PREMIER'S SPEECH STIRS UP BRITISH

Lloyd George's Allusion to Allies' "Incredible Blunder" Draws Fire.

EXPLANATIONS CALLED FOR

New Allied War Council Is Severely Criticised in Some Quaretrs. Hints Heard of Trouble With Army Heads.

LONDON, Nov. 13 .- The speech by Premier Lloyd-George in Paris yesterday has stirred the local press. His allusions to the allies' "incredible blunder," are printed under sensational headlines. Comment is mixed up with criticism of the new allied war council, as announced here yesterday by Chan-cellor Bonar Law. Several newspapers indorse the speech in the main or are noncommittal. Others criticise ad-versely the new military plan and accuse the Premier of wishing to take over the strategic direction of the allied campaign. Rumors in the Sun-day newspapers of the impending re-tirement of Field Marshal Haig and General Robertson, chief of the general staff, caused some commentators to insinuate that the reports were set afloat intentionally by semi-official

The Morning Post connects the new plan with the rumors and says both nation and army are alarmed over it. It adds:

Plan Openly Condemned.

"A political council advised by a military committee is to direct the strategy of the allies' army. The blood of the nation will run cold at the idea. No more fatal and no more disastrous arrangement can be conceived. Premier Lloyd-George appears to think that this complicated project will achieve strategic unity. It seems to us it will achieve strategic paralysis."

The Times says:

"The upshot of the speech is that the Premier is anxious for closer unity in the control of the allied armies. It is an unimpeachable idea, but the point is whether the ministry set up at will achieve this purpose Lloyd-George's instinct is sound insofar as he proposes to substitute a systematic council of ministers for the past spasmodic and ineffectual conferences, but he will come hopelessly to grief unless he defines with far greater precision than Bonar Law did in the House of Commons the duties of the council's military committee.

Explanation Called For.

"Lloyd-George's strength lies in his imagination and energy. His weak-ness is his failure to think out his plans to a logical conclusion. His first business when he returns must be to clear up the very real misunderstanding about the relation of his military advisers."

The Daily News, while thinking that the new war council ought to be an important gain, says that "the disquiet which has been expressed has been due to the well-grounded auspicion, which has prevailed long, that there has been trouble between Premier Lloyd-George and the heads of the

BABY HOPELESS ABNORMAL

Doctor Who Administered Medicin to End Child's Life Defends His Action and Asks Authorities to Prosecute.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. - (Special.)riminal prosecution loomed for Dr larry J. Halselden today should Baby Hodzima, whom he placed under a sentence of death, die from the medicine ow being administered.

The baby, with a deformed skull designed to be one of the great cathedral suffering from a stricture of the traches is a horrible mite of humanity who would be better off dead, according to the physician, whose radical views have practically ostracised him from his profession. This announcement was made by the other world, as no amount of care. views have practically ostracised him from his profession. The mother also would benefit if the child passed to the other world, as no amount of care or attention will ever make the child nofmal, according to the physician. So the mother is daily giving it a medicine which is sapping the infant's life, and within a short time it will die—a painless death.

Coroner Peter M. Hoffman was indignant today and promised that grand jury action would follow should the baby die. He has recommended to
