OREGONIAN ITEM GETS $50 Gift Tag Day Fund Raised to $8000 After Story of Deficiency. An item appearing in The Oregonian, which announced the final total of the soldiers' and sailors' Christmas fund to be $7950, although the committee had striven to attain a total of $8000, brought an unexpected response yesterday in the form of a $50 check. The check came in a letter to Mrs. Ferdinand E. Reed, who served as chairman of the tag day drive, and was from Charles Eckelman, president of the Riverview Dairy Company. If $50 is all you need to reach the goal, here it is," was the substance of the communication. Having reached the coveted total, the fund was further increased by two silver quarters brought in by Mrs. H. F. Johnson, who explained that the sale of two tags, taken from coat lapels, had been made by a grocer, of German birth, after the close of the drive. The final check, handed to Lewis A. McArthur, of the Red Cross, completes the fund, with a total of $8000.50. Aviation Commissions Expected. ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Gordon Tebb and Thomas O'Hare, both ex-Aberdeen High School students, are reported to stand a good chance of commissions in the aviation department. Both have been in training for several months and recently passed the aviation examinations. Tebb, who is at Dayton, Or., made 98 per cent in his examination. O'Hare is at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

FAMILY APART 35 YEARS Brother and Sister of Mrs. K. Hayes Come From Afar. There was a happy family reunion at the Hayes home at 930 East Couch street this week when Mrs. K. Hayes' sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, who has been in Alaska for 18 years, and whom she has not seen for 35 years, came to Portland for a brief stay. That was not all of the reunion, however, because J. Kennedy, a brother, whom Mrs. Hayes had not seen for 35 years, also came to Portland. Mrs. Hayes originally came from Vermont. Her husband, K. Hayes served with the Second Missouri Engineers in the Civil War. It was during the war that they were married and crossed the plains 53 years ago and settled in Mexico and later in Oregon. She had not heard of any of her family since until recently she heard her brother was in Missouri and her sister in Alaska. Then she wrote asking that they come to Portland. This resulted in the reunion. Mrs. Smith has extensive mine interests in Canada, Alaska, which is 380 miles north of Nome. She is the owner of the only hotel in town. Reeds, fax balls and dried potato peelings are being used in Holland for cattle food. High prices are demanded and request has been made to the government to regulate the sale of these supplies and relieve the situation.

DEATH DUE TO PULLEY Details of Morton Accident Gathered by Deduction. MORTON, Wash., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Details of the accident that caused the death, Wednesday, of C. O. Smith, manager of the Lewis County Light & Telephone Company, will never be known. About noon that day the electric current suddenly went down. Inquiry was made as to when the current would be turned on again, to which the answer was given that Mr. Smith was fixing a pulley and that it would take only a few minutes. Those using the current in the daytime waited for some time and then inquiry was made again as to when the power would be turned on. This time patrons were informed that Mr. Smith could not be reached. So Mrs. Smith went to the plant and found the body. Evidently Mr. Smith was caught in the pulley. Mr. and Mrs. Smith came to Morton about three years ago and bought the power plant from F. M. Broadbent. Later they leased and then contracted to buy the Rural Telephone Company property, and then combined the two under the name of Lewis County Light & Telephone Company. Only 8 Families Refused to Sign. KILAMATH FALLS, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—According to the final report turned in by Superintendent of City Schools for H. B. Dunbar, of this city, on the food conservation drive conducted recently under the auspices of the schools, a total of 1045 families were visited in the city, of which 1037, or 99.3 per cent, signed the pledge cards sent out by the food administration. This high average is considered good. Eight families refused to sign the cards for some reason or other. Read The Oregonian classified ads. MOTHER'S FRIEND FOR Expectant Mothers A PENETRATING LINIMENT
