CENTRAL CONTROL MEANS VICTORY. Appointment of a joint Anglo-Franco-Italian military commission to ern and Italian front is the most encouraging event which has grown out accompanied the revolt of the pacifist radicals in Russia. Its ultimate consequences may prove so beneficial to the allied cause as to compensate for for the most part on Sundays. these two great misfortunes. This action of the allies has anticipated and prepared the way for the broader proposal in the same direction which the forbidden to visit Seattle. American commission is expected to make at the Paris conference.

One of the main causes of reverses for the allies has been the central control which Germany exercises over all the manpower and material of the dreary confines. central powers, while the allied efforts have been but loosely co-ordinated. This has enabled Von Hinden-Burg to handle all their armies as and to use Austrian artillery on the French front, German troops on the Austrian front against Russia, Roumania and Italy, and on the Turkish front against Britain, while Turkish troops have been used in Galicia. This control, together with the central position of the Teutonic powers, has enabled him to organize an independent striking force which has been with great success against Russia, Serbia, France, Roumania and Italy in succession.

contrast, the allies have main tained separate control of their forces and have acted in concert only to a limited extent. Each has made war on its own account against a common enemy, pursuing its own special aims, though these might contribute but slightly to attainment of the general There seems to have been no thought out, general strategic plan in charge of a central body having authority to order troops of any ally to any point or to modify the general plan quickly in accordance with unforeseen new developments. Small contingents from one army have joined another for moral effect, not to carry out such a plan.

Because co-ordination was thus lacking. Serbia was left to shift for herself and was crushed; Russia was left to herself and fell a prey to treason; Roumania was permitted to enter the war before plans for her campaign and before adequate provision for her

TACOMA FRIENDSHIP IS OFFERED It does not matter what we think of Committee Would Make Life More Pleasant for Your Soldier Son.

TACOMA Wash, Nov. 12-(To the Editor.)-Among the thousands of men in Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Wash, there may be some men from your city who find camp life monotonous and lonely, and who would enjoy making friends oneous statement intentionally, I call in the city. We have many people here who are anxious to be of service and In section 5 of article I it is pro-vided that a patent shall have no validity if, according to the decision of the Imperial Chancellor, the in-vention is to be employed for the who would gladly open their homes to the soldiers.

If there are mothers and fathers in your city who would like to have us look up their boys and to interest them in church, lodge, home or club, I am sure we shall count it a privilege to do so if they will give us their regiment and company address. We can find them without this, but it takes time We can find and trouble to do so. the boy has not written, send us his
