PORTLAND PEOPLE GET MILK CHEAP

Records Show Local Product Is Sold at Lower Cost Than in Other Cities.

QUALITY DECLARED BEST

Oregon Dairymen's League to Stop Practice of Merchants Who Make "Leaders" Out of Milk and Sell It at Cost.

Portland consumers of milk are get-ting their supply at more reasonable rate than any other city from which information has been received, according to a statement issued yesterday by A. Smith, secretary of the Oregon Dairymen's League, the organiza-tion which is handling the local situation and of which F. M. Kiger is general manager.

Mr. Smith wrote recently for data upon the milk situation in a number of cities throughout the country, and has received replies from some of the more important ones. The compilations are from records prepared up to October 15, and it should be remembered that the price in Portland has been advanced to 12½ cents per quart since them. Mr. Smith says that prac-tically all of the other places men-tioned in his comparative list have also sent the rates upward.

Portland Consumers Favored. Mr. Smith's statement is as follows: "There is a measure of comfort for Portland milk consumers in informa-Fortland milk consumers in informa-tion received by the Oregon Dairy-men's League regarding prices of the product in various cities of the United States. Portlanders have always been favored above all communities in this country with the highest quality of milk possible to produce and this is milk possible to produce, and this is best borne out by the results of all National milk contests in which this city has entered, Portland having always carried away the grand prizes.

"The following list of prices and quality of milk obtaining in each shows graphically the high values being received by Portland people;

Bridgi Veil auxiliary of the Portland chapter of the American Red Cross raised nearly $85 for Red Cross work at a basket social Saturday night.

The proceeds of the basket supper, which is declared to have been the most successful ever held at the militown, amounted to $51.85, which was turned over to the Red Cross work fund and which will be utilized to purchase handages and supplies to go to chase bandages and supplies to go to France. In addition, there were a number of booths at which articles were sold, and from these booths $33.05 was raised for the Christmas packet fund for soldiers and sailors. This latter sum was promptly turned over to Chairman Lewis A. McArthur, of the Christmas packet fund.
