MEMBERSHIPS FOR RED CROSS 76,027

Portlanders Sign Up Rapidly and in Numbers as Campaign Moves On.

CITY'S FIGURE IS 22,005

Umatilla County Completes Its Quota First of Any, Giving 7650 Instead of Required 7500—Other Counties Coming Fast.

"ALL MELICAN SOLDIERS GET WELL NOW," WONG TON SAYS.

Wong Ton, late of China, is now a member of the American Red Cross. He is sporting a Red Cross button and two Red Cross service flags. Wong works for the Union Meat Company and, when Roy Slocum, cold-storage manager, tried to enlist him Wong was right there. Slocum had to explain the facts and mentioned that Wong's dollar would go for the soldiers. Wong dug down for the dollar. "Here," said Wong, "all Melican soldiers get well now." "I am confident," said Slocum, "Wong believes his dollar will do the whole job."

With Portland as well as the state at large now adding to the Christmas membership drive total by leaps and bounds, last night's figure touched 76,027.

By a terrific drive during the day, in which every energy possible was employed at the outset of fair weather, the city contributed 22,005 to this figure, while the state at large rushed its total up to 54,022.

Nearly one-third of the task before the state is completed, although Portland has completed one-fifth only of the task before the city; in fact, Portland is far behind Seattle, the total in which is now 60,000.

Umatilla county is the banner county, having completed its quota yesterday afternoon. At that time Umatilla had pushed its total up to 7650, with a quota of 7500.

Eight Counties Have Not Reported.

Umatilla, which still declares it is in the game, was the first county to "prove up" in the last liberty loan drive, as well as the great Red Cross war drive last Summer.

There are now but eight counties which have not reported to headquarters. They are Crook, Hood River, Jefferson, Lake, Lincoln, Polk, Tillamook and Douglas.

Union County is second with 3500 members and Coos County third, a tribute to the organizing ability of Louis J. Simpson, campaign manager. Coos County has 5030 members. Clatsop County takes fourth place with 3500 members, and other high counties are Harney, Gilliam, Curry and Wasco.

In fact, up to date, Eastern Oregon has "put it all over" Western Oregon, and campaigners are inclined to blame it, largely, to the weather.

One of the records of the campaign is reported by Dr. H. C. Fixott, chairman of the Multnomah County district, outside Portland. One small district lying between Parkrose and Rockwood reports 67 members, the number of the inhabitants, with the youngest member 6 months old and the oldest 70 years young.

Out at Riverdale Mrs. Amedee M. Smith reports 100 per cent results.

Seven hundred high school students have been commandeered by the Red Cross for Saturday, Monday and Tuesday for the campaign through the cooperation of the School Board and Superintendent L. R. Alderman. Ira L. Riggs presented the request of the Red Cross membership campaign and it was promptly granted.

Workers both in Portland and throughout the state dove into the campaign with vigor yesterday as the totals testify. And the announcement that Umatilla County is first over the top by more than making its quota is calculated to start a contest over the state.

When Roy Bishop, Umatilla County campaign manager, called up C. C. Chapman he had one hand on an adding machine and the other on the telephone. "We just this minute made our 7500," Bishop yelled. "Oh, hold the wire, Chapman."

Quota Exceeded by 150.

Chapman held the wire—Bishop was paying the long-distance tolls. Two or three minutes passed with just the click of the adding machine.

"Let 'er buck," then called Bishop. "We are 150 beyond our quota."

Town after town, Bishop reported, had more than reached its quota, one town, Helix, had doubled it. The county campaign has been carried on with speed and efficiency and has set an example to the state.

With $108 turned in the Red Cross booth at Lipman, Wolfe & Co. headed the booth total yesterday. Miss Eileen Yerex was in charge.

Misses Julia Duffey and Louise Allehoff at Olds, Wortman & King's made another fine record, totaling $100. Next in line came the Northwestern Bank booth, with $99, in charge of Miss Louise Hatfield. The booth total for the day was over $500.

A drive in "100 per cent" efficiency in Red Cross was reported by a large number of firms yesterday; "100 per cent" indicates that every employe has joined the Red Cross. Firms reporting yesterday, whether the memberships had been taken out as a Christmas present by the firm, or by the employes themselves were:

Troy Laundry, Palace Laundry, Pacific Grain Company, Kerr-Gifford Company, Northern Grain & Warehouse Company, International Harvester Company, T. W. Jenkins Grocery Company, Lacey & Co., Allen & Lewis, Neustadter Bros., Vogan Candy Company, P. J. Cronin & Co., George Lawrence, the Oregon Journal, the Portland Evening Telegram, Rasmussen & Co., Closset & Devers, Coin Machinery Manufacturing Company, Portland Knitting Company, Davidson Bakery, New York Bakery, Coast Culvert & Flume Company, Foster & Kleiser, Hazelwood Company, Front street; the Hart Cigar Company, Buffum & Pendleton, U. S. Rubber Company, U. S. Mattress & Pad Company, Federal Telegraph Company, Boyer Printing Company, Brownsville Woolen Mills Company, Storage Butter Company, Eastern Outfitting Company, Portland Emporium, Aronson & Co., Lipman, Wolfe & Co.; Sherman, Clay & Co.; Ben Selling, Fox Auto Top Company, Oldsmobile Company Log Cabin Bakery, Pacific Power & Light Company, office force; Russell & Gilbert, Albers Bros., Carlson Printing Company, the Mallory Hotel, the Rosenthal Shoestore, Walkover Boot Shop, City Dye Works, Irwin & Hodson, Bell & Co., the County Assessor's office and the following departments of the O.-W. R. & N. Company: General manager's office, traffic manager's office, general freight office, general passenger office, freight claim department, car service department, tax and right-of-way department, general claim department, general superintendent's department.

O.-W. R. & N. Men Behind Workers.

The heads of each of the departments of the O.-W. R. & N., from General Manager J. P. O'Brien down the line, acted as solicitors.

On the recommendation of President Farrell, several departments have volunteered the services of some of their young women clerks to "man" the booths at Union station and at the O.-W. R. & N. city ticket office, Third and Washington. Their names are:

Miss Cecile Morris, freight claim department; Miss Ive Henderson, general freight department; Miss Edith Altnow, auditor of passenger accounts; Miss Hannah Gerde, auditor of freight accounts; Miss Leslie Lyons, auditor of freight accounts; Miss Audrae Gentry, auditor of freight accounts.

Mrs. Rosemary Schenck, of Toledo, Or., has furnished Red Cross campaigners with a rare example of grit. Mrs. Schenck is county chairman of Lincoln County and at the outset there was a conflict over her appointment.

Starting over a week late, she was unable to enlist many men under the Red Cross banner. She perfected an organization almost exclusively of women. She went into the tiny precincts and some of them she could only reach by long-distance telephone. Roads are tied up by the storm, and every automobile in the county is laid up.

Mrs. Schenck—and, it may be said, state headquarters—did not expect a very fine showing, but Mrs. Schenck's intensive organization of every precinct is bringing results, and she reports every precinct will go over its allotment.

Her organization is by towns, school districts and precincts, and is said not to be equaled in the state.

Mrs. J. Leach, Harriet and Florence Leach, of 1056 Williams avenue, Portland, but now on the Orpheum circuit, wrote City Campaign Manager Holman from Lincoln, Neb., to enlist them in the Christmas membership drive and inclosed the necessary check therefor. Miss Harriet Leach sang at the dedication of the Columbia Highway.

"Bill" Strandborg Reports.

W. P. ("Bill") Strandborg went a-soliciting yesterday. Usually, when "Bill" is on a mission of that kind, he returns with scalps. But this time, this was his report, although it is true the cashier has a different story to tell of his activities:

It is a cruel world, and the truest words e'er spoke was:
Nobody loves a fat man.
Got insulted twice in different spots.
Got sympathized with four times.
Got mad five times.
Got a rise only twice.
Told to comb back five times, and don't think I can "come back" even once.
Had my shoulders cried on all day and am afraid of pneumonia.
My zeal is still untarnished and my spirit still burns with noble purpose. Yours truly,
BILL STRANDBORG.

Seattle's report that it was over the 60,000 mark in the city of Seattle alone was somewhat of a shock at campaign headquarters. It is believed that most of this total has been obtained by the Christmas gift membership for soldiers and sailors. Portland, too, is striving desperately to augment the city figures in the same manner. Here are the Portland contributors to this fund yesterday:

Max Hauser, $500; Fleischner, Mayer & Co., $200; Paul C. Bates, $150; M. L. Kline, $100; J. E. Wheeler, $100; L. R. Wheeler, $100; Neustadter Bros., $100; Guy W. Talbot, $100; Macleay Estate, $50; I. N. Fleischner, $50; Rasmussen & Co., $50; F. A. Spencer, $50; Dan J. Malarkey, $25; Bank of Kenton, $25; Emery Olmstead, $25; Fohes Supply Co., $25; Western Electric Co., $25; Pacific States Electric Co., $25; Stubbs Electric Co., $25; Westinghouse Electric Co., $25; Westinghouse Lamp Co., $25; Charles R. McCormick & Co., $25; Earl C. Bronaugh, $25; W. H. Beharrell, $25; Portland Shipbuilding Co., $25; Kaola Company, $25; R. J. Jubitz, $25; Henry Hewitt & Co., $25; A. O. Anderson & Co., $25; C. Hunt Lewis, $25; Zimmerman, Wells-Brown & Co., $25; Edward Cookingham, $25; Loggers & Contractors' Machinery Co., $25; J. C. Ainsworth, $25; C. F. Adams, $25; A. L. Mills, $25; D. Chambers & Son, $25.

Meetings Arranged for Today.

Seattle Red Cross 58,400.

SEATTLE, Dec. 20.—The Red Cross membership roll in Seattle has climbed to 58,400 during the campaign, according to reports made by workers today noon. As wires are down in many parts of the state, no state total has yet been made. R. R. Fox, state campaign manager, announced.

RED CROSS TO AUCTION HOG

Vancouver Women Will Hold Public Sale Next Saturday.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—A live hog, fat and ready for the block, has been donated to the Red Cross, to be sold at an auction sale to be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, by Mrs. G. W. Louden, who has four sons and her husband serving in the Army.

W. S. Wood and E. H. Wright will act as auctioneers at the sale of articles donated by residents of the city and county. Mr. Wood says that while Mrs. Hanley's famous pigs brought only enough money for her to reach Portland, the one to be sold here Saturday will bring a sufficient sum to carry a person to New York and return.

The proceeds will go to the American Red Cross.

BAKER WORKERS SUCCEEDING

Suspicious Persons Believe Malicious Rumors About Red Cross Drive.

BAKER, Or., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—While the returns for all the Baker County districts are not complete, it is stated tonight by Chairman Ellis that close to half of Baker's quota of 7000 has been secured. He said, however, that the workers were finding some opposition.

"I'm surprised," he said, "that there should be persons in Baker County who have no sympathy with the Red Cross workers. Still workers are finding a few that make such remarks as 'It is a graft,' 'the solicitors are getting 30 per cent' and 'I prefer autocracy to democracy.'"

Blind Students Aid Red Cross.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—The pupils of the State School for the Blind held a concert last night and netted $30, which they have turned over to the Red Cross. Bad weather kept down the attendance. Miss Marguerite Carney, of Portland, sang two groups of songs, which were well received. The pupils seemed so glad to be able to do their utmost for someone else and took their various parts in singing and playing unusually well.

Brakeman Held for Theft.

PASCO, Wash., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—C. C. Shaw, a Northern Pacific brakeman, was bound over today to the Superior Court in the sum of $300 to answer to the charge of stealing automobile tires from a merchandise car.

SAMUEL MAY IS HEARD

DEPOSED TEACHER GIVEN LITTLE SATISFACTION BY BOARD.

Former Instructor Now Has Twenty Days From December 14 to Appeal to Commission.

Samuel C. May, deposed team coach and teacher of civics at the Jefferson High School, gained little satisfaction from the members of the School Board yesterday when, with his attorney, Frederick H. Whitfield, he met with the directors in executive session. Details of the conference were not divulged, but it is known that the Board refused to recede from its position. This makes it necessary for Mr. May to take his case to the commission authorized by the teachers' tenure of office bill passed by the last Legislature.

After his altercation with a pupil, William Himple, 10 days ago, Mr. May was suspended by the Board. Mr. May now has 20 days from December 14 in which to file written notice with School Clerk Thomas and request for a hearing before the commission. When this written request has been filed the law provides that the instructor shall be given a hearing within 10 days.

Since his suspension Mr. May has declined to discuss the case or to intimate what action, if any, he will take looking to a hearing before the commission.

The members of the commission are: Guy C. H. Corliss, Alice Benson Beach and J. C. Olds. Their terms are appointive under the law and will expire January 1. The law provides that on the first Tuesday, after the first Monday, being January 8, the presiding judge of the Multnomah County Circuit Court shall appoint three commissioners to serve for the ensuing year.

NEWSY ESSAYISTS TO DINE

Friday Round Table Club Will Have Part of Host Today.

A big, satisfying dinner and jolly amusement features are to be enjoyed today noon by the 25 newsboys who participated in the essay contest conducted among them by the Friday round table of the Chamber of Commerce. The club will play the part of host today.

Round-table members said yesterday that Governor Withycombe is expected to accept the invitation to be present. Mayor Baker will be a guest and all members of the Chamber of Commerce will be welcomed.

The awards of prizes will be made. The winning essay on "How Portland May Be Made a Better City" will be read by the writer. Talks will be made by two other "newsies"; and a programme of vaudeville numbers will be presented.

Sproule Sees No Emergency.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific, testified today before the State Railroad Commission that no abnormal situation had arisen yet to necessitate co-ordination with other railroads.

Fathers of Soldiers to Meet.

Every father or foster father, whose boy has enlisted in the Army or Navy, is invited to attend a meeting that will be held at the Public Library at 8 o'clock tonight when a permanent organization of these relatives will be perfected for the purpose of looking after the material needs of the boys at home and abroad. A constitution and bylaws will be adopted and officers elected.
