

RUSSIA TO STAY IN WAR, SAYS MISSION

End of Bolshevik Revolt Predicted, but Outside Help Is Badly Needed.

JAPANESE ALSO IN CITY

Members of Royal Parliamentary Party Arrive Here and Are Received With Warm Welcome by Local Committee.

(Continued From First Page.)

Russian army has fought the battles of democracy it would be recognized that the entire world is indebted to the Russian soldier.

"The idea of a separate peace is unbearable for the Russian mind. We will share the burden of this war with our allies until the end. And we will do it not only for sentimental reasons, but because our consciences cannot allow us to desert our brothers-in-arms in the fight for liberty and democracy."

Need to Fight on Told. "In addition to sentimental reasons, everyone in Russia, outside of a few fanatics and their following of provocateurs and German spies, realizes that if Russia would come to a separate peace and 2,500,000 Teutonic troops would be released for the Western front and the democratic allies of Russia would weaken, then finally the horde of the German Emperor would turn again to Russia, would break our freedom, the freedom for which the country paid such sacrifice and would re-establish our colonial and imperialistic rule, so sympathetic to the German heart."

"If the allies will not cease to fight in Russia and will render the country at this critical moment all the material and moral help she needs, we may predict that our army, reorganized, will actually participate in the allied operations next Spring."

Committee Meets Mission. The mission was met at the Union Station, upon arrival from Seattle, by a reception committee headed by H. C. Corbett, president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. Other members of the committee were H. B. Miller, former United States Consul-General in China and dean of the school of commerce of the University of Oregon; W. H. Galvani, whose youth was passed in Russia; Secretary Dodson of the Chamber of Commerce; H. W. Stone, A. J. Vessey, Charles E. Cochran and A. N. Weinbaum.

They expressed a desire to see the city and were at once taken upon a motoring tour of Portland, evincing keen delight and pleasure.

Banquet Given Guests. At 6 o'clock they were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce at an informal dinner and responded to toasts for the welfare of Russia and the successful termination of the war by America and the allies through a complete victory over Prussianism.

Mr. Cochran presided as toastmaster, and the address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Galvani, whose Russian birth and adeptness at the language of the motherland had been kept secret from the guests. Launching his remarks with the formal "Mr. Toastmaster," the speaker turned to the Russian tongue and gave warm welcome. A partial interpretation of the address follows:

Mission Is Welcomed. "Representatives of the people of all Russia, citizens of the Republic of all Russia, permit me as a native of all Russia and a citizen of the United States, to welcome you in the name of the city of Portland, and in which welcome I am sure the people of the entire state of Oregon join me."

"Permit me also to state that the citizens of the United States most sincerely sympathize with the heroic people of all Russia and hope that they will successfully establish a republic of all Russia on a permanent basis to the benefit and regeneration of her people, of every race and creed, and to the glory of the immortal heroes who, during the last century, have laid down their lives for freedom."

Meeting Largely Attended. At the White Temple, where the members of the mission addressed a remarkable audience last night, the ovation given them was one of deep significance and feeling. Time and again, as the speakers dwelt upon the sacrifices of Russia, and the true purpose of her people, aside from the sporadic and visionary attempt to throttle a government that might carry the war to an honorable conclusion, the great gathering voiced its approval.

Lieutenant-Commander Iwoshinsky of the Russian navy, represents the Russian Embassy on the speaking tour, through the earlier stages of the war he was detached from naval service, and saw action as an officer of the Imperial Guard on the Warsaw front. For distinguished valor he wears the white cross of St. George.

A. J. Sack, director of the Russian information bureau in the United States, is a former staff correspondent for the Petrograd Retch, the editor of which, Professor Paul N. Millukoff, was the secretary of foreign affairs in the first provisional Cabinet. He is thoroughly familiar with the motives and objectives of the different political parties in Russia. At present all information regarding political and social conditions in the United States is passing to Petrograd through Mr. Sack's office.

Major Washburn was with the Russian armies during their successful invasion of East Prussia in the early months of the war and was a witness of the great retreat of the Russian armies from Warsaw through Poland. He is the recognized American authority upon Russian military affairs, and through acquaintance with the leaders of the provisional government and the situation in Russia, is intimately in touch with the problems of the Russian nation.

Mission Goes South. The Russian mission departed this morning for San Francisco. They will visit Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Denver and other cities on their way back to the East, having completed a tour of the other cities of the United States.

All members of the party are deeply acquainted with the revolution that has been given them wherever they have appeared and express confidence that the improvement of mutual understanding between the citizens of both nations will vastly aid Russia in her struggle for an established government and the ending of the war to an honorable end.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—You probably forgot Lester Hickey, although it was less than a week ago his name filled the papers after he was drowned when the transport Finland was torpedoed. But Evelyn Doyle, 1215 Bissell street, who was engaged to be married to him, and Mrs. Thomas Hickey, 1125 South Racine street, his mother, are still hoping that his body may be recovered.

"If the Government could find Lester's body and send it to us, so that we might at least place a wreath on his grave, it would be a great consolation," said Miss Doyle, who is just 17 years old. "I know Lester from the time he was in the grades and for the last few years I have been going with him constantly. If only could pay some tribute to him and to his friends and family, I would feel so much relieved, but I can't. He has not even a grave which I can visit."

Mrs. Hickey, Lester's mother, wants her son's body, too. "I brought him up till he was 21 and then nothing would satisfy him but entering the army," she said today. "I did not want him to go to war, but when he was of age I did not object. I went to Los Angeles and his friends gave him and then I went to the train with him. When I saw the train pull out I knew I would never see my Lester again, but I did not cry."

"After the train had left and I had returned home I could not bear it any longer. I wept. But then Lester's departure was grieving me, so it was all right."

Mrs. Hickey was the most likable one in my family. I saw to it that he got a good education and learned to play the violin. He was a great musician. When he was through school he helped support me until he joined the Army, and even then he sent me some money every time he got paid. Now I don't know what I shall do for a living. My husband is over 60 years old and my little boy is not 15 yet, so they can't earn much. I guess I'll have to see if I can't get the old job of bottling whiskey that I used to have."

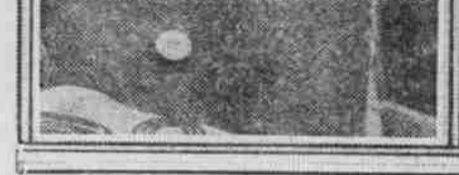

"I don't know whether the Government recovered Lester's body or not. If so, I wish it would be sent to me so I could see my Lester had a decent burial. If it could only get some of his belongings or something to remember him by it would not be so bad, but now all I have is some of his schoolboy playthings and a postcard photo he sent me in his last letter."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Sixteen Liberty Theaters now being built by the Government in the various National Army cantonments are to be self-sustaining, and with one exception, will be a part of a regularly organized dramatic and vaudeville circuit. Camp Lewis on the Pacific Coast, cannot be included in the circuit for geographical reasons, so special performances by Pacific Coast companies will be given there.

It was announced that four vaudeville and four dramatic companies are being organized by well-known theatrical men for the circuit. Each theater will have its own equipment, so that the companies will not have to carry a heavy baggage train. Cantonments are being searched for men of theatrical experience and stage hands. Eccentric actors and musicians have been found among the soldiers. Selected Smilge books, containing 31 and 45 words of admission coupons will be soon offered the public through the stage women's war relief. These books can be sent to soldiers to pay their 15, 20 and 25-cent admission charges.

In the mining settlement of Edgewater, Mo., a society of young girls called "The Glensier Mission Circle" walks back and forth from the Italian and French mission of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern), to Lexington, three miles distant, for its sewing class.

Left to Right—Major Stanley Washburn, U. S. A.; Lieutenant-Commander Basil Iwoshinsky, of the Russian Navy; A. J. Sack, Director of the Russian Information Bureau, of New York.

Left to Right—Major Stanley Washburn, U. S. A.; Lieutenant-Commander Basil Iwoshinsky, of the Russian Navy; A. J. Sack, Director of the Russian Information Bureau, of New York.

MEMBERS OF THE RUSSIAN EMBASSY MISSION, ON TOUR OF THE UNITED STATES, WHO SPOKE IN PORTLAND YESTERDAY AND OUTLINED RUSSIA'S STATUS IN THE WAR.

strife for an established government and the ending of the war to an honorable end.

BODY MAY BE RECOVERED

Fiance of Lester Hickey Makes Appeal to Government.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—You probably forgot Lester Hickey, although it was less than a week ago his name filled the papers after he was drowned when the transport Finland was torpedoed. But Evelyn Doyle, 1215 Bissell street, who was engaged to be married to him, and Mrs. Thomas Hickey, 1125 South Racine street, his mother, are still hoping that his body may be recovered.

"If the Government could find Lester's body and send it to us, so that we might at least place a wreath on his grave, it would be a great consolation," said Miss Doyle, who is just 17 years old. "I know Lester from the time he was in the grades and for the last few years I have been going with him constantly. If only could pay some tribute to him and to his friends and family, I would feel so much relieved, but I can't. He has not even a grave which I can visit."

Mrs. Hickey, Lester's mother, wants her son's body, too. "I brought him up till he was 21 and then nothing would satisfy him but entering the army," she said today. "I did not want him to go to war, but when he was of age I did not object. I went to Los Angeles and his friends gave him and then I went to the train with him. When I saw the train pull out I knew I would never see my Lester again, but I did not cry."

"After the train had left and I had returned home I could not bear it any longer. I wept. But then Lester's departure was grieving me, so it was all right."

Mrs. Hickey was the most likable one in my family. I saw to it that he got a good education and learned to play the violin. He was a great musician. When he was through school he helped support me until he joined the Army, and even then he sent me some money every time he got paid. Now I don't know what I shall do for a living. My husband is over 60 years old and my little boy is not 15 yet, so they can't earn much. I guess I'll have to see if I can't get the old job of bottling whiskey that I used to have."

"I don't know whether the Government recovered Lester's body or not. If so, I wish it would be sent to me so I could see my Lester had a decent burial. If it could only get some of his belongings or something to remember him by it would not be so bad, but now all I have is some of his schoolboy playthings and a postcard photo he sent me in his last letter."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Sixteen Liberty Theaters now being built by the Government in the various National Army cantonments are to be self-sustaining, and with one exception, will be a part of a regularly organized dramatic and vaudeville circuit. Camp Lewis on the Pacific Coast, cannot be included in the circuit for geographical reasons, so special performances by Pacific Coast companies will be given there.

It was announced that four vaudeville and four dramatic companies are being organized by well-known theatrical men for the circuit. Each theater will have its own equipment, so that the companies will not have to carry a heavy baggage train. Cantonments are being searched for men of theatrical experience and stage hands. Eccentric actors and musicians have been found among the soldiers. Selected Smilge books, containing 31 and 45 words of admission coupons will be soon offered the public through the stage women's war relief. These books can be sent to soldiers to pay their 15, 20 and 25-cent admission charges.

In the mining settlement of Edgewater, Mo., a society of young girls called "The Glensier Mission Circle" walks back and forth from the Italian and French mission of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern), to Lexington, three miles distant, for its sewing class.

Left to Right—Major Stanley Washburn, U. S. A.; Lieutenant-Commander Basil Iwoshinsky, of the Russian Navy; A. J. Sack, Director of the Russian Information Bureau, of New York.

Left to Right—Major Stanley Washburn, U. S. A.; Lieutenant-Commander Basil Iwoshinsky, of the Russian Navy; A. J. Sack, Director of the Russian Information Bureau, of New York.

MEMBERS OF THE RUSSIAN EMBASSY MISSION, ON TOUR OF THE UNITED STATES, WHO SPOKE IN PORTLAND YESTERDAY AND OUTLINED RUSSIA'S STATUS IN THE WAR.

strife for an established government and the ending of the war to an honorable end.

BODY MAY BE RECOVERED

Fiance of Lester Hickey Makes Appeal to Government.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—You probably forgot Lester Hickey, although it was less than a week ago his name filled the papers after he was drowned when the transport Finland was torpedoed. But Evelyn Doyle, 1215 Bissell street, who was engaged to be married to him, and Mrs. Thomas Hickey, 1125 South Racine street, his mother, are still hoping that his body may be recovered.

"If the Government could find Lester's body and send it to us, so that we might at least place a wreath on his grave, it would be a great consolation," said Miss Doyle, who is just 17 years old. "I know Lester from the time he was in the grades and for the last few years I have been going with him constantly. If only could pay some tribute to him and to his friends and family, I would feel so much relieved, but I can't. He has not even a grave which I can visit."

Mrs. Hickey, Lester's mother, wants her son's body, too. "I brought him up till he was 21 and then nothing would satisfy him but entering the army," she said today. "I did not want him to go to war, but when he was of age I did not object. I went to Los Angeles and his friends gave him and then I went to the train with him. When I saw the train pull out I knew I would never see my Lester again, but I did not cry."

"After the train had left and I had returned home I could not bear it any longer. I wept. But then Lester's departure was grieving me, so it was all right."

Mrs. Hickey was the most likable one in my family. I saw to it that he got a good education and learned to play the violin. He was a great musician. When he was through school he helped support me until he joined the Army, and even then he sent me some money every time he got paid. Now I don't know what I shall do for a living. My husband is over 60 years old and my little boy is not 15 yet, so they can't earn much. I guess I'll have to see if I can't get the old job of bottling whiskey that I used to have."

"I don't know whether the Government recovered Lester's body or not. If so, I wish it would be sent to me so I could see my Lester had a decent burial. If it could only get some of his belongings or something to remember him by it would not be so bad, but now all I have is some of his schoolboy playthings and a postcard photo he sent me in his last letter."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Sixteen Liberty Theaters now being built by the Government in the various National Army cantonments are to be self-sustaining, and with one exception, will be a part of a regularly organized dramatic and vaudeville circuit. Camp Lewis on the Pacific Coast, cannot be included in the circuit for geographical reasons, so special performances by Pacific Coast companies will be given there.

It was announced that four vaudeville and four dramatic companies are being organized by well-known theatrical men for the circuit. Each theater will have its own equipment, so that the companies will not have to carry a heavy baggage train. Cantonments are being searched for men of theatrical experience and stage hands. Eccentric actors and musicians have been found among the soldiers. Selected Smilge books, containing 31 and 45 words of admission coupons will be soon offered the public through the stage women's war relief. These books can be sent to soldiers to pay their 15, 20 and 25-cent admission charges.

In the mining settlement of Edgewater, Mo., a society of young girls called "The Glensier Mission Circle" walks back and forth from the Italian and French mission of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern), to Lexington, three miles distant, for its sewing class.

SEDITION TRIAL ON

Alleged Revolution-Makers in San Francisco Court.

MANY GERMANS INVOLVED

Defendants Acc Charged With Attempting to Start Uprising Against British Government in Far East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Efforts of the United States Government to prove the existence in this country of a widely ramifying conspiracy to foment revolution against British rule in India began here today, when 24 alleged conspirators went on trial in the United States District Court.

Seldom has any courtroom here presented such a strange scene. Bronzed natives of India, clad in variegated Oriental garb, wearing their gaily colored turbans inside the room after the dictates of their religion, mingled among the defendants with multi-millionaire shipowners and shipbuilders, high German consular officials, other alleged agents of the German empire and adventurers.

The Government contends that the Indians, induced by their ideal of freeing their country from British rule, joined with the German defendants and with adventurers influenced by the prospect of financial gain, in a plan to cause mutiny among the native troops in British India. The mutiny was to be accomplished by the alleged conspiracy, the Government charges. India was to be freed, and Great Britain was to have been forced to withdraw troops from the continental battlefield, thus weakening the allied forces. The plot had spread rapidly, the Government contends, until it flourished in many points on the Pacific Coast, in most large American cities, in India and Mexico.

Trial Dramatic at Opening. The trial opened dramatically. After the defendants had been identified United States District Attorney John W. Preston moved that the charges against five of the defendants, Ernest Sekarna, of New York; Captain Ralph Russ, who received his commission in the United States Army in the first reserve officers' training camp here; M. J. Martines, San Diego attorney; Leopold Michaels, multi-millionaire shipowner, of San Francisco, and Ray Howard, Los Angeles attorney, be dismissed on the ground that it would not be "just and fair" to prosecute them.

The $10,000 bail of John F. Craig, millionaire shipbuilder, of Long Beach, Cal., the only defendant who failed to appear, was declared forfeited and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. Advice from Long Beach said Craig's non-appearance was due to a misunderstanding, and he would appear in person to the indictment against him. He was reported on his way here tonight.

Three Cases Postponed. District Attorney Preston moved that the trials of three other defendants be indefinitely postponed. One of these, Surandrar Nath Karr, was dying in a Berkeley, Cal., sanatorium, he explained. The cases against Solomon Lawson, hauser, Buddhist priest, and his wife, Maria, the only woman defendant in the trial, also were ordered postponed on the ground of advanced age and ill health.

Five Jurors had been temporarily passed when court adjourned. The defense, in questioning talesmen, emphasized that many of the defendants were citizens of Germany and was particular to ask whether the fact that a state of war now existed between the United States and Germany would have any influence with them.

The trial will probably consume the next months, said District Attorney Preston, who is conducting the prosecution. Eleven attorneys appear for the various defendants.

Hindu prisoners who, because of lack of ball, are held at the military prison on Alcatraz Island are accompanied to the courtroom by a detachment of armed United States infantrymen under a commissioned officer.

Special precautions were taken to guard the courtroom against any possible untoward occurrences. The trial is closed to the public and admission is by card only.

The value of the public libraries of Paris has been demonstrated by the general use which has been made of them since the outbreak of the war.

THE "BLOOD AND IRON" POLICY

Is important in peace as well as in war. Every man and woman who would be a winner and not a slacker should have the strength of iron in the blood.

The new iron tonic, Peptonin, combines this valuable metal in medicinal form so that it is easily digested and readily assimilated. Peptonin also includes cod liver oil, nux, celery, gentian and other tonics—sedatives for the nerves, digestive and carminatives—a health-giving medicine in convenient pill form.

Take it for anemia, or thin blood, paleness, nerve debility, brain-fag. One or two Peptonin after each meal will quickly tell a story of marvelous results.—Get it today.—Adv.

GIRLS SEEKING HUSBANDS

Kentucky Lassess Appeal to Minister for Assistance.

OMAHA, Nov. 15.—Something must have happened to the chivalrous young men of Kentucky, thinks the Rev. Charles W. Savidge, of Omaha, for within three weeks 49 Kentucky girls have written Pastor Savidge asking him to find husbands for them.

"What do you suppose has happened to those Kentucky boys?" asks the Rev. Mr. Savidge. "Here for half a century we have been singing the praises of the young men of that state; we have heard they are the most gallant and chivalrous in the world; and everybody knows about the beauty of Kentucky girls. But suddenly we wake up and find that the boys of that state have been receiving letters from girls who have been positively neglectful of their pretty girls. Else why would 49 of their wives ask me to find husbands for them?"

Last month, through the Rev. Mr. Savidge, a Dry Ridge (Ky.) school teacher married a Yankton (S. D.) doctor's daughter.

One of the Kentucky girls wrote to the Rev. Mr. Savidge: "Your belief in happy hearts and how you have assisted some people to be happy has just come to my notice. I am a school teacher of several years' experience, 22 years young and have kept alive an open mind and love of companionship. My hobby is horses and the keenest desire of my heart is love and a home of my own. My character and reputation are irreproachable—my family ancestry clear."

This letter is from Paducah: "I beg pardon for what I am about to do. But I feel being a minister, you would be a Kentucky girl getting a husband through you. I thought perhaps you would find me a nice correspondent, and I feel being a minister, you would recommend anyone but a gentleman. My reason for wanting a correspondent is my extreme loneliness. I have a comfortable income, but I am lonely."

A widow of Ashland writes: "I am very lonely. My husband died in 1910. I am 5 feet 5 inches tall, have gray eyes, light auburn hair. I prefer a religious gentleman. I am not looking for riches, but for an honest man. I am a good cook. People say I am good looking. I own my own home here."

Two Louisville girls, chums, have this to say: "Dear Sir:—We read of Miss Williams, the Kentucky school teacher for whom you found a husband. Can't you get husbands for us? We have plenty of company among the boys, but none of them seem to want to get down to business."

It is claimed that Williams left his home at Inkster in March a year ago and has not been heard from since. Mrs. Williams is of the opinion that he went to Canada and has gone to the front from there.

Mrs. Williams asks a decree giving her the custody of the four children and title to property in Inkster.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

MAN AT WAR, WIFE SUES

Divorce Wanted Because Husband Joins Canadian Army.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 1.—Eliza Williams is seeking a divorce from William Williams, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and that he deserted her more than a year ago. The case is pending before Judge A. T. Cole in District Court.

It is claimed that Williams left his home at Inkster in March a year ago and has not been heard from since. Mrs. Williams is of the opinion that he went to Canada and has gone to the front from there.

Mrs. Williams asks a decree giving her the custody of the four children and title to property in Inkster.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

DIME SAVING

has become a daily habit with many Portland people. This handy little dime savings bank is daily encouraging many people to save. It's a constant thrift reminder. You can secure one in our Savings Department.

LADD & TILTON BANK

WASHINGTON AND THIRD

Advertisement for Woodard Clark & Co. featuring a free service for you, 4012 people weighed on their scale yesterday, and a list of various products and prices including Hoyt's Vegetable Worm Destroyer, $1.50 Fellows Syrup, and many others.

ARMY OFFICER WEDS

Albert C. Demarest and Miss Lillian Phillips Married.

PUBLIC RECEPTION HELD

Most of Oregon Soldiers Afflicted With Measles at Camp Mills Are Recovering and Will Join Commands in Short Time.

CAMP MILLS, With the Oregon Troops, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—A field wedding took place last night in one of the big Young Men's Christian Association tents, when Major William S. Gilbert, chaplain of the 147th Infantry, and Miss Lillian M. Phillips, of New York, were united in marriage.

Most of the Oregon soldiers, who have been suffering from slight attacks of measles, are recovering. Lieutenant Chetowich and Lieutenant Andrews, who have been confined to the base hospital for a week, will report to their commands in a few days.

ARE YOU RUPTURED?

A poor fitting truss by not properly holding rupture is dangerous and worse than no truss at all. Anyone can sell a truss, but it takes an expert truss fitter to fit one. We specialize in fitting trusses, guaranteeing satisfaction in every instance. We carry all kinds of trusses, but the Society Spermatic Shield Truss is the best, usually closing the opening in ten days. Send for illustrated circular and measuring blank.

LAUE-DAVIS DRUG CO.

TRUSS EXPERTS. Third and Yamhill Sts., Portland, Oregon

ABERDEEN COMPANY FILLED.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Company G, organized in this city, has now been brought up to a war strength of 250 men by the addition to the company at Camp Mills of 110 selected men. The volunteers speak of the drafted as well-set-up young fellows that look as if they were going to make good. The company is expecting several new officers, the new regulations calling for six and the company at present having only three.

CLARIDGE

The New Fall ARROW COLLAR

20" each 26" 35" 36" 50"

Perfect Fitting Union Suits

are here. Men who appreciate the comfort of a garment that can be worn and forgotten will find genuine satisfaction in our famous "Vassar" Union Suits.

Special sizes for stout men and for tall men.

We have garments to exactly fill your requirements—light weight, medium weight or heavy weight.

The man who thinks he is hard to fit or hard to please is especially invited to drop in.

Buffum & Pendleton Co.

Clothing, Hatters and Haberdashers 127 SIXTH STREET 30 Easy Steps From Washington Street F. N. PENDLETON, WINTHROP HAMMOND.

COUPON

Please send me a copy of "Good Teeth, How They Grow and How to Keep Them," also a sample tube of S.S. White tooth paste.

NAME ADDRESS

ARE YOU RUPTURED?

A poor fitting truss by not properly holding rupture is dangerous and worse than no truss at all. Anyone can sell a truss, but it takes an expert truss fitter to fit one. We specialize in fitting trusses, guaranteeing satisfaction in every instance. We carry all kinds of trusses, but the Society Spermatic Shield Truss is the best, usually closing the opening in ten days. Send for illustrated circular and measuring blank.

LAUE-DAVIS DRUG CO.

TRUSS EXPERTS. Third and Yamhill Sts., Portland, Oregon

Don't Use Any Other Than Cuticura Soap To Clear Your Skin

When your baby is cross and fretful the chances are it is constipated and that a mild laxative is all that is necessary to make it comfortable and happy. Inactive bowels are the cause of as much discomfort to children as to older people, and unless the condition is promptly relieved is very apt to develop serious illness.

For children there is nothing that will act more easily than the combination of simple natural herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not gripe and is free from opiate or narcotic drugs, is pleasant to the taste, and positively effective; children like it and take it readily.

If you have never tried this simple, inexpensive remedy, get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and have it in the house to use the next time any of the children seem out of sorts. A trial bottle can be obtained free of charge by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

THE "BLOOD AND IRON" POLICY

Is important in peace as well as in war. Every man and woman who would be a winner and not a slacker should have the strength of iron in the blood.

The new iron tonic, Peptonin, combines this valuable metal in medicinal form so that it is easily digested and readily assimilated. Peptonin also includes cod liver oil, nux, celery, gentian and other tonics—sedatives for the nerves, digestive and carminatives—a health-giving medicine in convenient pill form.

Take it for anemia, or thin blood, paleness, nerve debility, brain-fag. One or two Peptonin after each meal will quickly tell a story of marvelous results.—Get it today.—Adv.

DIME SAVING

has become a daily habit with many Portland people. This handy little dime savings bank is daily encouraging many people to save. It's a constant thrift reminder. You can secure one in our Savings Department.

LADD & TILTON BANK

WASHINGTON AND THIRD