Anna L. Strong Is Recalled From School Board by Vote of Nearly 6000.

SEATTLE TAXES TO RISE

People Vote Bonding Propositions Which Will Increase Rate From 2.5 Mills to 3 Mills-Many Appointments to Be Made.

SEATTLE, Wash, March & - (Spe cial) - Complete returns from Tuesday's municipal election show that Ole Hanson was elected Mayer by a majority of 4829 yours over his opponent, James E. Bradford. Hanson received 22,307 and Bradford 26,678.

The receil of Appa Louise Strong

The recall of Anna Louise Strong from the School Board was effected by a vote of approximately 5729.

a vote of approximately 5729.

Bonding propositions adopted by the voters increased the taxation of the city from 2½ to 3 mills. Only one of the bonding propositions is in doubt, one calling for $110,000 to be used in a certain local improvement district, and unofficial returns show it to be six votes below the received 60 per cert votes behind the required 60 per cent vote to carry it. The School Board will meet tomorrow

Strong will not be a party to the pro-cedure. After the returns have been certified she will be notified of her fo-call, the place declared vacant, and the board will proceed to elect her succes-nor to serve until the school election next December.

Mayor-elect Hanson will take office March 18. He has several important appointments to make, including Chief of Police, Chief of Fire Department, Health Commissioner, Harbor Masters. members of the Board of Public Works and Civil Service Commissioners. The Mayor also will appoint a secretary.

The successful Councilmanic candi-dates were Thomas H. Bolton, A. F. Hans, who were re-elected, and Roland W. Cotterill, secretary of the City Park Board, who will succeed Will H. Hanna candidate for re-election to the Counell, who failed to figure in the list of new city officials. Official returns give Boiton 26,342 votes. Cotterill 22,-624, Hana 29,361. Ed L. Terry and Harry W. Carrell, unopposed candidates for the positions of City Treasurer and Controller, respectively, each received a large vote, and Hugh M. Caldwell overwhelmed his opponent. T. Casey, by a vote of 29,895 to ## Stayton Soldier in Hospital.

STAYTON, Or., March 6.—(Special.)— Karl Martin, formerly of this city, writes from France that he has been confined to a hoselital for several weeks. He is a member of Company F. 18th Engineers, and was working in Oregon City at the time of his enlist-ment. He was quite well known in athletic circles in Portland, as he was wrestler of no mean ability.
