SONS OF E. A. WYLD IN DIFFERENT BRANCHES OF SERVICE.

One in Engineers, Second Is on Submarine Chaser and Youngest Lieutenant in Infantry.

Bank of Portland, have put on the uniform of National service.

Henry William Wyld, eldest of the trio, 29 years old, enlisted early in December and is on his way to Camp Mead, where he will join his regiment, the 22d Engineers. Prior to his enlistment he was engaged in railway contracting.

Gerrard G. L. Wyld, 26 years old.

sought for the thrill and spicy action of one of the most adventurous branches of naval service. He enlisted with the division known as the "submarine chasers," the diminutive, seaworthy motorboats that were especially designed to nunt and narry Prussign U-boats. Since November he has been in training in Philadelphia. At the time of his enlistment he was employed by the First National Bank.
E. A. Wyld, Jr., 23 years old, holds a commission as Second Lieutenant with the 155th Depot Brigade, stationed at Camp Lewis. He is a graduate of the first officers' training at Presidio, and was employed, to enlistment, in the First National Bank. - The three brothers were educated in this city, and with university courses at Victoria, B. C.
