JOHN CARROLL DEAD

Well-Known Newspaperman Suscums to Long Illness.

MANY FRIENDS TO MOURN

John James Carroll, the first editor of the Daily Oregonian, died just before 5 o'clock this afternoon at his home, 1401 West Sixth avenue, after a long illness. He was 74 years of age.

Mr. Carroll was a native of Vermont, and came to Oregon in 1853. He was associated with the Oregonian for many years.

Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and at 3 o'clock in the Catholic church, 214 West Sixth avenue. The body will be removed to Vermont.

Mr. Carroll leaves a wife, three daughters and a son. The three daughters, Mrs. H. M. Scates, Mrs. J. P. Oglesby and Miss Mary Carroll, are residents of Portland.
