Corn Holds Its Own as Traders Are Skeptical Regarding Predictions of Increased Movement From Country.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.-Skepticism regarding predictions of an increased movement of the rop tended stubbornly today to uphold the Prices closed unsettled $1,26% for March and $1,25% @1.25% for May, with the final range varying from 14c decline to $6 advance, compared with 24 hours before. Oats gained 14c to $4c. Provisions closed 5c eff to 22c up.

Reports were current that better weather

n the West was gradually bringing about nore favorable traffic conditions on the railroads and that the car supply had been railroads and that the car supply had been somewhat improved in Illinois. Besides, advices were at hand teiling of the largest rail shipments of corn that had been made since the recent storm. Nevertheless the scantiness of receipts here and the many times of late that hopes of liberal arrivals had turned out to be misleading discouraged sellers. The result was to keep the market within narrow limits, and to minimize the volume of trade, despite a generally promising enthesk ising outlook.
All deliveries of oats advanced to the st prices yet this season. Persistent and from the seaboard was responsible, the last hour it was said exporters had rawn from the market.
