SOCIETY NEWS

BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

YESTERDAY was a busy one for the distinguished visitors in town—Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall. A luncheon was given at the University Club for Mrs. Marshall and this was followed by a large reception at the Multnomah Hotel honoring the visitors. Hundreds of Portland men and women flocked to the hotel to greet Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, the former being honorary vice-president of the Girls' National Honor Guard. A committee of the Honor Guard assisted in the reception, also at the luncheon, covers being placed for 40 at the University Club.

The Laurelhurst Club Ladies' Tuesday Afternoon Card Club met Tuesday, when bridge and "500" were played. The prizes in "500" were won by Mrs. Ferdinand E. Reed and Mrs. Henry Rothschild, and in bridge by Mrs. K. T. Long and Mrs. W. M. Jackson.

On the afternoon of November 20, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Clubhouse, Mrs. J. S. Montgomery and Mrs. C. I. Sersanous will be hostesses for "500" and bridge. They will be assisted by Mrs. Ferdinand E. Reed, Roy S. Stearns, D. A. Fellows, Stanley Lamb, George G. Wentworth, J. P. Buchanan and Guy D. Johnson. The proceeds from this card party will be placed to the credit of the flag fund, as the club is in need of a new flag, the old one being beyond repair. It is hoped that, by a special effort on the part of the women of the club, enough money can be raised to buy a new flag. Four prizes are to be given, two each in bridge and "500."

On Friday evening club members will join in dancing at Cotillion Hall, and on the following Monday evening, November 12, "guest night" will be inaugurated, replacing the "orchestra night" dancing parties, to which members may issue invitations.

A charming dance was given to the guests at the Weaver Hotel Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allen. The living-room was cleared and about 20 couples, nearly all residents of the hotel, danced until long after midnight. This is the first of a series of dances which will be given at the Weaver Hotel during the Winter, and as everybody enjoyed themselves to the utmost on Tuesday evening, the next dance will be looked forward to with pleasure.

The 1916-17 Follies have completed arrangements for their next party, to be given Friday night at Christensen's Hall. Exhibition dances will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Moon Christensen, Miss Ruth Alexander and A. Mielke. Refreshments will be served and the affair promises to be full of gaiety and pleasure.

• • •

The formal opening of the dinner-dance season at the University Club will take place Saturday night, when the club members will have as special guests the Army officers stationed at Vancouver Barracks. A number of dinner parties already have been arranged, and the evening gives promise of much gaiety.

All the club members who care to attend and make up parties are requested to make their reservations as early as possible. Willis K. Clarke is in charge of the affair and as the event is to pay special courtesy to the Army men and their wives, all members of the University Club are urged to attend and make the evening notable.

THE women of the White Temple met in the church parlors yesterday afternoon and enjoyed a programme of unusual merit along missionary lines. The subject, "Possessing the Land," was presented as a simple dramatization of "The New Conquest of Canaan" by several members, each wearing the costume of the Nativity period represented, namely: the Indian, the negro, the Chinese and the immigrant. Christian patriotism and the welding of these people into Christian American citizenship was the dominant feature. The programme was in charge of Mrs. C. A. Wooddy, assisted by Mrs. O. C. Wright, Mrs. A. S. Heavener, Mrs. F. C. Green, Miss Mary Berkeley, Miss Katherine Jordan, Miss Nina Burch, Miss Kate Failing and Mrs. Virginia Pearson. Miss Anne Johnson was soloist. A social hour followed, during which refreshments (well-Hooverized) were served. Mrs. Peter Marsden and Mrs. W. G. Stiles poured tea. Mrs. F. C. Knapp and Mrs. M. A. Osborne assisted. Autumn foliage, vine maple and red dahlias were used in decoration.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

By Lilian Tingle.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 7.—Will you kindly tell me whether there is any way of utilizing the "culls" of potatoes? Someone told me starch could be prepared from them if they are not fit for the table or for marketing. If this is the case, I should be glad to know how and I think other housekeepers with war gardens may be interested. Thanking you. MRS. E. N. W.

YOU are quite right, starch can be made from otherwise unusable potatoes. The process is not so very troublesome and the potato starch can be used to make desserts and puddings, and to economize flour in breads, muffins and plain cakes. It can also be used for thickening gravies and soups.

Following are directions given by the North and West office of extension work, Washington, D. C.

Potato Starch. — Equipment needed, two clean, large pans or galvanized tubs, one large dishpan, one large grater or a meat grinder, plenty of clean water, a scrubbing brush and clean cloths. Wash the potatoes thoroughly, using plenty of water and a scrubbing brush. Seat yourself conveniently, having a pan containing the potatoes on one side and an empty pan for the gratings on the other. Put the dishpan with the grater on a low table in front of you or in your lap. Without removing the skins, grate the potatoes, or cut them in pieces and run them through a meat grinder. Put gratings into the second pan until it is two-thirds full of pulp. Then pour clean water over the gratings and stir well to saturate every particle. Let stand a while, then remove peelings and floating material from the top of the water. Stir again, add a little more water and let stand overnight. The starch granules will settle to the bottom and the pulp and potato skins will rise to the top of the water or settle on top of the starch. Remove the water carefully, as well as the pulp and skins. Scrape off the dark part on top of the starch, being careful not to remove any of the starch. Again pour fresh, clean water over the starch, stir and allow to stand some hours or overnight. Then separate the pulp and water again. Do this until the starch is white and free from foreign matter, then dry and store it for use. This operation can be abbreviated by rinsing the first time and then straining the pulp starch and water through cheesecloth through which the starch and water only can pass.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 11.—Dear Miss Tingle: May I trouble you to tell me where in the home jelly should be stored? I find that my Winter's supply is beginning to work and some one has suggested that it is because I have it in the basement. My basement is dry, so that I feel this is not the cause, but if it is so I wish to move it before further damage is done. MRS. W. T. G.

As long as the jelly can be kept in a cool dry place it does not matter much whether it is in the cellar or the attic. Possibly the trouble with your jelly may be due to imperfect sealing. The paraffine may have shrunk from the sides or may have been in too thin a layer or may be broken by bubbles. Or the paraffine may have been too cool when poured over the jelly. Paraffine melts at a fairly low temperature, but for sealing jelly it should be made hot enough to sterilize the top of the jelly, as well as seal it. This "hot treatment" takes the place of the old-fashioned "brandied paper" in discouraging the growth of undesirable organisms before sealing. I know of several cases where "cool" melted paraffine has been followed by mold growth.

New Corporation Files Articles.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The Blanchard Milk Company, of Washougal, Wash., was incorporated today, articles being filed with the County Auditor. The incorporators are J. A. McLeod, Jr., of Washougal; Carl Schallinger and W. W. Withee, of Portland. The concern is authorized to transact a general creamery business, engage in commission business and to own or operate a milk condesing plant. It is capitalized at $50,000.

Barn Costs $8000.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—In these days of 60-cent butter nothing is too good for cows with good milk performances. B. B. Bott has just finished a handsome barn on his farm near Alderton, in the Puyallup Valley, and on the stanchion of each stall is a brass name plate of the occupant. The Bott dairy barn is modern in every detail and cost $8000.

Astoria Firm Changes Name.

ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Supplementary articles of incorporation of the W. A. Viggers Iron Works were filed in the County Clerk's office today, changing the name of the company to the Astoria Marine Iron Works. The plant is to be moved to the port dock.

To Increase Weight and Strength

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

Thin people are often weak, nervous, sleepless and in addition to suffering the humiliation of ugly hollows, scrawny neck and arms and sunken cheeks, they often become addicted to the use of harmful stimulants and drugs. To increase weight, strengthen nerves and overcome sleeplessness there is nothing to equal the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist at moderate cost. In many cases after the first few days the improvement in appetite, nerve force, general fitness and increase in weight is truly wonderful. —Adv.

RELIEVE HEADACHES WITHOUT DOSING

Painful attacks stopped without internal treatment by Sloan's Liniment.

What greater comfort than to get rid of that throbbing, persistent pain in the brow or temple? When of neuralgic origin, Sloan's Liniment applied at painful points or along nerves of forehead promptly soothes and stops the pain. Often a headache goes, if the blood be drawn from the brain by the counter-irritation of Sloan's Liniment at the back of the neck, along the spine or at the feet. Headache being also a symptom of various bodily disorders, its constant reoccurrence may call for a physician's advice.

No need to rub Sloan's Liniment. It penetrates quickly and brings relief at once. In other forms of neuralgia and rheumatism, sciatica, sprains, strains, bruises and all external pains, the most distressing aches disappear before its quick soothing relief.

Sloan's Liniment is cleaner than mussy plasters or poultices, as it does not stain the skin. Generous size bottles at druggists everywhere. 25c, 60c, $1.00.—Adv.

Sloan's Liniment KILLS PAIN

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexion

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In cool weather this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary mercolized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with pasty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: One ounce powdered saxolite, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results.—Adv.

COMPLAINT ALMOST GONE.

"Foley's Honey and Tar is great," writes L. W. Day, 65 Campbell Ave., E., Detroit, Mich. "It relieves bronchitis quickly. My complaint has almost gone and I hope never to have it again." The experience of thousands proves there is no better remedy for coughs, colds or croup. The genuine costs no more than substitutes, and this old reliable family cough medicine should be in every home every Winter. Insist on Foley's Honey and Tar—time tried and never failing. Sold everywhere.—Adv.
