

FIRST UNIT OF LINE NEARS COMPLETION

R. E. Strahorn Pleased With Progress of Work Under Way at Klamath.

ALL OBSTACLES GIVE WAY

Business in District Stimulated by Prospect of Increased Facilities and Extensions Are Being Looked Forward To.

With the first contracts let only 90 days ago, and all our troubles growing out of the war our new road is ready to fit into the Klamath Valley landscape as though it had always been there.

Grading has proceeded very well, and our only delay of note with track-laying occurred about three miles out from Klamath Falls on account of failure of the Reclamation Service promptly to approve and return plans for a bridge over the main Government irrigation canal.

Labor Situation Difficult. The labor situation has grown more difficult since my last visit here and has delayed work on the road of over three weeks.

Land Being Cleared. Much new land is being cleared of sagebrush and plowed to put into grain this fall and in the spring as a result of our railway project.

But the most important reclamation project undertaken for years is the drainage of Lower Klamath Marsh, consisting of some 50,000 acres, which is now provided for and will result in the cultivation of these wonderfully rich lands for food crops.

Indian Lands Purchased. Important developments are also taking place on Klamath Indian Reservation. About 100 tracts of these Indian lands, ranging in size from 80 to 160 acres, were sold during the summer and 92 additional tracts are to be sold December 22.

Klamath District Prosperous. In spite of the several serious fires of which you have been advised, as well as the handicap of the dryest season ever known, Klamath Falls and its tributary country are having the most prosperous season since the completion of its first railroad.

SALEM HEARS DR. FOSTER Two Thousand People Listen to Description of Battlefront.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Salers listen intently in the war has never been more forcibly demonstrated than it was last night, when more than 2000 people sat in the Armory for over two hours awaiting the coming of President Foster, of Reed College, Portland, to address them on what he saw in the trenches on his recent trip to France.

He missed connections and left Corvallis at 8 o'clock to reach Salem by automobile. The crowd in the meantime was entertained by a musical programme and a thrilling recital of Y. M. C. A. accomplishments in connection with the war.

The meeting opened this week's drive in this vicinity for the Y. M. C. A. war fund.

KITCHEN ECONOMICS

By ISOBEL BRANDS

Solving Problem of Left-Over Cereals. WINTER cereals like cornmeal, oatmeal and others require long-time cooking, hence it is a saving if you will always cook enough for more than one meal.

Farina (or Hominy) Souffle. This is a good luncheon dish, also may be cooked in a chafing dish, and is delicious enough for a late supper.

Rice and Beet Salad. Mix equal parts of cooked rice and beets cut into cubes and the same quantity of chopped celery. Serve with cooked salad dressing and garnish with celery tips.

Oatmeal Hot Cakes. Cut cold oatmeal into thick slices. Beat one egg with four tablespoonsful of milk. Dip the oatmeal in it and then brown in a greased frying pan.

Oatmeal Pudding. Measure leftover oatmeal and allow two tablespoonsful of raisins for each cupful. Slightly warm the oatmeal. Place the raisins in rapidly boiling water until they swell, then drain and add them to the warm oatmeal. Moisten small cups with cold water, then fill half way with the oatmeal mixture and set in a cold place. Serve cold with syrup or cream or fruit juice.

Farina Hot Cakes. 1 cupful of cooked farina, 1 cupful of milk, 1 cupful of flour, 1 egg, 2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder, 1/2 teaspoonful of salt.
