CLUB PLANNED FOR MEN IN ARMY-NAVY

Representative of So-Called Fosdick Commission Arrives in Portland.

OBJECTS ARE SET FORTH

Charles Lloyd Points Out Need in This City of Having Place for Those in Service to Go Where They Can Feel at Home.

A clubhouse in Portland for the exclusive use of soldiers and sailors is among the plans of Charles Lloyd, of San Francisco, who has arrived in Portland to organize the work here of the so-called Fosdick Commission. Other plans of the commission include a series of lectures for, and studies by the soldiers and sailors in all academic subjects in which they may be interested, as well as home entertainments for the boys in service.

"You shouldn't call it the Fosdick Commission," said Mr. Lloyd yesterday, speaking of the organization which he represents. "You are really talking about the War Department and Navy Department Commissions on Training Camp Activities, of which Raymond B. Fosdick is chairman. This commission has turned over to the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus the responsibility for looking out for the soldiers' spare time inside the Army camps, and to the Playground and Recreation Association of America the care of the spare time of the soldiers outside the Army camps, or in other words, in the towns and cities near the camps.

Entertainment to Be Provided.

"It is the work of this association to see that the soldier is given the opportunity to make an enjoyable, and at the same time decent use of his spare time when he comes to town. For this purpose it is building clubhouses, arranging regular high school and college courses for the soldiers, and enlisting people in the plan of taking soldiers into their homes where they can meet the right kind of girls and grown folks.

"It is planned to build one of these clubhouses in Portland, where there will be pool and billiards and other games, and a gymnasium and shower baths. The Y. M. C. A. already has offered the boys in uniform all these things in its building here, but it cannot make the boys take advantage of its invitation to the extent that they should."

Mr. Lloyd took pains to explain that the commission is not competing, but co-operating with the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus.

"We want the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus to do all they can," he said, "and if necessary will get behind them and help them do more, but there also is work for the commission to do which the other organizations cannot do. Many of the soldiers, being merely human, feel exceedingly sensitive about 'sponging,' and although the whole front of the Y. M. C. A. building is covered with a sign that says, 'Soldiers and sailors welcome,' many of the boys hesitate about accepting the privileges offered, and crowding out others who are paying for what they enjoy.

"On the other hand, if the soldiers and sailors have a clubhouse of their own, which is exclusively for their use, they will have no hesitation at all about going in and enjoying everything that is offered to the "ullest extent."

Headquarters Is Opened.

The local committee in charge of this branch of the war work of the commission has opened headquarters in Room 204 Northwestern Bank building, where all activities for the time will be centralized. Mr. Lloyd's function as the direct representative of the commission in Washington, will be to organize and direct the energy already existent here. He says he will remain in Portland as long as necessary, from one month to six.

CAMAS RECALL FILED

PETITIONS FILED FOR ELECTION TO OUST MAYOR CLARK.

Business Men of Town Charge City Executive With Refusal to Enforce Laws or Do Other Duties.

CAMAS, Wash., Jan. 20.—(Special.)—Petitions calling for a special election to recall O. T. Clark, Socialist Mayor of Camas, were filed yesterday with the City Clerk. The number of signatures on the petitions is equivalent to 72 per cent of the votes cast at the last city election. Thirty-five per cent is required for a recall.

The charge of malfeasance or misfeasance while in office was signed by 40 business men and representative citizens and consists "in his failure to have the laws and ordinances of the city of Camas enforced and in appointing and keeping in office a chief of police and a police force who have failed to perform their duties and have neglected and refused to enforce the laws, suppress public tumults, suppress disturbances of the peace and resistance against the laws, and that said Mayor and chief of police have connived and joined in public tumults, unlawful assemblies and disturbances of the peace in violation of his public duty as a public official."

Mayor Clark's term of office expires January 1, 1919. He was employed by the Crown Willamette Paper Company prior to the paper mill strike in October. A few days after the strike was called about 15 strikers were appointed as deputy marshals. Several disturbances occurred and a number of men and boys working in the mill were attacked by strikers or their sympathizers without interference from the marshals."

The business men called for assistance. A number of deputy sheriffs were sent from Vancouver and several arrests were made for unlawful assemblies. Picketing was stopped and conditions were quiet for a time until last week, when five women who had been active in labor disturbances were appointed as deputy marshals. A storm of protest followed this action and a determination to take a decided stand in the matter resulted in a meeting of the Camas Commercial Club in special sessions. The club organized and financed the movement for a recall.

Windjammers Load Sugar.

HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 20.—(Special.)—With several sailing vessels, part of the United States Shipping Board fleet, in port loading sugar, Honolulu harbor has taken on the appearance familiar 20 years ago, when it was the port for the big fourmasters of the Pacific. It is expected that the bulk of the Hawaiian sugar crop this year will be carried to the mainland by sailing ships, the steamers having enough cargo of other kinds to fill their holds.

Pacific Coast Shipping Notes.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 20.—(Special.)—The steamer Beaver sailed during the night for San Francisco and San Pedro, carrying freight and passengers from Portland and Astoria. The steamer was delayed in the river several hours by a heavy fog.

The steam schooner E. H. Meyer sailed today for San Francisco, loaded with lumber from Knappton and Westport.

The steam schooner Prentiss sailed today for San Francisco with lumber from Knappton.

The steam schooner Santiam sailed today for San Pedro, carrying lumber from the Hammond mill.

Partly loaded with lumber from St. Helens for San Francisco, the motor schooner Erris shifted to the local harbor during the night, and will sail tomorrow or Tuesday.

The motor schooner Astoria, lumber laden from Portland for Sydney, is awaiting the arrival of a portion of her crew before going to sea.

The steam schooner J. B. Stetson arrived today from San Francisco, carrying freight for Portland.

The tank steamer Atlas arrived today with barge No. 91 in tow. She carried oil for Astoria and Portland.

The schooner Lottie Bennett shifted this morning to St. Johns, where she will load lumber.

The steam schooners Klamath and Tiverton will be due tonight from San Francisco.

After discharging fuel oil in Astoria and Portland, the tank steamer Oleum sailed for California today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 20.—(Special.)—Following the reported seizure of a private yacht from its German owner on the Atlantic Coast, it was learned today that local naval officials have traced a number of small vessels owned by unnaturalized Austrian subjects in California and have requested authority from Washington to take them over. While the Government has declared a lenient policy towards Austria, naval officers here are of the opinion that these boats should be commandeered at once.

The vessels in port are of small tonnage and several of them are used in fishing operations. While apparently harmless, they prove a menace to the secrecy of marine movements, and, if taken over, will be a valuable adjunct to naval activities on the Pacific coast.

The steamer F. A. Kilburn, which put back in port with engine troubles the other day, for the fourth time in as many weeks, cleared for Portland late Saturday night in another attempt to make her regular trip.

The steamer Iris, of the Matson Steamship Company, cleared for Honolulu today with a heavy general cargo.

The winds Saturday were blowing in opposite directions along the coast north and south of San Francisco. Vessels arriving today from both up and down the coast were delayed from 12 to 19 hours by head winds, according to reports made by their captains.

The steamer Rose City was 12 hours late coming from San Pedro and the steamer Girlie Mahony was 16 hours late from the same port, while the steamer Avalon, coming down the coast from Grays Harbor was 19 hours behind time.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Jan. 20.—(Special.)—Puget Sound tug Tyee, with lumber barge in tow, entered port this morning at 7 to transport lumber from Smith Mill to San Francisco.

The steam schooner Westerner arrived this morning from San Francisco at 8, loading full cargo white cedar ties for shipment south.
