

CITY PAY GOES UP; BUDGET CUT DOWN

Council Continues to Grant Salary Increases, but Pares $88,000 Off Estimates.

TREASURER ADAMS RAISED

Secretary Bortzmeier Gets Only $10 of Proposed $100 Monthly Rise. Municipal Paving Plant May Save City Big Sum.

In spite of continued salary increase activity the City Council, in another 12-hour session yesterday as budget committee to fix next year's appropriations and tax levy, topped off a net total of $88,000. This makes a total of $154,390 cut out of the budget altogether during the sessions of the last week. Another session will be held today.

City Commissioner Mann's recommendation that provision be made for 1500 new street arc lights next year was cut to 600 lights. A total of $210,000 was allowed for street lighting next year, as compared with $198,000 for the present year, an increase of $12,000 over this year's cost, but a decrease of $20,000 under the amount provided in the budget by Commissioner Mann for 1500 lights. This reduced the budget by $53,000.

A total of $40,000 was in the budget to cover the cost of paving the north half of Terwilliger boulevard. After an investigation City Commissioner Hutchison Barbur submitted a report showing that the city can do this work with a municipal paving plant for $23,000. Accordingly, the amount provided in the budget by Commissioner Mann for 1500 lights. This reduced the budget by $53,000.

In continuance of its salary increase program the Council increased the salary of City Treasurer Adams from $200 to $250 a month. The position has paid $200 a month for many years and no increases have been allowed heretofore, although the work has grown heavier.

Alex Donaldson, superintendent of the street cleaning bureau, was raised from $205 to $215 a month.

An assistant cashier in the treasurer's office was increased to $125 a month and clerks were granted increases from $30 and $30 a month to $100 a month. The Council refused to give to Secretary Bortzmeier, of the Civil Service Board, a proposed increase of $100 a month from $150 to $250, but did give him an increase from $150 to $160 a month. Two civil service clerks also were increased. The Council turned down a proposed increase to License Collector Hutchinson and granted an increase of $10 a month to the private secretary to Commissioner Bigelow, making her salary $105; granted $10 a month to a deputy sealer of weights and measures; $25 a month increase to Assistant Commissioner Goode in Commissioner Mann's office, and $5 a month increase to Mayor Baker's stenographer, making her salary $35, and $5 a month to the Mayor's chauffeur, making his salary $105.

Commissioner Mann proposed to the Council that if an increase from $125 a month to $175 a month would be allowed his assistant chief clerk would do away with the position of chief clerk now held by C. E. Wiegand at $175 a month. Mayor Baker cast the deciding vote against this proposal.

An allowance of $6000 was made to provide for a public comfort station in the vicinity of Third and Alder or Washington streets.

In the City Attorney's office increases were granted only to stenographers.

COUNTY BUDGET IS $1,750,000

Despite Efforts to Cut, Cost of Administration Will Be Higher.

Despite every possible effort that is being made to economize in each department, the cost of maintaining the county government during 1918 will be considerably more than during 1917, according to the proposed budgets already submitted to the County Commissioners.

A majority of the estimates already have been approved by the Commissioners, while the remaining ones are expected to be submitted and acted upon during the coming week. After the estimates shall have been approved they then will be passed on to the taxpayers' budget committee for final action at a meeting to be held the latter part of the month.

Few Estimates Are Less. In some of the departments the estimate for 1918 is less than the amount allowed for 1917, while in other departments the estimate calls for an expenditure several thousand dollars in excess of that allowed for the present year. The County Board of Relief, for instance, is asking for $21,700 this year as against $18,500 for the last fiscal year. The relief which it expects to provide as the result of the war, together with the relief which must be furnished to women who by legislative enactment were recently deprived of widows' pensions, has made this increase necessary, it is declared.

Constable Petersen asks for $1000 more for next year than was allowed for this year, the added amount being sought for another deputy, which the law authorizes. District Attorney Evans' estimate calls for another $1000 additions which is made necessary through an amendment to the prohibition law which places more burdens on his office.

Hospital Increase Is $2000. The proposed budget for the County Hospital calls for a $2000 increase over the present year, while other minor increases are sought in other offices. The offices of County Auditor Marlin and County Treasurer Lewis are the only two where the estimates for 1918 are less than those for the past year. It is understood that other reductions are promised in some of the departments yet to submit estimates.

The total budget for 1917 amounted to $1,522,000, of which $1,240,000 was received in taxes and $282,000 was received from other sources. Those acquainted with county finances predict that unless some of the estimates are pared greatly before final action is taken, the 1918 budget will approximate at least $1,750,000.

HOME TRADE URGED

Red Cross Suggests Branches Buy in Own Towns.

MEETING NEXT FRIDAY Resulting Financial Policy Not Yet Settled—60 to 90 Days' Notice Needed for Purchase of Supplies Is Warning.

The Portland chapter of the American Red Cross went definitely on record yesterday in favor of the "buy-at-home" movement at a conference of Red Cross workers in Portland with representatives from all the branches and proposed branches under the Portland chapter.

It was the decision of the meeting that branches should, if possible, buy their supplies in their home towns, even if they could be obtained somewhat cheaper in Portland.

"We must remember," said I. Lowengart, manager of the Red Cross workroom, "that in the smaller cities the merchants are often the largest contributors to the Red Cross."

The resultant financial policy was not decided at the meeting, but will be determined upon at an adjourned conference to be held next Friday morning.

The sense of the gathering seemed to be that where branches drew their supplies from the Portland chapter, they should remit all collections to the Portland chapter, without any accounting by the chapter to the branch other than crediting it with the total. What financial relation shall exist when supplies are purchased locally by the branch and what proportion of collections shall be remitted to the Portland chapter were left for settlement later.

I. Lowengart warned branches of the Red Cross desiring to purchase supplies through the Portland chapter that 60 to 90 days' notice must be given because of the condition of the market. The much-mooted matter of territorial jurisdiction between Newberg and McMinnville was finally left to the two cities in question to settle.

It was ruled that no auxiliary may be formed except on the basis of ten fully-paid-up memberships.

LARGER INCREASE WANTED

Tacoma Carmen Oppose Advance of Only 4 Cents an Hour.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Private opinion of a majority of street-car men showed sentiment strongly opposed to the reported increase of 4 cents an hour. A larger increase was expected, they said, and the new sliding scale apparently created considerable unfavorable comment.

Whether the increase will be greater will reveal more encouraging increases, however, that the official document will reveal more encouraging increases.

"It would be premature for me to make an official statement until we have considered the documents, which will be brought over from Seattle today," said Mr. Morgan.
