

SOCIETY NEWS

BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

PLANS for the numerous booths to be arranged at the Allied Bazaar are occupying milady's time and attention almost exclusively. However, the preparations for the holiday entertainment, the welcoming home of the school contingent and the plans for extending the hospitality of their homes to the soldiers surrounding the city are making heavy inroads on her time. Aside from a few theater parties, informal luncheons and dinners, there is little time or desire for social events these busy war working days. Elaborate and extremely artistic will be the Colonial Inn at the Allied Bazaar, where refreshments will be dispensed. Dozens and dozens of the prettiest matrons and maids will don the attractive Priscilla costume and serve the patrons of the bazaar. The Inn will be a huge canvas, painted to resemble an old Colonial inn. Trellises and porches, however, with growing plants, vines and trees, will make it difficult to resist. Little trees, with apple blossoms and bay trees, will be used to mark the walks leading to the Inn, and the tables will be presided over by the many Priscillas, who are devoting practically all of their time to the affair. The committee for the refreshment booth, which undoubtedly will be one of the largest popular of all, is headed by Eric V. Hauser, chairman; Raymond Wilcox, Charles H. Davis, Jr., Julius L. Meier, Mrs. J. J. Pantan, Mrs. Thomas J. Burns and Miss Florence Wolfe.

The British committee also is working zealously for its display, which probably will be one of the largest in the Auditorium. Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens is chairman of the executive committee, and she has a large corps of energetic assistants.

Another Roman rag fair will be given by the Unitarian Women's Alliance in the chapel on November 22, 23 and 24. This is the second event of this sort that the alliance has undertaken, and the first proved such a success financially and from a standpoint of pleasure that the committee decided to hold another for the benefit of the organization. Mrs. R. W. Montague is president of the alliance, and she is being assisted by a capable committee of earnest workers.

The Multrow Dancing Club will give the first of a series of four dances on Wednesday at Murlark Hall. The committee for the event is John F. Reisch, Paul R. Dickinson, T. R. Newell, Dr. J. W. McCollom and Milton Reed Klepper.

The O. W. R. & N. Employees' Club announces the second of the series of dances to be given at Cotillion Hall Friday evening. This is to be an invitational dance. A large committee has been appointed by Vice-President Knack to arrange for introductions and assist in making the event a success. The floor committee will consist of M. H. Bottler, chairman; Mrs. T. C. Deane, Mrs. M. E. Fleming, Misses Irene Harmon, Edna Hepp, Frances Howard, Florence Jones, Amy Klum, Gracie Stanton and Elsa Stittell and Messrs. Harry Archibald, H. J. Elbert, D. P. Ferman, E. C. Ingram, Ray M. Newton, T. C. Shackle, C. E. Strauss, R. C. Thompson, S. Toeber and Eugene Tuck.

Tomorrow the members of the Needlework Guild will hold their annual exhibition of garments in the Unitarian chapel and they cordially invite all who are interested to call and inspect the splendid array of beautiful articles of apparel which have been collected during the year by the various section presidents and their corps of assistants.

Friends of Captain and Mrs. Frederick W. Leadbetter and family are regretting that they will not follow their usual custom this Winter of opening their residence in Santa Barbara. Owing to Captain Leadbetter being stationed at least temporarily in Washington, the family will spend the Winter there, and they have leased the residence of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman.

An event of interest to Portland and Hood River folk was the birthday celebration held Saturday honoring Leslie Butler of Hood River, at the Benson Hotel. Mr. Butler was 70 years old Saturday and came to Portland to celebrate the occasion with his numerous relatives. All his living relatives were present at the big banquet with the exception of one grandson, Lieutenant Lloyd Dysart, who is at present in Washington on Government business. The dinner was followed by a line party of 19 at the Heilig to see "Pollyanna." Among the guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Butler and family, of Hood River, and Mrs. Carl Vaughan and family, of Portland. Dr. and Mrs. Knifkern, of Centralia; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dysart, of Centralia. The table was prettily decked for the occasion with a large basket of pink rosebuds.

The betrothal of Miss Edna Schanen and John Jorgensen, of Oakland, Cal., came as a surprise to their friends. The engagement was made known at an announcement party recently. The rooms made an attractive appearance decorated with Autumn leaves and

The guests were the Misses Cora Milhaussen, Florence Sullivan, Agnes Sonn, Mary Stanton, Helen O'Donnell, Frieda La Grande, Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Mrs. H. C. Banzer, Mrs. Perrie Dolph, Mrs. Bill Fink, Mrs. N. A. Schanen, hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gauld are at the Benson Hotel for the Winter. Later they plan to take a trip to California.

Dr. H. Schwartz is returned to this city after having spent a month in Connellville, Pa., New York, Washington, Detroit and several other large Eastern cities.

WOMEN'S PATRIOTIC SERVICE

By EDITH KNIGHT HOLMES

THE woman's organization that isn't doing some patriotic work isn't in fashion just now. Deeds, more than words, are counting in service. The Parent-Teacher Council has arranged some community rallies, one of which is scheduled for tonight, at Franklin High School. Bishop Lummier is to give the address. The glee clubs will sing and the school orchestra will play. The meeting at Washington last week was good, but as there is keen rivalry, perhaps Franklin's meeting will be better.

The Red Cross also continues its preparations for its Thanksgiving sale of November 27 and the women who are working for the success of the sale are busy as the proverbial bees. The surgical dressings committee, headed by Mrs. E. L. Thompson and Mrs. Holt Wilson, will have one of the big attractions—a mystery booth. Their wares now are on display at the Lewis Arcade, Washington and thirtieth streets.

Red Cross work and knitting goes on every day, and the packages and letters for the boys in France are well under way. Sewing for the babies in France is the correct thing in the Portland Woman's Club, and they hold meetings every Friday in the Multnomah Hotel.

Nearly all the churches have Red Cross units, in which the women are working diligently.

Clubwomen of the state are asked to send in the names and company address of their "boys" who are stationed in camps in the state of Washington to Miss Mattie F. Beatty, 692 South Capitol street, Salem.

Women's organizations doing patriotic work are requested to send a brief report of their work to the editor of this column. Give name of president and secretary and kind of work done.

Auxiliary to Company B, Infantry, will meet today in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium.

A meeting of Company F, Auxiliary, 18th Engineers (railway) will be held today in the gray room of the Multnomah Hotel.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Calvary Presbyterian Church, of about 25 members, has accomplished the following work for the Red Cross: Handkerchiefs, 400; napkins, 127; wash rags, 87; tray cloths, 122; tea towels, 41; bandages, 81; arm slings, 24; body bandages, 24; pajama suits, 13; bed shirts, 60; bed socks, 12; medicine covers, 84; pillows, 14; shoulder wraps, 31; lap pads, 50; gun wipes, 14,550; sheets, 36; pillow slips, 36. A good record for so small an organization. Mrs. J. L. Melvick is chairman of the Red Cross committee. Mrs. Belle Spencer is president of the aid society and Mrs. Ida Hall is secretary.

Here's a message for mothers of Oregon boys:

A card from Mrs. R. L. Gibbon, of Charlotte, N. C., bears the picture of a young boy, and states that the Oregon men enjoyed the reading-room in that church, upon the arrival of a baby daughter. "Too much praise cannot be given your splendid Western men. They completely won our hearts," said Mrs. Gibbon.

Mrs. B. Casler, of 745 First street, has invented a potato waffle bread that she says is excellent. Here is the recipe: Boil, steam and mash three pounds of potatoes. Use two cakes of compressed yeast, one tablespoon salt, enough white flour to make a stiff batter (be

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 12.—(Special)—Orchardists of the East Side and other valley sections have complained of many horses suffering the past Summer from "slobbers," an ailment caused from eating first or third crop clover.

An advertisement, offering a sure cure for "slobbers" for the sum of $1, in a farm journal, attracted attention of the orchardists. Several East Side ranchers donated 25 cents each and wrote for the remedy.

They received a reply by return mail, and it read as follows: "Teach your horse to spit."
