MR. YEON TO STAY ON AS ROADMASTER

Promise Made Tentatively in Response to Pressure From Taxpayers of County.

LARGE EXPENDITURE SAVED

Point Made That Refusal of E. B. MacNaughton to Indorse Road Budget for Year Was Because Fear of Impending Change.

John B. Yeon probably will not resign as County Roadmaster, as was announced several weeks ago. Instead of turning over the county's extensive road work to other hands he will undoubtedly continue to remain at the helm of the 1918 road programme. This decision, while not definite, was indicated yesterday by Mr. Yeon. Ever since he announced his intention of retiring from the office, delegations of prominent business men and taxpayers have pleaded with Commissioners Holbrook and Muck, asking them to use every possible influence in an effort to have Mr. Yeon remain as roadmaster for another year at least. So insistent have been the petitions of Portland business men, that Mr. Yeon has practically assured the County Commissioners that he would remain for another year. This decision was announced yesterday by Commissioner Muck and confirmed, in part, by Mr. Yeon.

Pressure Brought to Bear
"While I had hoped to retire at the end of this year, and had previously announced my intention of so doing, it is possible that I may stay with the work for another year at least," said Mr. Yeon yesterday. "I have the matter under consideration, but will not make any definite decision until later."
"Many of the most prominent business men and taxpayers have come to us and urged us to use every influence and bring every possible pressure to bear in an effort to have Mr. Yeon remain as roadmaster," said Commissioner Muck yesterday. "And, although we know he is making a big personal sacrifice in continuing this work, we are hopeful that he will remain for another year, at least."
Mr. Yeon has been roadmaster of Multnomah County for the past four years, during which time he has served the county without compensation of any kind. During his regime Multnomah County has made rapid strides in its road work. When he first took hold of the work four years ago there were only 2 1/2 miles of paved road in the county, outside the city limits. Today there are more than 50 miles of paved highway.

Political Preference Distasteful.
"I have never sought political honors of any kind and do not take a political office if it were handed to me on a silver platter," Mr. Yeon yesterday, in explaining his position. "However, I am a firm believer in the gospel of good roads and am willing to make personal sacrifices that Oregon and Multnomah County might advance in this all-important work."
"To speak frankly—if I had tendered Multnomah County a check for $25,000 four years ago instead of taking over this road work, I would be better off financially today. However, I made what money I have in this community and, naturally, I am at all times ready to do whatever I can to help it advance. Good roads mean a lot for Oregon as well as for Portland and Multnomah County and we should all develop this community interest if the best results are to be obtained."

Faith of Mr. Yeon Shown.
In connection with Mr. Yeon's evident consent to remain as roadmaster for another year, in compliance with the urgent requests of scores of citizens, it is recalled that E. B. MacNaughton, chairman of the county's advisory budget committee, who signed the minority report objecting to the road budget of $500,000 publicly stated at a meeting of the committee that he would have no hesitancy in approving the half-million-dollar appropriation if he could be assured that the handling of this fund would be under the direction of Mr. Yeon as roadmaster. At the time Mr. MacNaughton declined to approve the road budget it was generally believed that Mr. Yeon would not accept the post for the coming year.

Mr. Yeon's appointment for another year will likewise mean the saving of several thousands of dollars a year to Multnomah County, inasmuch as the Commissioners admitted they would be unable to find a successor for the office who would work without compensation as Mr. Yeon has done during the entire time he has held the office. If Mr. Yeon should refuse to remain for another year it is understood the Commissioners would have to appoint an engineer, who would command a good salary.

TONG TRIAL IS STARTED

Chin Jung Hin Second Accused of Complicity in Murders.

Chin Jung Hin, president of the Suey Sing tong, was placed on trial yesterday before Circuit Judge Bingham, charged with complicity in the murder of Chin Hong, of a rival tong, June 2, last. The selection of jurors to decide the fate of the prominent tong official probably will not be completed until late this afternoon.

This is the second of more than a score of similar cases arising out of the tong warfare which raged in Portland during the first six months of the present year. Gong Woo, secretary of the same tong, was tried several months ago, but was freed in a directed verdict for acquittal ordered by Circuit Judge Gatens.

MEN AND WOMEN Will Be Keenly Interested in This Sale of Washable Cape Gloves $1.49

And men and women will show their appreciation of the extraordinary glove values offered in this sale by purchasing these finely serviceable washable Cape gloves for their personal use as well as gifts for their friends.

Every pair of these gloves is new and perfect. Every one is a "Cape," and you know how splendidly Capes fill the bill for gloves that are dressy, good looking and at the same time most serviceable. They're warm and comfortable, and WASHABLE—could anyone ask for more in a glove?

The men's gloves are in tan. The women's in brown, tan, gray and white. Both have Spearpoint stitching on backs. One-clasp style, outseam sewn (for strength). They're good for street, dress, automobile or, in fact, any occasion that calls for an all-around serviceable glove.

And—though this last may seem superfluous to those familiar with the glove market—Cape gloves at $1.49 are a powerful bargain!
