"BIG TEN" SCHEDULE GRIDIRON CONTESTS

Michigan Will Play Chicago for First Time Since 1905, Is Announcement.

SOME GAMES TENTATIVE

Purdue and Illinois Each Arrange for Eight Games Next Season, While Michigan, Northwestern and Chicago Will Play 7.

The football coaches of the "Big Ten" conference threw a bombshell into the camp of gridiron followers at their recent schedule making meeting when they arganged a game between the universities of Michigan and Chicago to be played at Chicago, November 9. It will be the first time these old-time rivals have clashed since the memorable contests of 1905.

Some of the dates arranged are only tentative. Purdue and Illinois have each scheduled eight games; Michigan, Chicago and Northwestern will participate in seven battles each. Indiana has the least number of games scheduled, with three, one of which is tentative.

CHEESEMAKER WILL WRESTLE

Coquille Man Will Meet Nels Carlson of Portland and Astoria.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—The first sporting event of any note to be given in Marshfield or North Bend in the last three years is scheduled for Marshfield on Christmas, when M. G. Lutsey, the Coquille Cheesemaker, will contest with Nels Carlson, of Portland and Astoria, for the championship of Southern Oregon. Lutsey and Carlson met once in a 15-minute bout, but neither showed any advantage.

Arrangements have been made for three preliminary bouts between aspiring wrestlers, making a programme that is likely to last from two and a half to four hours.

ALEXANDER TO GET NOTHING

Philadelphia Chief Determined to Hang On to $50,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Grover Alexander, formerly star pitcher for the Philadelphia Nationals, recently sold to the Chicago Nationals with Catcher Killifer for $50,000, will receive no part of the purchase money, according to President William Baker.

"I see no reason why we should turn any of the money received for Alexander over to that player," said Baker.

RODGERS MAY LEAD SENATORS

Ex-Captain of Portland Beavers Is Mentioned by Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 20.—At a meeting of baseball men in this city this afternoon Charles Heeseman was chosen president of Sacramento's Pacific Coast League team and Charles Graham was elected secretary.

Bill Rodgers, of Portland, was mentioned as manager.

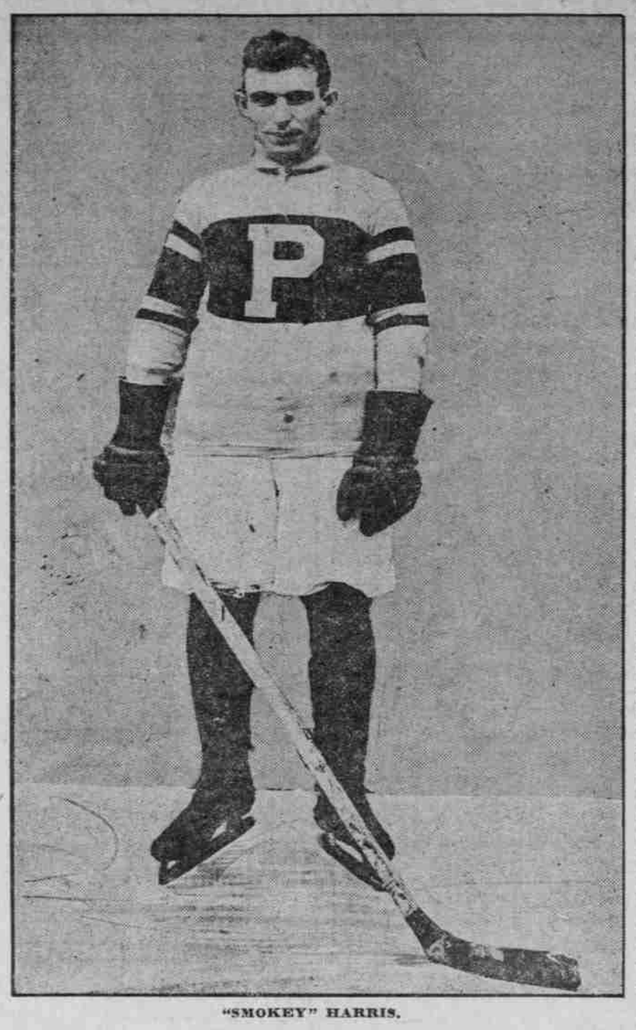
Ducks Leave Coos Bay.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—So few ducks are staying about Coos Bay that hunters have generally given up hunting. The first big storm of two weeks ago was the signal for all the early flights leaving and the bay for several days was almost devoid of fowl. The early flights consisted of widgeons, mallards, sprig, butterball, teal, but few bluebills or canvasbacks were bagged. Deputy Game Warden Thomas says there will yet be good hunting for the bluebills and canvasbacks are due and should have been here by December 1.

Morningstar Takes Lead.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 20.—Ora Morningstar, of this city, outplayed Welker Cochran, of Chicago, in two blocks of 18.2 balkline billiards here today and went into the lead 1200 to 1134 in the 1800-point match. The match will end tomorrow.

ICE HOCKEY STAR WHO IS REPORTED AS BEING "HOLDOUT."



"SMOKEY" HARRIS.

3 SEPTETS TO PLAY

Spokane Will Not Be in Hockey League This Season.

PLAYERS HARD TO FIND

President Patrick, of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, Announces That Portland, Seattle and Vancouver Will Contest.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 20.—Portland, Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., will be the only teams in the Pacific Coast Hockey League during the 1917-18 season, Frank Patrick, president of the league, announced here today.

Because of a shortage of players, Spokane will not be able to enter a team in the race. The season will open December 28 with Vancouver at Portland.

PORTLAND ROSEBUDS PRACTICE

Prospects Look Good for Locals in Coming Season.

The Portland Rosebuds enjoyed their first regular workout of the season last night when Manager Bryan sent the hockeyists through one and a half hours of strenuous drilling at the Ice Palace.

Eddie Oatman was on the ice for the first time since his arrival from Otterville, Canada, and the way he chased the puck up and down the ice and made accurate shots at the net surprised the spectators. Oatman has lost none of the cunning and speed which characterized his wonderful playing of two seasons ago.

The star rover showed a bit of excess weight last night, but expects to be in condition within the next two or three days. Oatman has the rover's job clinched and stands a good chance of being appointed captain. Manager Bryan would be wise to select Oatman to lead the team.

"Smokey" Harris, although still a holdout on the salary question, reports for practice each night and has been showing his old-time form. When it comes to handling opposing players in a rather rough fashion you have to take your hat off to "Smokey." This lad is one of the most rugged players in the business and can stand more rough housing than any player on the team. Last season a number of the visiting teams tried to put Portland's star left wing "hors-de-combat," but Harris always came out victor.

Manager Bryan will have a talk with Harris on the salary question within the next day or so and it is expected they will come to some definite agreement. It is to be hoped that Harris will be in the lineup when Vancouver comes here to open the season, December 28.

According to Manager Bryan, Clem O'Laughlin has not yet left Winnipeg for Portland. According to the latest word Bryan has received from Clem, the defense player intended to leave immediately, but Bryan says O'Laughlin has not yet taken up his transportation.

From the way Al Barbour is performing each night Manager Bryan need not worry much whether O'Laughlin comes to the Coast or not. Barbour is playing a wonderful game at right defense, and his work has made an impression with the fans, and all the players say he will be a hard man to beat out of the position he is now playing.

That combination appears to be the class of the league and, barring serious accidents, ought to be a sure pennant winner.

As long as the teams put up a fast and interesting game Portland fans will turn out for the games.

CANADIAN AMATEURS WARNED

Hockey Teams Advised to Be Careful Who They Play.

The directors of the Eastern Canada Amateur Hockey Association, the governing body of ice hockey in the East, have warned the Canadian amateur teams under what conditions they can play hockey at Pittsburg, Cleveland, Detroit and other American centers.

When the Royal Canadians, of Ottawa, arranged a match with the Pittsburg Athletic Association team some time ago, they were notified by the governing body that they must not compete against Pittsburg until the standing of the players was investigated.

Secretary Melville, of the Canadian body, telegraphed to A. W. Moeller, secretary of the International Skating Union of the United States, which body controls amateur hockey, regarding the standing of the Pittsburg club and was strongly advised not to allow any of the Canadian clubs to compete against them, as their standing was doubtful, none of the players being registered.

John T. Taylor, secretary of the Pennsylvania branch of the Amateur Athletic Union, also notified Secretary Melville that the standing of the Pittsburg club was doubtful.

The Ottawa team evidently adjusted matters, because it played Pittsburg and was unable to break a 2-2 tie.

CAMP LEWIS ELEVEN NAMED

Men Who Will Go to Pasadena to Meet Marines Are Chosen.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—Soldiers of the 91st Division, who will attempt to defeat the Mare Island Marines' eleven and wipe out the defeat administered in the Tacoma Stadium, were picked today.

Tomorrow night, after an address by Brigadier-General J. A. Irons, camp commander, and other officers, the squad will start south for the battle at Pasadena on New Year's day. The men feel fit, they have been working at top speed and have taken the best care of themselves.

Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion of the world, now boxing instructor at Camp Lewis, will accompany the team south, as will head Coach Lieutenant W. L. Stanton, Colonel W. H. Jordan, coach, and Dr. R. A. Babcock, physician, and Lieutenant H. A. Mallum, director of publicity.

Here are the men who will go: Lieutenant W. A. Russel, Lieutenant Dinon Kapple, Lieutenant G. J. Gard, Sergeant Harry Green, Sergeant F. P. Hunter, Lieutenant A. L. Christensen, Private McKay, Private W. C. Snyder, Sergeant W. K. Bartlett, Private T. O. Monteith, Sergeant W. F. McKinney, Private Sam Cook, Private C. J. Quill, Private R. D. MacRae, Acting Sergeant C. D. Lane, Lieutenant E. H. Lynch, Lieutenant C. E. Turner, Private A. T. Frolich, Corporal E. L. Romney, Acting Corporal E. E. Gougar, Lieutenant H. J. Craig, Private Hollywood, Private Roy Sharpe, Corporal Edgar Kienholz, Privates Hastings, Dee and Dear.

WRESTLERS TO GET BLOCK "O"

Oregon Matmen Will Not Have Tryouts Until After Holidays.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Dec. 20.—(Special.)—In line with the ruling of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference, at its meeting in San Francisco early in the month, making wrestling a major sport, the constitution of the associated students of the university has been amended, and hereafter awards for the mat sport will take the form of a block "O," the official major sport letter. A letter, however, is granted only to those men who win their match in an intercollegiate contest and this year the Oregon team will have but one meet, with Oregon Agricultural College, some time in February.

Tryouts for the team will not be held until after the Christmas holidays.

Brady to Give Sale Proceeds Away.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Proceeds from the sale at auction in this city on December 27 of James Cox Brady's 20 show horses, representing an investment of approximately $30,000, will be turned over to the American Red Cross, under instructions given by Mr. Brady. The sale will include hunters and harness horses, several of which are blue ribbon winners.

BOUTS ON TONIGHT

Main Event Is Between Rivers and Benjamin.

ANDERSON BOXES WAGNER

Portland Fighter Hopes to Defeat Canadian—Brandon Is Scheduled to Meet Edwards and Allen Will Oppose Taylor.

TONIGHT'S BOXING CARD.
Joe Rivers vs. Joe Benjamin, 135 pounds.
Harry Anderson vs. Jack Wagner, 135 pounds.
George Brandon vs. Danny Edwards, 118 pounds.
Jack Allen vs. Roscoe Taylor, 133 pounds.
Joe Hoff vs. Ted Hoke, 125 pounds.
Time—8:30.
Place — Eleventh-Street Playhouse.

All roads for boxing followers will lead to the Eleventh Street Playhouse tonight, where Joe Rivers, one of the country's most famous lightweights, will meet Joe Benjamin, of Portland, in a scheduled six three-minute round main event. Rivers and Benjamin have trained hard for the match and are in good condition. Rivers has met all of the best lightweights in the United States with the exception of "Irish" Patsy Cline, and he expects to beat the Portland lightweight. Benjamin appears full of confidence and says that he will show the fans that he is a real contender and is entitled to the lightweight championship of the Pacific Coast.

Rivers went through some light gymnasium exercises yesterday and will take things easy today. Rivers has several matches in view in Seattle and Tacoma before he goes back to California. The Mexican is angling for a position as boxing instructor at Fort Dodge, N. M., and may be called to the colors any time now. The winner of tonight's contest may meet Alex Trambitas here January 11.

The semi-final between Harry Anderson, lightweight champion of Canada, and Jack Wagner, the fast coming Portland lightweight, is attracting a good deal of attention. Wagner has progressed fast of late. Anderson is one of the best lightweights on the Coast. Now that he has a chance at a real boxer Wagner can see nothing but a victory. Anderson, as usual, has not had much to say, but has been training hard and expects to win.

George Brandon will clash with Danny Edwards in the special event, which promises to be a fast bout.

Each boy wants a chance at Billy Mascott for the bantamweight championship of the Northwest and the winner probably will be matched with Mascott. Brandon and Edwards will fight at 118 pounds.

Every card is designed to have a slam-bang battle on it, and in this case it is Jack Allen vs. Roscoe Taylor. Jack and Roscoe usually mix from gong to gong when they box.

Joe Hoff will meet Ted Hoke in the curtain-raiser. The Boxing Commission will choose a referee at the ringside.

MAZAMAS TO MAKE HIKE

PARTY WILL GO TO ASCHOFF'S FARM AT MARMOT, OR.

Dance Also Will Be Feature and Big Dinner Will Be Enjoyed by Members of Club.

The Mazamas announce one of their biggest events of the Winter to take place during the Christmas holidays. The scene of the festivities will be the Aschoff farm, at Marmot, Or., where the hikers will spend the better part of two days, leaving Portland at noon, December 29, and returning late Sunday night, December 30.

The outdoor enthusiasts will leave the city on the electric train for Bull Run, a picturesque spot in the Sandy River Canyon, 31 miles to the southeast of Portland. From here they will hike seven miles through the mountains to Marmot, where the big Aschoff farmhouse is located. After supper an entertainment will be presented by the city pilgrims, winding up in a dance. The Mazamas will take their own orchestra.

The night will be spent at the Aschoff place, which has, upon occasion, accommodated 200 guests. The next day, Sunday, hikes will be enjoyed through the big timber and the picturesque surrounding country. Marmot is usually snow covered at this time of the year, so snow sports will also probably be enjoyed on Sunday.

A big dinner will be served in the afternoon, and later the crowd will hike back to Bull Run in time to catch the 6:15 train for Portland.

The Aschoff place has always been a most popular spot with the Mazamas. Every year two or three small side-trips have been made there, and annually a scheduled trip is announced for the club members and their friends.

Expenses of the trip are exceptionally moderate. The round-trip fare to Bull Run is $1. The night's lodging at the Aschoff place will be 50 cents per person and meals will be 35 cents each, including the big spread Sunday. The only other charge is the regular 5-cent fee collected alike from Mazama members and guests on each trip without exception.

Instead of being in chrage of a single leader, this trip will be under the auspices of the local walks committee, as it is of such general interest. A. Boyd Williams is chairman of the committee, and further information may be obtained from him or by telephoning Mazama headquarters, Marshall 1400.

Three parties will leave Portland Saturday afternoon on the trip. Trains leave First and Alder streets at 12:45, 3:45 and 5:55 P. M.

Lefts and Rights.

The boxers at Camp Lewis are out of luck as far as making any money on the side by boxing is concerned. Brigadier-General Irons issued an order the other day stating that hereafter no one in the Army stationed at Camp Lewis would be allowed to accept any money for boxing. A number of the boys had been annexing a few dollars by boxing in Seattle and Tacoma.

The order prohibiting them from taking money for boxing is pronounced unfair by those who have been reaping the profits, although from the standpoint of the soldier-spectator, with a salary of $30 a month, it will be a benefit, since now he will be able to see fights in camp for 10 cents or nothing, where formerly outside of camp it cost him 50 cents and more.

Complaint, however, is registered at what is regarded as favoritism in high quarters at permitting such well-known fighters as Benny Leonard, and others in the service, to leave camp and box any time they desire. Boxers in camp, who happen to be privates and less known, declare that the order should apply equally.

Ted Lewis, welterweight champion of the world, won a decision over Bryan Downey, after 12 rounds of fast milling in Columbus, O., the other night.

* * *

Eddie Campi and Lee Johnson were scheduled to box four rounds in the main event of a boxing show at Emeryville, Cal., which is just out of Oakland, Wednesday night. After two rpunds of hugging and stalling the referee took pity on the crowd and threw the boxers out, calling it no contest. Neither boy showed any inclination to fight. A referee stopped a bout in San Francisco recently and all of the Oakland papers gave the game in San Francisco a good panning. Now it will be the San Francisco papers' turn to go after Oakland.

* * *

Al Sommers, middleweight champion of the Northwest, has started training for his 10-round bout with Billy George in Bend next Monday night.

* * *

Eddie McGoorty, the Oskoosh, Wis., middleweight who has fought everyone of prominence at his weight in the world, arrived in San Francisco from Australia a few days ago. Eddie fought a number of battles while in the Antipodes, including two with the late Les Darcy.

FRESHMEN TO CONTEST

SEPARATE ATHLETICS FOR MEN OF FIRST YEAR PLANNED.

Basketball Now Occupies Attention of New-Termers at the University of Oregon.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Dec. 20.—(Special.)—Freshman athletics at Oregon will be maintained separate from varsity sports, since Oregon is a member of the Pacific Coast conference, which bars first-year men from membership on varsity teams.

This does not mean that freshman athletics are to be frowned upon at Oregon, however. The university is doing everything within its power to encourage the first-year men to put teams into the field in every line of college sport. Separate schedules are arranged for them, and the student council has provided that numerals be given to those who make the freshman teams.

Basketball is now occupying the attention of the babes, and Coach Walker's call for candidates has been answered by a score of material of such caliber that the mentor is having difficulty in selecting a five.

Star, of last year's Monmouth High School team, appears to be the most likely candidate for the center position, while Jacobberger, from Columbia University, and Durno, who received his prep training in Silverton High School, show the most promise as forwards.

Picking two guards from among the 15 who are seeking the positions is not a simple task. Indications are that these berths will be filled from among the following: Hollenbeck, from the Vancouver, Wash., High School; Ellis, a Dallas lad, who is showing considerable speed; Mautz, a Washington High husky; Blake, Ione High School; Chapman, who saw four years of interscholastic basketball with Marshfield; Leslie, of Coquille, and Gamble, who made a name for himself in Portland High School circles while playing with Lincoln.

MANY TO TRY FOR TURKEYS

Entries in Golf Club Handicap for Saturday and Sunday Numerous.

Dr. W. I. Northrup, chairman of the Portland Golf Club handicap committee, is busy receiving entries for the turkey tournament, next Saturday and Sunday. From indications there will be an unusually large number of golfers out trying to land one or more gobblers for Christmas dinner.

There will be no limit to the number of turkeys a player may win, because Dr. Northrup announces members can enter as often as they wish, provided they pay the 50 cents entrance fee.

Dr. Roller Throws Finn.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—In the international catch-as-catch can wrestling tournament here tonight, five finish matches were decided as follows: Hans Fuerst of Switzerland threw Hans Assam, of Cuba, 13:50; Yousoff Hussane, of the Balkans, defeated Charles Pospishil, of Bohemia, 11:42; Sula Hevonpaa, of Finland, threw Henry Vogel, of Saxony, 12:47; Dr. B. F. Roller, of Seattle, threw Fred Pilakoff, of Finland, 31:14; Ed ("Strangler") Lewis, of Lexington, Ky., threw George Manich, of Serbia, 5:37.

EXPLOSION KILLS 11 MINERS

Cause of Disaster Near Nemo, Tenn., Remains in Doubt.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 20.—Eleven miners were killed in an explosion in Mine No. 3, of the Dour Coal & Coke Company at Catoosa, near Nemo, Tenn., late Wednesday afternoon, according to word reaching here today. Seventy-five were in the mine at the time.

Whether the explosion resulted from a gas pocket becoming ignited or from the premature discharge of a keg of powder in the mine is not known.

Chicago Broker Killed by Fall.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Harry C. Moore, a broker in imitation butter, jumped or fell from the fifth-story window of his hotel today and was killed. His wife said that he had been ill for the last two weeks and had fits of somnambulism.

BROWN HAS PLAN

Community Owned Baseball Aggregations Advocated.

FANS URGED AS OWNERS

Vancouver Club's President Suggests That With Several Hundred Supporters, More Interest in Game Would Result.

Community owned ball clubs will be the salvation of the great American pastime, in the opinion of President Bob Brown, of the Vancouver baseball club, and winner of half a dozen Northwestern League pennants since he first started piloting clubs in this section of the country.

President Brown is going to follow in the steps of President Rickey, of the St. Louis Nationals, and give every fan in his city a chance to become a magnate. If other clubs throughout the country would do the same baseball would become the greatest pastime of the age, declares the Vancouver official.

"I am convinced that a community owned baseball club will prove the salvation of the game," declared Brown in discussing the situation. "Whether the time will come when all clubs are operated on the same basis as the St. Louis National League club I decline to hazard a guess, but I believe that the interests of the game will be served by giving everyone interested in baseball a chance to invest and take more than a passing interest in the game.

If it is at all possible I intend to introduce the community owned baseball plan in Vancouver next season. The Northwestern League, with Portland a member, promises to be one of the best minor organizations in minor league baseball. If we are successful in getting a class A rating, Northwestern League fans will be provided with a brand of ball not excelled by any other class A organization in the country. With better baseball I believe the fans will take more interest in the game if they are given a chance to take an interest in the individual club. The community owned baseball club will insure keener competition and it is what we want in minor league baseball."
