

CHAMBERLAIN AND BAKER DISCUSS BILL

War Secretary and Senator Hold Amicable Conference at Luncheon.

SIGNS OF PEACE OBSERVED

Points of Difference Over Proposed War Cabinet Measure Gone Over by Two Chief Factors in Big Controversy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Secretary Baker and Chairman Chamberlain, of the Senate military committee, chief factors in the controversy over Army efficiency, lunched together today at the Capitol.

The event was regarded as a sign of efforts to secure a better understanding and friendly composing of differences.

The committee's bill for a war cabinet, Senator Chamberlain said after the luncheon, was the principal subject discussed. It was urged by the chairman as absolutely essential to successful co-ordination of America's war effort.

Although agreeing that co-ordination is necessary, Secretary Baker took the position that co-ordination was being accomplished by reorganization already made and being planned further.

"The chief difference between us," said Senator Chamberlain, "was that I believe affirmative legislative action is necessary and Mr. Baker does not. I asked him to think it over and suggest any changes he might desire."

"The committee is not wedded to any particular plan, but we believe some legislation to establish centralized authority with legal control is necessary."

Senator Chamberlain assured Secretary Baker that the only purpose of the committee was to help and not hinder the Administration.

Senator Chamberlain arranged for cross-examination of Secretary Baker later this week or early next week.

COLD WAVE HEADED WEST ALMOST BRINGS FREEZING WEATHER.

At Walla Walla, Baker and Haines, Mercury Drops Suddenly; Lewistown, Mont., Reports 30 Below.

The western end of a cold wave which blanketed Canada and invaded the Middle West states in responsible for the shiver that passed through Portland last night. For the first time this winter the comment on cold weather was exhumed and dusted off.

Weatherman Wells predicted a slight freeze, discouraging to ambitious fruit trees, but said that the cold snap would not be serious. Fair weather today, with a minimum of 28 degrees, was his forecast. The weather bureau reported an official minimum temperature of 22 degrees above yesterday.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Jan. 29.—(Special).—With the mercury down to 19 and hovering around 20 all day Walla Wallans shivered in what was the first real winter this section has experienced this year. A strong north wind helped to add to the discomfort.

Continuation of the cold spell is predicted. Should the temperature drop much further and no snow fall to protect the grain, farmers say that some damage would be done as the fall wheat is very tender. For the present, however, they say little damage is likely.

The cold weather came on so unexpectedly that many people who had neglected laying in fuel made a rush on the supply, which already was short. No discomfort is expected, however, as Walla Walla is too close to the mountains and wood for a real serious shortage. Many people had started to put in gardens, but the cold has stopped all this.

BAKER, Or., Jan. 29.—(Special).—At 7 o'clock tonight the thermometer registered zero at Baker, which is the coldest it has been here this winter. Reports from Haines give the temperature at 7 below and at North Powder 5 below.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 29.—Today was the coldest day Seattle has experienced this winter, according to G. N. Salisbury, of the United States States Weather Bureau. At 7 A. M. the thermometer was 23 degrees above zero. Colder weather was promised for tonight and tomorrow.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 29.—Today, set for tagging coal shovels, was ushered into Helena by a temperature of 19 below zero and 19 below during the day, the mercury fell to 20 below to evening, with every prospect of 10 below before morning. Other cities in the state report similar severe temperatures. Warmer weather for Friday is predicted.

LEWISTOWN, Mont., Jan. 29.—The thermometer recorded 20 degrees below zero this evening at 8 o'clock and was still falling, but the wind and snow had ceased. East-bound mainline trains are practically on time on both the Milwaukee and Great Northern, while the West-bound trains are some hours late.

DISFIGURING PIMPLES HEALED

By Using Three Cakes Cuticura Soap and One Box Ointment.

"I was troubled with blackheads that affected my face only. I got them from careless washing, and I soon noticed that my face looked oily and dirty. Afterward my face broke out into pimples that festered and pained dreadfully. They were scattered, and itched, and I would be awake a long time at night. My face was disfigured. I saw a Cuticura advertisement, and I thought I would try them. I was healed after I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Ointment." Norma Talmadge in "Ghosts of Yesterday" at Liberty.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES.

Sunset—Mae Marsh, "The Cinderella Man." Liberty—Norma Talmadge, "Ghosts of Yesterday"; Fatty Arbuckle, "Out West." Majestic—William Farnum, "When a Man Sees Red." Peoples—Mary Pickford, "Stella Maris." Columbia—Carmel Myers and Kenneth Harlan, "My Unmarried Wife." Star—Mildred Harris, "The Price of a Good Time." Globe—Sessue Hayakawa, "The Bottle Imp."

MAE MARSH in 'The Cinderella Man'

from the Robert Hichens novel, comes on Sunday. Miss Talmadge, the screen's leading young emotional actress, presents some unusual histrionics in "Ghosts of Yesterday." The film is undoubtedly her greatest film achievement, for she dominates it by her personality, beauty, vivacity and acting.

Screen Gossip.

Big Bill Hart appears as a lumberjack in his next picture, "Blue Blazes Ravens." Maudie George, Gertrude Claire and Bob M'Kenzie are with him.

Charlie Cary has returned to work at the Fox studio after an illness which kept him out over a month. Charlie says it made him feel so chilly looking at Theda Bara's "Cleopatra" costumes that he caught cold. He is now working with Frank Lloyd's company.

Forrest Stanley, well known as an actor on the legitimate stage and in pictures, last week announced his marriage to Miss Hutchings who is playing in the same company of "The Bird of Paradise" with him. Mr. Stanley is playing the role of Paul Wilson and his bride is the little Hawaiian maid.

Leah Baird is playing the role of vampire in Ivan Abramson's Graphic Film production. In this role Miss Baird leads her screen husband, John Mason, to suicide. The role of vampire is a new departure for this successful actress.

Mae Marsh is working at the Goldwyn studio with a zest born of a holiday spent with old friends from the Coast, now visiting in New York City. Blanche Sweet, who is playing the role of Thomas, Edna Purviance and Anna Luther have been guests at her Riverside Drive apartment.

Louise Huff has by no means given up the business of co-starring with Jack Pickford because she did not appear in "Tom Sawyer." Louise appears with Jack in the next two releases featuring the combinations. These are "His Majesty, Bunker Bean" and "Mile a Minute Kendall." Miss Huff will also be one of the featured players in J. Stuart Blackton's production, "Wild Youth."

Simultaneously with the release of "Rose of the World," an Arctcraft picture starring Elsie Ferguson, comes the announcement that her next photoplay will be "The Song of Songs," from the play by Edgar Sheldon. It presents Miss Ferguson in an exceedingly emotional role, very similar to the one she interpreted in "The Outcast" on the speaking stage, and in which she scored the greatest success of her career. The play is a high-class melodrama, replete with sensational incidents.

The Douglas Fairbanks special, consisting of eight passenger trailers and 12 freight cars, carrying 200 buckaroos and an equal number of horses, arrived at Tucson, Ariz., last week for the purpose of filming the exterior scenes of "Headin' South," his next Arctcraft picture from the story by Allan Dwan. The first two days were spent shooting scenes in the vicinity of Fort Lowell, historically known as the location of the famous battle fought by General Miles when he captured Geronimo, the notorious Apache chief and his tribe of fighting Indians.

MY UNMARRIED WIFE

A SWELL LITTLE AMERICAN PLAY WITH A FRENCH DRESSING

from the Robert Hichens novel, comes on Sunday. Miss Talmadge, the screen's leading young emotional actress, presents some unusual histrionics in "Ghosts of Yesterday." The film is undoubtedly her greatest film achievement, for she dominates it by her personality, beauty, vivacity and acting.

"Out West" is one of the funniest of Fatty Arbuckle comedies. It's a burlesque on the wild and woolly West type of picture, with the returned Arbuckle essaying the role of gunman and horseman that Bill Hart has made famous in the silent drama.

Mildred Harris, one of the screen newcomers, is starred in "The Price of a Good Time," a Jewel production made by Lois Weber, the famous woman director. The story deals with the experience of a little shop girl who innocently enjoys six evenings in the company of her employer's son, only to have her family and the world place the worst possible construction on her acts. This misinterpretation leads to tragedy.

Forrest Stanley, well known as an actor on the legitimate stage and in pictures, last week announced his marriage to Miss Hutchings who is playing in the same company of "The Bird of Paradise" with him. Mr. Stanley is playing the role of Paul Wilson and his bride is the little Hawaiian maid.

H.S. BOLCOM IS DEAD

Washington Lumberman Dies at Sanitarium.

SERVICE TO BE EXTENDED

County Agricultural Agent to Open Office at Bend.

BIG BUSINESS ESTABLISHED

Deceased, Long Associated With Father and Brother, One of Most Widely-Known Millmen Operating on Pacific Coast.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 29.—(Special).—H. S. Bolcom, president of the Canal Lumber Company and vice-president of the Bolcom-Vanderhoof Logging Company, a subsidiary corporation, and one of the most widely known lumbermen in the West Coast trade, died at the Columbia Sanitarium today of peritonitis. He was born at Winona, Minn., August 19, 1862, and is survived by his widow and son, Marfield, a student at the University of Washington, and his brother, W. M. Bolcom, president of the Bolcom Mills Company. The latter, who was in California on a business trip, reached the bedside in time to see his brother alive.

Reared in the Mississippi Valley lumber district, Mr. Bolcom engaged in business with his father at Winona, coming to the Coast to locate in 1902. He had lived in this city continuously since that time, taking an active part in the development of the fir and cedar industry on the Pacific Coast.

While in business with his son, the senior Bolcom heard the latter's descriptions of possibilities in Washington, and then suggested that the son take a trip on the road to find out whether West Coast products were in demand in the East before making a decision. After going over the route as far back as 1892, he returned with a pocketful of orders, and the family of lumbermen began planning for removal to the Coast.

The firm of H. C. Bolcom was then formed and Harry S. Bolcom joined his brother, taking charge of the financial end of the business, which continued to grow. In 1896 the company bought a controlling interest in the West Coast Manufacturing & Investment Company at Ballard. After the death of their father in 1899 Earle S. Youmans became interested in the company.

County Agricultural Agent E. A. Ward will be found in the Circuit Judge's chamber in the First National Bank building at Bend on every Wednesday until further notice. If the use of the office warrants its extension, an additional day per week may be devoted to the Bend county, but for the present Wednesday will be the office day at Bend. At this time it is hoped that the farmers of La Pine, Tumalo, the High Desert and the Bend country will take advantage of the opportunity to call upon their county agent for such assistance as the office is in a position to offer.

The County Court has considered the matter of a part time office at Bend for some time, and this is the first step in that direction. An average of 250 people a month call at the Redmond office, but owing to distances very few of these are from Bend, La Pine or Tumalo sections.

Vancouver Man Gets Appointment.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 30.—(Special).—Justin L. Sutherland, an attorney of this city, has been appointed by Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, on a committee of 10 in this state to provide entertainment for soldiers in barracks, cantonments and National Army camps. The committee within a short time will formulate plans for the work.
