

CAR TURNS ON SIDE, NO ONE IS HURT

41 Passengers Escape Injury
When Streetcar Upsets on Hitting Switch.

NO PRANK EVIDENCE FOUND

Great Crowd Gathers and Traffic
Is Tied Up, but Aside From Smashed Windows, Damage Is Nothing.

A streetcar carrying 41 passengers left the track at Grand avenue and East Burnside street at 2:15 o'clock last night, turned on its side and smashed into the curb. Beyond minor scratches and bruises no one was injured.

The car, in charge of Motorman G. L. Peterson and Conductor H. T. Chivers, was carrying a load of people from Second Church of Christ, Scientist, at East Sixth street and Holladay avenue, and was going south on Grand avenue, bound through to Hawthorne avenue.

Instead of making the usual safety stop at Burnside street, the car, according to passengers, continued at a good rate of speed. The switch was open, and as the car struck it and turned west its momentum was sufficient to capsize it. All the windows on the left side of the car were broken, but the passengers were taken unharmed out of a rear window. One man had a cut on his wrist, but he declined treatment.

Ambulance Returns Empty.
An ambulance was called, but returned without a passenger. An interne from the Emergency Hospital and several patrolmen were rushed to the scene in a police auto, but aside from answering questions and keeping the crowd back, found little to do.

Fred A. Rasch, examiner for the public service commission, arrived a few minutes after the accident and conducted a careful investigation. Armed with a flashlight, he went over the tracks from East Burnside street as far north as Oregon street and failed to find any trace of soap or grease.

The brakes of the car were in perfect working order, according to Mr. Rasch and were still locked tight as the car lay on its side. The cylinders containing compressed air for operating the brakes were in good order, he reported and were still charged to 60 pounds pressure.

One wheel of the car showed a flat spot where it had ground along the track after being locked by the emergency brake. The starting lever of the control lever of the car was still in reverse when Mr. Rasch made his investigation.

Carmen Both Shaken.

Motorman Peterson and Conductor Chivers both appeared severely shaken after the accident. Peterson said that, approaching Burnside street, he shut off the power at Davis street and applied the brakes when he reached Couch street. When asked how fast he was going when he struck the open switch, he replied, "I don't know."

Such a crowd gathered about the overturned streetcar that it was necessary for the police to stretch ropes to keep the people back when the wrecking crew of the railway company righted the car and started it on its way again.

Streetcar service over the Burnside bridge was tied up for an hour and Rose City and Beasmont cars were routed over the Morrison street bridge.

WAR IS BROUGHT HOME

PEOPLE OF UNITED STATES FIGHT-ING FOR LIVES.

Appeal of Red Cross Chairman Tells of "Boys Who Will Have All Been to Hell for You and Me."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—The West is thoroughly alive to the fact that the people of the United States are "fighting for their lives," Henry P. Davidson, chairman of the American Red Cross, told a mass meeting here late today. Mr. Davidson and the general manager of the Red Cross, Harvey P. Gibson, also a New York financier, and Robert Davis, inspector of the Red Cross in France, arrived here today to stimulate interest in the society's war work and campaign for funds.

Mr. Davidson, speaking on the war, said: "The end may or may not be far off, but before the end we will begin to see here among us those with an arm or a leg gone, and some won't be here at all. Those boys will have all been to hell for you and me, and what about us if we do not do every possible thing to get those boys out of hell? I am sorry for those who will not."

CUTICURA HEALS SCALES ON SCALP

Sore and Red, Scratched and Scalp
Burned. Hair Lifeless and Dry.
Used One Box Cuticura Ointment and One Cake Cuticura Soap.

"I had something like dandruff but later it formed a scale. I tried washing with different remedies, but they seemed to irritate my scalp, and my scalp was sore and red. The scales fell off and could be seen on my clothing, and when I scratched it caused my scalp to burn. My hair became lifeless and dry, and fell out gradually."

"I saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement, and after I had used one box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap I was healed." (Signed) Miss Pearl Clark, Marlborough, Wash., April 2, 1917.

You may think that because Cuticura does such wonderful work in soothing and healing severe itching and burning eczema it is not adapted to the gentle uses of the toilet. On the contrary, that is just where it is most effective in preventing these serious skin troubles.

be able to account for themselves in doing their share; they should be socially ostracized."

Mr. Gibson told of the part women are playing in the war and of the need of knitting. He asked beginners at knitting to follow directions at first, and then to be guided "90 per cent by common sense."

"What we want is production, not rules; practical results, not crankiness," he explained.

NEGLECTFUL WIFE SUED

One Meal a Day, Then None, Too

FUNERAL OF WELL-KNOWN TIMBERMAN TO BE TODAY.

Finley Morrison.

The funeral of Finley Morrison, widely known timberman, whose death occurred Tuesday at his home in this city, will be held at 2 P. M. today from the Masonic Temple, where services will be conducted under the auspices of the Knights Templar and Scottish Rites. Rev. Mr. Du Bois will officiate from the lodge temple to the crematorium by palbearers from the Knights Templar, who also will hold brief services at the crematorium.

Mr. Morrison had lived in Portland for the last 17 years and was known throughout the state. He is survived by his widow and six children, all of whom are residents of this city.

prepare any meals, he avers. Raisig also complains that his wife neglected their home. The couple were married here July 3, 1902.

Two other unhappy couples, both married in Portland, also figured in divorce suits filed yesterday: Anna Williams vs. Magnus Williams, married October 19, 1913, cruelty, and Corinne V. Irons vs. Frank B. Irons, married December 24, 1907, cruelty.

CLARKE MASONS GATHER

Sixtieth Anniversary Celebrated by Oldest Lodge in Washington.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Washington Lodge, No. 4, Free and Accepted Masons, the fourth Masonic lodge organized in the state of Washington, tonight celebrated its 60th anniversary with appropriate ceremonies and exercises. More than 200 members of the Masonic order, with their wives and families, were present. It was on the night of October 31, 1857, that the lodge was organized in this city, the first fraternal order to be organized in the state. The lodge members are living, Lewis Van Vleet, the last survivor, having died in 1910. The principal address was given by George H. Hines, of the Oregon Historical Society, dealing largely with early fraternal history in Vancouver and the Northwest. A banquet followed the programme of speeches and music.

NEGROES ON WAY TO CAMP

Drafted Men From California Given Spread by Portland Folk.

In a high spirit of patriotism and amid the "goodbyes" of hundreds of Portland's negro population, 600 drafted negroes from Los Angeles, the Imperial Valley and San Francisco pulled out of the Union Station early yesterday morning for Camp Lewis. They were greeted by their people here and provided with a spread of fruit, cakes and other dainties, furnished from a fund raised by the waiters and others at the Hotel Portland.

"We're on our way to France," read a big cloth banner, tacked to one of the cars on the train. "From Imperial Valley; have the grit—we'll get the Kaiser before we quit," was another, while a third read, "We want the Kaiser, dead or alive, and we'll get him."

MOLALLA GETS NEW PLANT

Clackamas County Concern Will Manufacture Pottery Ware.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—"Made in Germany" will no longer be imprinted on all articles of pottery ware sold in America. Clackamas County is to have a manufacturing establishment that will turn out articles of pottery that will compare with the product received from Europe. The plant is to be established at Molalla, and has already been incorporated for $100,000. The incorporators are P. M. Boyles and Guy Dibble, of Molalla, Clackamas County, and H. H. Bailey, of East Liverpool, O.

The clay deposits are located about nine miles from Molalla. Underwood Home Is Burned. WHITE SALMON, Wash., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Monday morning the home of Charles H. Thornton, near Underwood, was destroyed by fire. Practically nothing was saved. A defective fuse caused the fire. More than 300 quarts of fruits and vegetables were destroyed. Mr. Thornton has been road supervisor for this road district for a number of years.

Home Guards' Arms Arrive.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The side arms for the officers of the Astoria Home Guard have arrived. They include Colt automatic .45-caliber pistols, belts and scabbards. The Springfield rifles, belts, bayonets and ammunition for the men are expected tomorrow.

STAPLE FOOD NOW UNDER CONTROL ACT

One Hundred Thousand Manufacturers, Wholesalers and Distributors to Be Licensed.

RETAILERS ARE UNDER LAW

Speculation, Hoarding and Excessive Profits Are Forbidden—Violations of Law Are to Be Vigorously Prosecuted.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—One hundred thousand manufacturers, wholesalers and other distributors of staple food will be placed under license tomorrow by the Food Administration for the duration of the war. No licenses have yet been mailed, but it was announced that those who have sought licenses need not be apprehensive unless they violate the food control act.

Nearly 50,000 application blanks already have been called for by dealers and requests now are pouring in at the rate of 4000 a day. Thousands of licenses have been filled out and will be mailed to the affected dealers as soon as booklets containing complete rules and regulations for the guidance of licensees have been received from the printer.

Licenses Will Number 100,000. The Food Administration estimates that when the lists are complete there will be about 100,000 licensees, including importers, packers, canners, manufacturers, wholesalers, commission men, brokers, auctioneers, storage warehousemen, together with retailers going more than 100,000 business annually, which embraces mail order firms and chain stores.

Small retailers will not be licensed, but they are subject to the provisions of the food law itself, which forbids speculation, hoarding and excessive profits. They also will be controlled through the licensing regulations for wholesalers, who will be required to cut off the supplies of dealers of any size and in any branch of the trade who exact exorbitant profits on the necessities of life.

List of Foods Licensed. The licensed foods include beef, pork, mutton, fish, poultry, eggs, milk, butter, cheese, flour, sugar, cereals, lard, beans, peas, fruits, vegetables, several lines of canned goods and other products.

The purposes of licensing are stated as follows:

1. To limit the prices charged by every licensee to a reasonable amount over the cost of the goods, and to prevent speculative profits from a rising market.

2. To keep all food commodities moving in as direct a line and with as little delay as practicable to the consumer.

3. To limit as far as practicable contracts for future delivery and dealings in future contracts.

Unpatriotic Will Be Prosecuted. "With few exceptions," said a Food Administration statement tonight, those engaged in the handling of foods have shown the utmost patriotism and a desire to go even beyond the requirements of the law itself, supplying the public with necessities at moderate prices. The exceptions are being noted and vigorous use will be made in these cases of the powers conferred by Congress.

For the most part, however, the Food Administration anticipates the full co-operation and voluntary support of all licensees and without resort to compulsion.

Own Act Causes Death.

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Arthur Caskey, of Springfield, died at the Eugene hospital tonight as a result of injuries received at Springfield this morning when he stepped from the running board of a moving automobile and was thrown, his head striking the sidewalk. Caskey, who was an employe of the Booth-Kelley Lumber Company, was 25 years of age. He is survived by his wife and two small children.

We Urge You to Wear
Educator Shoes

WHY haven't you soldierly feet? In this national crisis, why are your feet unequal to the demands made on them? Why are you suffering from corns, flat feet, bunions, ingrown nails?

Army surgeons say, because you wear pointed shoes! Educators "let the feet grow as they should."

PASTOR TELLS OF LOSS

REV. PAUL KOREN TESTIFIES IN LAND FRAUD CASE.

B. D. Townsend Describes Litigation
Between Government and Oregon
& California Railroad Company.

Rev. Paul Koren, now a resident of Decatur, Ia., recited to the jurors sitting in the grant lands "fraud conspiracy" case in Federal Judge Bean's court the detail of dealings with W. F. Halliwell, one of the four defendants, which he said had cost him $1100. The minister said he first sent Halliwell $300 as a filing fee for having located for him a choice quarter section of the Oregon & California Railroad grant lands, then in dispute between the railroad and the Government. When Halliwell wrote him later that deed to the land had been issued and would be forwarded to him when the price of $800 was forwarded, Mr. Koren testified, he sent that amount of money to the defendant.

B. D. Townsend, formerly special assistant in the Attorney-General's office in Oregon, now a resident of Denver, Colo., was placed on the stand by the prosecution to testify as to details of the litigation between the Government and the Oregon & California Railroad Company.

It is expected, United States Attorney Reames stated yesterday, that introduction of testimony for the prosecution will be completed today.

DANCING BAN PROPOSED

Signed Permission of Pupils' Parents Now Necessary.

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The Eugene School Board in a petition presented tonight is asked to prohibit dancing in the high school building. Dances under the supervision of the school authorities were inaugurated two years ago, when a ban was placed on attendance of high school students at outside dances.

The present regulations provide that no students shall dance unless written consent of parents is given and that no dances shall be held unless five members of the faculty and five parents of students are present. Supporters of a continuance of the dances at the high school building say that but six dances were held during the last semester, as compared with between 25 and 30 dances attended by high school students during any similar period under the old conditions.

BEEF SOLD AT 8 CENTS

Ranchers, Near Marshfield Selling
Direct to Consumer.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Tom B. James, manager of the food control card campaign, is finding a general willing response to the request of promises on the part of the Government for discontinuance of waste in Marshfield kitchens, and most housewives are signing the cards as fast as they are presented.

The cost of meat has met a Waterloo here in the past few weeks through butchering of beefs by ranchers. They sell the meat to customers at from 8 cents to 15 cents per pound. Such sales are being liberally patronized and the ranchers are satisfied with the profits derived.

Car Embargo Hampers.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The freight embargo ordered by the Government affecting shipments in closed railroad cars is noticed here by an accumulation of carload freight destined to points of 17 to 50 miles distant. One warehouse has a number of carloads that cannot be forwarded, while ship agents have advised San Francisco dealers they cannot handle more carload lots until the embargo is lifted. A. H. Buck, of Cushman, says his mill probably will have to close if the embargo is maintained.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD
Says Cream Applied in Nostrils
Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.—Adv.
