit. Before I left the front, or near-front, every prisoner brought in, and there was a steady stream of them, every last one was giad to be taken or glad to get a good chance to surrender. I tell you the rank and file of the armies of the enemy are just awaiting a good series of ribbons of several colors, but mostly blue and white, the whole making what the Captain calls four medals. The first five on the left, alternately blue and white, constitute the medal given for valiant services in Egypt This was bestowed by Queen Victoria. The next is divided into five parts—could hive lamon blue and red. This kinship with Lord Charles Beresford. There are several honorable families in England by the name of Beresford, the family of Lord Charles Beresford, the family of Lord Charles Beresford being the best known. I belong to another family and am in no way related to him. I make this statement because people are apt to think, if I do not explain, that I am endeavoring by concealment to secure at least a reported relationship. I would, of course, be very least to the Khedirel of the course of Company Trying to Provide for Increases in Payroll.

TICKETS ARE CALLED IN

carmen, which went into effect Monday, increases the operating expenses of the company $50,000 a month. To offset this the company will have only the slightly increased revenue caused by the elimination of 4%-cent tickets, the slightly increased revenue caused by the elimination of 4½-cent tickets, by the increased prices of school children's tickets and by the saving effected in curtailed runs.

By the ticket reform the company cannot hope to save more than $5000 a month, as the number of book tickets, at 4½ cents, has always been negligible, while the sale of school tickets is only a small factor in the business.

Service To Be Kept Up. Just what the saving will be in curtailed service cannot be definitely etated until the present plans are thoroughly tested. No marked deterioration of service will be forced upon the public, and it is held scarcely possible that the deficit can be accounted for by this reform.

The withdrawal of the unlimited testers and school children's tickets and school child tickets and school children's tickets is made in accordance with the following section in a recent order of the Public section in a recent order of the Public Service Commission:

"It is ordered that the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company be, and is hereby, authorized to increase the rates named by it in its tariff, O. R. C. No. P. 141, for unlimited tickets and school children's limited tickets, such increased rates, however, not to exceed the following: Unlimited tickets, 5 cents each; limited school children's tickets, 4 cents each." tickets, 4 cents each."

Outstanding Tickets Called In. The company's announcement of this ruling, which goes into effect tonight at midnight, is as follows:
"Inasmuch as the 4½-cent unlimited and 31-3-cent school tickets have been discontinued by permission of the Public Service Commission, effective Octo-ber 18, it would be unlawful for us to accept such tickets now outstanding transportation after midnight, October 17.

"We regret any inconvenience this may cause to the public, but will promptly redeem at purchase price all outstanding tickets at ticket office, First and Alder streets, or at Electric store in the Electric building, Broad-way and Alder street." By the provisions of an agreement between the company and its employes, the company may, if it deems its efforts at economy inadequate to meet the deficit incident to having granted the carmen's demands, call for a new arbitration board on January 1, after two and one-half months' trial of the
