ACTRESS GIVES RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR

A Well-Known Actress Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With Simple Home-Made Mixture.

Jokey Williams, the well-known American actress, who was recently playing at the Imperial Theater in St. Louis, Mo., made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or any drug-woman can put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look 20 years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—Adv.

ARMIES CROUCH FOR SUPREME GRAPPLE

Greatest Battle in History Is Near—Germany Ready to Strike.

FORCES OF ALLIES READY

Coming Struggle Will Be Beginning of End—If Teuton Offensive Falls This Time War Will Be Lost to Central Empires.

BRITISH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Feb. 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—The great German offensive on the western front may be expected to begin at any moment. So far as the British front is concerned, the main thrust will be made on the sector between Arras and St. Quentin. Tanks and a "new mysterious gas" will be employed by the enemy in the attempt to break through the allied line. Other attacks will be delivered further south. These facts have become known through captured German prisoners and from information gleaned in other ways.

The plans of the German higher command are complete and after many weeks of intensive training of assaulting troops they are ready to make the supreme and final effort, which has been advertised so widely in the past weeks.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff appear to have realized that the old methods of attack in which a long bombardment is employed, are too well known to pierce the results desired. Accordingly, the German troops are being told that surprise attacks, such as were used in Galicia last Summer at Riga and again on the Somme, are to be tried against the allies on the western front.

Much stress has been laid on the fact that tanks and new gas are to be used, the former to be used to do but to walk through the gaps and consolidate the positions captured. The Germans will find the allied moral courage high, strength in the western front, and their attack will be far from the surprise desired. The allies are ready for a big blow and await with assurance the next move of the German high command.

The German attack cannot be delayed much longer. All information points to the fact that both German civilians and soldiers are keyed up to such a pitch of nervous expectancy that the strain cannot endure for long. They are waiting for the attack with feverish hope that the high command can this time make good its promise. The German troops are expected to fight well.

The coming battles will perhaps be the most sanguinary of the war, and they will be the most intense yet seen. But they will mark the beginning of the end, for if the Germans do not break clear through the allied line—and they cannot—they virtually will be finished. The Emperor is putting every ounce of strength into this great gamble, and if it fails in the early stages it means the end of Prussian militarism.

The allied forces have a superiority in numbers, both in men and guns, and no doubt is felt on this front as to the outcome.

BRITISH RAIDERS SUCCESSFUL Germans Suffer Heavy Casualties on Flanders Front.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—An extensive raid was carried out by British troops last night on the Flanders front, in the southern section of Houtholde Wood, the War Office announced today.

There were two other successful raids, one in the region south of Lens, and the other on the old Arras front, in the neighborhood of Epehy. Prisoners were taken in all these raids. The Flanders raid was a particularly important affair, resulting in heavy casualties to the Germans.

Prominent Lumberman Dies.

TACOMA, Feb. 19.—James McNealey, 56, prominent lumberman, formerly in the State Legislature, and Republican candidate for the nomination as Governor in 1916, died early today after an illness of several months.

Jungleland Circus Leaves Are War-Bound.

CHELAGO, Feb. 19.—The passing of elephants, tigers and imported freaks as a result of the war was mourned today by circus men, showmen, carnival promoters and fair managers attending the meeting of the Showmen's League of America.

Ponderous pachyderms and ferocious lions are held captive in African ports, unable to get to this country because of the shortage of shipping. Meanwhile the mortality among denizens of the jungle imported before the war has been so great as to threaten the very existence of some circuses and shows, it was said.

The gloom among the delegates caused by this condition was partially dispelled, however, by word from Washington that the Government would co-operate with the showmen in providing railway transportation for their amusements so that the children of America will not have to suffer from a "circusless Summer."
