DRIVE OF KNIGHTS GAINS MOMENTUM

With Present Indications It Is Expected That Portland Will Pass $50,000 Quota.

CASH CONTRIBUTIONS BIG

Estimates Place Only 10 Per Cent of Gifts to Cause in Pledges. Residence Districts Give Between $5000 and $10,000.

It will be "over the top" for the Knights of Columbus war fund drive today if the same industry which has marked the campaign day and night since it opened is maintained. When the turn-in by teams and captains and miscellaneous solicitors is made at 7 o'clock tonight at headquarters in the Morgan building, the managers will know where the drive stands.

At 18:30 o'clock last night official figures were given out, showing that a total of $42,356.75 had been collected, leaving a balance to be subscribed today of $7629.25.

day of $100.25.
At noon today the town will be wide open for all solicitors and teams will no longer be confined to certain territors. Senator I N. Day, who has been the driving force of the campaign, declares that the $55,000 quota of Portland can be raised if the workers keep up their past performances. There has been a long list of good names compiled by Messra. Day, Gay W. Talbot, John E. Cronan, J. C. English, J. N. Casey, J. F. Duly and others and these lists will be distributed among energetic solicitors today. The list consists of people who have not yet been approached. If the workers can meet the people on these lists, thousands of dollars will be collected.

A number of contributors have pledged themselves to a specific monthly amount for the durstion of the war, and in tabulating the receipts it is impossible to estimate what such an individual contribution will aggregate. Other drives have demonstrated that the average piedge is as good as gold, a very small percentage being defaulted.

Cash has rolled in from the residence district, which has been covered in a house-to-house canvass. Indications point to between $8000 and $10,000 from the residence district. South Portland, Upper Albina, Irvington and Sunnyside appear to have made the largest re-aponse, but there is not a district, even the most remote, that has not given a substantial return to the women work-

The drive took a new turn yesterday, when the industrial plants were made the object of the noon offensive. Some thundred girls followed up their work of the day before, and, with chaperones and speakers, visited the shipbuilders, distributing pledge cards. The result in the industries was reported as satisfactory and it is known that many pledge cards are to be turned in today by the workmen through their foremen. As in other drives, the problem of meeting the men in the industries has been rather difficult, for it is impossible to reach more than a small percentage.

One interesting substitute which should be better known is a vegetarian meat. It is sold in cans, and its contents are largely ground nuts and soy, but both in flavor and in texture it closely resembles finely chopped meat. A pound of this mixture costs no more than one pound of chuck or flank, but it will go as far as three pounds of meat. It contains no waste of bone or gristle or fat, for the entire pound is edible and is solid nutriment. It can be sliced and fried like Hamburg steak, t it may be rousted or baked in a loaf

We should also try to use more of the "fish steaks." There is no shortage of fish, and as it is one of the foods diffi-cult to transport, we need have no hesitancy in using up all we care to, be-cause we are not depriving those abroad of this food.

WAR PICTURES PROMISED

In the Superfluity Shop, 106 Fifth street, there is new activity. Official British war pictures, loaned by C. S. Greaves, will be exhibited within a week on the second floor under the direction of Miss Henrietta Falling and miss Anna B. Crocker, of the Portland Art Museum. The collection is rare and Portland is fortunate to secure it.

Mr. Greaves has a request from the Canadian government to loan the pictures to their recruiting offices through the country, but decided to allow the American Red Cross to exhibit them here first.
