1918 BUDGET IS LESS

Estimate of Expenditures Submitted for Approval.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN SOON

Roadmaster Yeon's Recommendations Held Up Pending Investigation by Commission—Improvements Planned for Year.

Road work in Multnomah County during the current year will cost $82,000 less than during 1917, according to the working budget prepared by Roadmaster Yeon and submitted to the County Commissioners yesterday for their approval. The budget approval was withheld until the Commissioners can make an investigation of the recommendations, but it is probable that definite action will be taken tomorrow morning.

The total amount sought for road work this year is placed at $594,150 in Mr. Yeon's budget. The amount spent last year was $586,338, according to his annual report, which was submitted with his 1918 road budget. Of the amount spent last year, $84,706.21 was used for the Columbia River Highway, while an appropriation of but $10,000 for maintenance is sought for the present year. Another $10,000 is requested for the maintenance of the Vista House.

With his 1917 report and estimated budget for 1918, Mr. Yeon submitted his recommendations for deputy roadmaster, engineer and accountant, but the confirmation of these appointments was held up by Rufus Holman, chairman, who said he desired a little time to make an investigation.

Mr. Yeon recommended the appointment of H. B. Chapman as deputy roadmaster; P. W. Marx as engineer, and D. W. Stoddard as accountant. All three men have been connected with his office during the past year, Mr. Chapman taking the place of Deputy Roadmaster Knowles, who recently won a Lieutenant's commission in the engineering corps of the Army. Despite the refusal of Chairman Holman to confirm these appointments, it was announced by Mr. Yeon that the work would continue until such time as the appointments are confirmed. This may possibly mean that the appointments must await the return of Commissioner Holbrook from California.

Chief among the road improvements planned for this year are the macadamizing of the Bertha-Beaverton road, which has been sought for some time; the paving of East Eighty-second street a distance of four miles; the relocation and macadamizing of the Slavin road and the macadamizing of the Columbia boulevard from the Sandy road to the city limits.

In his annual report of work accomplished last year it is shown that $84,706.21 was spent on the Columbia Highway, including $52,590 used in the Vista House construction.

The road work in the six districts of the county will be divided as follows, according to the budget submitted by Mr. Yeon:

District No. 1	$ 75,000
District No. 2	139,500
District No. 3	127,000
District No. 4	57,900
District No. 5	20,000
District No. 6	21,250
Miscellaneous	63,500
Total	$504,150

GIRLS VISIT POLYTECHNIC

LINCOLN HIGH STUDENTS MAKE PILGRIMAGE TODAY.

Cooking Classes Entertain With Samples of Delicious Refreshments Prepared in School Kitchens.

Today will be the last day for the graduating classes from grammar schools to visit the Polytechnic School for Girls. The girls of the schools in the Lincoln High district will inspect the Polytechnic School, and Miss Anna E. Arnold, the principal, and her teachers and assistants will receive the young visitors.

Yesterday the girls graduating in the schools of the Jefferson district visited all the various departments of industry represented and expressed surprise and delight when they saw what the students are doing. In the cooking classes the visitors were treated to samples of delicious refreshments prepared by the girls of the polytechnic schools.

James John and Franklin High School districts were represented in the visitors of Friday, and Washington on Thursday. To all of the girls who called, Miss Arnold explained that those wishing vocational training may attend the Polytechnic High School for two years, be graduated and receive two years' credit in the other high schools, attend, them for two years more and finish with the usual credits and honors.

The 20 teachers and the students in the different classes will be seen at the regular work today and will all assist in entertaining the girls who call to inspect and gather information.

The millinery class for those who wish to make Spring bonnets is receiving many new applicants. The classes are free to matrons as well as girls, irrespective of age or financial standing.

The Boys' and Girls' Polytechnic Schools both will hold graduating exercises in Couch School Friday.

WOMEN TO HOLD LUNCHEON

Future of Portland Will Be Discussed by Several Speakers.

The Portland Woman's Research Club will hold a luncheon at the Multnomah Hotel at noon tomorrow, when addresses will be delivered by a number of prominent men. Mrs. Lee Davenport will act as chairman.

The speakers will include Judge Henry McGinn, John McCourt, Governor Withycombe, Mayor George L. Baker, Bishop Sumner and Father O'Hara. The discussion will be along the line of "What Can We Do to Make Portland a Better Town to Live In?" It is expected that several hundred interested citizens will be present at the luncheon. Mr. McElroy will furnish music.

Mrs. Davenport has arranged for a "get-acquainted" meeting to precede the luncheon. This will be held at 11:30. The luncheon will start at 12 o'clock. The charge will be 60 cents a plate.

WAR AUXILIARY IS FORMED

O.-W. R. & N. Men to Contribute for Fellow Employes in Service.

Employes and officers of the O.-W. R. & N. Company have formed a war auxiliary in recognition of the fact that more than 400 fellow employes have joined the colors. A canvass of the entire line will be made to enlist the support of every employe and officer in the work.

An outline of the plan, presented to J. D. Farrell, president of the company, says:

"Knowing that these boys have left comfortable homes, and perhaps dependents, and endeavoring to appreciate as far as possible the sacrifices they are personally making for their country and for us, we propose the creation of a fund by popular subscription among the employes to furnish them some of the comforts, necessities and perhaps a few of the luxuries which the regulations of the Army and Navy do not include."

President Farrell has approved the plan and appointed C. E. Cochran, C. G. Sutherland, F. W. Robinson, R. Blaisdell and J. F. Graham as a committee to administer the fund.

AVIATION SURGEON DUE

G. H. CRABTREE WILL INSPECT RECRUITING STATION.

Physical Tests for Applicants Begun Yesterday—50 Report From Seattle.

Lieutenant-Colonel G. H. Crabtree, chief surgeon of the aviation section of the Signal Corps, is expected to arrive in Portland today from San Francisco, for an inspection of the newly opened recruiting station of this Army branch. Members of the Signal Corps Board, who are investigating possible sites for a new flying school, are expected to accompany Colonel Crabtree here, stopping briefly before continuing their tour to other points.

Between 75 and 100 young men, states Captain Louis Levy, who has established the examining board for Portland in 610 Stevens building, have been listed through the Seattle station for examination here. About 50 of these have already reported. The physical tests for applicants were begun yesterday.

"I don't want any young men to get the idea that we are here to examine only those who had previously filed applications," said Captain Levy. "We want new men to come in. While qualifications for entrance into the aviation section are set fairly high, the examinations are not nearly so rigid as many think."

BOY SCOUTS MAKE GOOD

YOUNGSTERS ARE ACTING AS JUVENILE GAME WARDENS.

Valuable Service Rendered in Enforcing Laws of State, Says Carl D. Shoemaker, Chief Official.

Boy Scouts are doing an important work throughout the state and particularly in the vicinity of Portland as juvenile game wardens, according to Carl D. Shoemaker, State Game Warden. In fact, Mr. Shoemaker believes that if the Boy Scouts were not assisting in the work it would be practically impossible this year to effectively enforce the game laws.

"Because of the young hunters and fishermen who have gone to war or will go this year," Mr. Shoemaker explained yesterday, "we are short about $20,000 that we would otherwise receive from the sale of licenses. This loss makes necessary an extensive curtailment of our patrol work.

"The Boy Scouts have risen to the emergency by patrolling the woods and trout streams. They warn all offenders they encounter and report them at this office. In a number of cases the Scouts' reports of flagrant violations of the game laws have resulted in fines and imprisonment for the offenders."

A class of Boy Scouts meets in Mr. Shoemaker's office every Saturday to study the fish and game laws of the state. Those who pass an examination showing a thorough knowledge of the laws are appointed juvenile game wardens. Their work in this capacity, says Mr. Shoemaker, is beneficial to the boys themselves, to the state, to the game and to the sportsmen.

FLAG PRESENTED LEGION

Gift Made to Employes of Portland Lumber Company.

Three hundred members of the Loyal Legion, employes of the Portland Lumber Company, lifted a rousing cheer yesterday noon when a large American flag was hoisted to its staff in the yards at the foot of Lincoln street.

The flag is 6x12 feet and was presented to local 36, of the Loyal Legion, by the company. At noon yesterday all departments of the plant were closed during the ceremony of the flag raising, which was under direction of Henry Heurer, secretary of the organization.

Trumpeter Tripler, of the Signal Corps, sounded the bugle call and Private Walter P. Kueffner and Private Tom O. Willett, also of the Signal Corps, tugged on the halyards until the flag rippled from the tip of its 100-foot staff.

ADOLPHE ALLAIRE SOUGHT

Letter Received Here Says Man Died in Portland and Left Estate.

A letter written in the quaint style of a Frenchman having apparently but a slight knowledge of English was received yesterday by City Auditor Funk asking for information concerning the death in Portland of a man named Adolphe Allaire. The letter reads:

"Could you please tell me if a man name who is Adolphe Allaire living in Portland Oregon during many years is dieing at the same place the last 10 or 15 years. I think he let an estate so much important. He was well known as an inventor of a certain authomatique sprinkler for the harvest. All information you could gave me will give me a great service. I remain, dear sir, yours very truly,—Armand Boisseau."

JACK HIDGINS IS RELEASED

Alleged Bootlegger Charges "Frame-Up" on Part of Special Agents.

His contention that he was the victim of a "frame-up" on the part of Special Agents Scott and Jeffries won for Jack Hidgins yesterday a verdict of acquittal following his jury trial before District Judge Bell on a charge of bootlegging. He was tried once before on the same charge, the jury on the former occasion being unable to reach a verdict.

Hidgins was arrested by the officers as he was carrying a suitcase containing 12 quarts of whisky to a downtown hotel. He asserted that he was trapped into carrying the liquor by the special agents who lay in wait for him and arrested him before he had reached his destination.

CITY HALL TO CLOSE AT 5

Building Not to Be Open to Public on Sundays or Holidays.

As a precautionary measure the City Hall is to be closed tight from now on at 5 P. M. week days, at noon Saturdays, and will be closed all day on Sundays and holidays. The order was put in effect yesterday, when all employes were told to be ready to leave the building at 5 P. M.

The step has been taken because of the presence in the building of the fire alarm telegraph system. A policeman will take charge of the building at 5 P. M. and will prevent any person from entering. Heretofore the building has been open on account of the City Museum.

The arrival yesterday, by express of a number of smart, military-fitted

EARLY SPRING SUITS, prompts us to hurry in telling about them. Patch and slash pockets, the latter crescent cut; snug-fitting, military-seamed coats, half-lined and full-lined; cleverly made vests—these and other features, novel and yet practical, will capture the young man's fancy. In wanted grey and blue. Their prices, too, will prove interesting news—$20, $25, $27.50. Some of these suits now on duty in our display window.
