ODAY we are on the threshold of a new year. Although affairs of momentous character confront the Nation, the American people, mindful of such, are steeled to the duties and sacrifices which will be resultant in victory. Every situation will be met with a determination that will win in the face of all obstacles:

Confident of the future as it has always been; this pioneer institution believes there is no better time than the present to give proof of this attitude: Facts and figures indicate an industrial and general progress everywhere. Things are being speeded up to the maximum:

Earnest and sincere in its desire to aid and encourage legitimate business, the Ladd & Tilton Bank, oldest in the Northwest, with full confidence in the community and its future, invites consideration of the facilities, organization and experience which places it in such an admirable position to serve.
