It was not difficult to encounter de-nial of the fact that any of the subpens carriers divulged secrets under prom-ise of immunity. The joyous attitudes and "all hunky-dory" whisperings, however, indicated strongly that the men had unburdened themselves, yet that, barring accidents, only the ring-leaders need fear prosecution as result of the disclosures. This is the second conclusion obtruding itself on the man in the hallway.

is reliably reported that none of the men who appeared yesterday re-fused to testify because of fears of incriminating themselves.

The investigation continues today. The investigation continues today. The extremely busy men who yesterday had to perform a surgical operation, sit on a commission, attend to imperative business at the bank, and so on will have a chance to appear today; failing to embrace this opportunity, there will still be a chance to attend Friday.

BOOTLEGGERS SAFE IN COURT

Juries Found to Have Included Many Customers of Ring.

One reason why it has been almost impossible to obtain convictions in bootlegging cases in the District Court was disclosed yesterday by District thur, Mrs. George F. Nevins, Mrs. C. B. Baker, Miss Gertrude Talbot, Mrs. Fred Speci, Mrs. E. E. Shaw, Mrs. Frank W. Speci, Mrs. E. E. Shaw, Mrs. Frank W. Camp, Mrs. George N. West, Mrs. J. A. Hailiday, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. F. B. Mr. Evans and Special Agent Geren have been checking up the District Court jury list with the liquor ring's customer" list, and they have found that many of the jurors have been getting their regular supply of liquor from south for several months past. It is evident that a man who is purchasing liquor from a California bootlegging ring is not going to convict a Portland bootlegger who is being prosecuted," said Mr. Evans yesterday. Because of what he considers the rank injustice to the public because of this alleged deception and hypocrisy, Mr. Evans said he might be impelled to take some further action in such cases. He said that he recalled two particular instances where jurors have announced before a bootlegging trial that they would gladly convict if they thought the evidence sufficient, only to go to the jury room and announce determinedly that they never would vote for a conviction in a bootlegging

"Pape's Diapepsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wender what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the dam-age—do you? Well, don't bother. States Attorney, yesterday was one of the busiest of busy days a lot of prominent Fortland men have ever experienced. Of nearly 50 business and professional men holding subpenas to appear before the Federal grand jury, ostensibly to tell what they know of certain bootlegging operations, said to link themselves up with the names of H. E. Edwards and W. E. Hardy, agreeted recently in San Francisco, less than a dozen put in an appearance. The others either were excused in advance or neglected the summons.

The things that went on behind the doors which closeted the grand jury can only be surmised from the attitude of those who emerged from such near contact with the upholders of the laws and from the remarks the men dropped as they quickly slipped out of the Federal building.

THE Sunday School Workers' Union will meet for the regular monthly luncheon and business session at the home of Mrs. C. A. Morden, 572 East Fifteenth street North, Friday, February I. All members of the union are invited to attend. The union is planning for a Sunday school institute to be held in the city in the near future. This union long has maintained a high standard for Sunday school teachers and has accomplished a vast amount of good constructive work in educating teachers and in inspiring interest among children.

The committee members will each por responsible for furthering the state-wide campaign for a woman's building on the campus of the university. Many of the clubs have contributed already to this fund and under the leadership of this committee it is probable that the organized clubwomen of the state may justly take to themselves a large share of the credit when this gift building goes up three years hence.
