

SLAYER CONFESSES HE KILLED FRIEND

William Voight, Kalama River Rancher, Shot Earl Pottruff in Forest.

JEALOUSY BACK OF DEED

Prisoner Tells How He Made It Appear That Pottruff Was Victim of Accident, Admits Relationship With Dead Man's Wife.

KALAMA, Wash., March 6.—(Special) William Voight, Jr., confessed today to the murder of Earl Pottruff on November 23, 1917. An information was filed against him yesterday charging him with murder in the first degree, and after an all-night examination by Deputy Attorney A. H. Imus and Sheriff Studebaker he signed a written confession that he asked Pottruff to go hunting with him, and borrowed Pottruff's rifle and whetted around with about 15 feet in front of Pottruff and shot him through the heart, killing him instantly. Voight stated that he is 35 years of age, single and an old settler on the Kalama river. Pottruff came to the country three years ago from some place and took a homestead on the Kalama river, about three miles from Voight's place. Pottruff had been away a considerable time, and was working on a shipyard at Astoria, and had returned home for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Pottruff at Voight home. Voight had become acquainted with Mrs. Pottruff and had been spending considerable of his time at her home. Since the murder Mrs. Pottruff has been living with Voight on the premises. He stated that he had no feud at her home to winter her cattle. After the killing Voight notified his neighbors and carried the body to his cabin. He then notified the sheriff that Pottruff had accidentally killed himself. Voight left the rifle beside the body, but the fact that there were no powder burns and nothing but shot gun shells in the pockets of Pottruff led the authorities to believe there was foul play. Mrs. Pottruff is young and good looking.

County Officials Summoned.

On the morning of November 23, 1917, Coroner Bales, of Cowlitz County, and Sheriff Studebaker were notified of an accident up the Kalama river, and they went to the scene. They were taken to the cabin of William Voight, where Earl Pottruff lay dead. William Voight and several neighbors were present. Mr. Voight swore under oath that he and Pottruff were the best of friends, and had decided to hunt the preceding morning. They started about 10 o'clock, Voight carrying a shotgun and Mr. Pottruff his own rifle. They hunted till about 2:30 in the afternoon, when they started for home. About three-quarters of a mile from home, Voight said, he heard a shot behind him. Turning around he saw Pottruff falling, his rifle dropping from his hands, Pottruff died without speaking. Voight hurried out of the woods, informed Pottruff's wife and family, and aided by neighbors, carried the body to his cabin. On the following morning he notified the sheriff.

Little Evidence is Found.

He said that he was on the best of terms with Pottruff and his wife and loved Pottruff as a brother. As there was no evidence against Voight the case was dropped for the time. Since then Sheriff Studebaker has been in the case, as the neighbors were suspicious that Voight had killed Pottruff. Mr. Pottruff had been working in Astoria for about a year, and during that time Voight had been paying considerable attention to the absent man's wife.

Scene of Tragedy Visited.

Sheriff Studebaker, in company with Prosecuting Attorney Spaulding and his deputy, H. Imus, and a photographer, went to the Voight home and interviewed the family. Yesterday, accompanied by A. H. Imus, Jack Sparling and a Kalam photographer, Sheriff Studebaker went back to the scene of the alleged accident, taking Voight with them. They took photographs of the surroundings and measurements, and after questioning Voight in detail, he was taken to the County Jail at Kalama. Voight emphatically denied his guilt and swore vengeance. Later he was taken to the Prosecuting Attorney's office, where he broke down and confessed that two days before Thanksgiving he had been hunting with Pottruff, and that he had shot him through the heart with a .30-06 rifle.

Hunters Exchange Weapons.

After hunting several hours they struck a deer track. Voight suggested that they trade guns, as he was the better shot. The exchange was made. A pheasant flew up; Pottruff shot and missed. Voight suggested that they trade guns again, and they started for home. About three-quarters of a mile from home Voight was talking about about 35 feet, carrying the rifle cocked.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain mullified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drugstore, and few women will believe the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

5-MILE DRY ZONE ORDERED that the 'dry zone' about these places should be the full five miles in width, irrespective of the fact that an incorporated city or town lies within such distance. The department strongly concurs in these views and considers that conditions simply justify the establishment of such zones, which is most earnestly recommended by all that are interested in the efficiency and welfare of the naval service. There are cited below some facts and quotations regarding the situation at the places mentioned. 'In the vicinity of Vallejo, Cal., is the navy yard at Mare Island, including the interesting casemate. At present there are at Mare Island about 6500 enlisted men, of whom the great majority are young lads recently enlisted. A determined effort has been made by the Department and the commandant of such zones, to cause an improvement in the liquor situation at Vallejo, but action of the local authorities and the wishes of the Department have been substantially opposed by those interested in the continuation of this evil. Numerous telegrams of protest have recently been received from pastors of churches and other prominent citizens, urging that the saloons at Vallejo be closed in order to protect the sailors. In regard to Newport, the Secretary quoted communications from the commandant of the naval district, from the Newport ministers, from the war commandant and from the chief of ordnance, urging that intoxicants be barred. 'In the vicinity of the city of Newport, the chief of ordnance, at which there are at present approximately 6500 enlisted men, and the naval torpedo station, at which, although there are only about 400 enlisted men, very large quantities of high explosives are stored, the safety of which is seriously jeopardized by the possibility of intoxicated members of the civilians or enlisted force, in its vicinity. 'The crews of ships visiting Narragansett Bay should also be considered among the zones to be established.

Liquor Menace Unabated.

'Representations have been made by the authorities at the training station that, in spite of every effort on their part, and in spite of the detail of marine patrol boats throughout the city, the liquor menace continues unabated, and is constantly undermining the physical and moral welfare of the naval personnel. 'Practically all the personnel at the training station are young lads, very recently enlisted, who are receiving their first training in the Navy, and who are of that impressionable age which makes it most necessary that under these new conditions for them they should not be exposed to insidious temptations. MARE ISLAND, Cal., March 6.—There are 25 places, besides saloons, in and around Vallejo where liquor is sold. President Appealed To. Conditions in Vallejo have been made the subject of naval and civilian investigation. A state organization appealed to President Wilson to close the saloons, which were used as stepping stones and lures for immoral resorts. Although 25 saloons are licensed, only 23 are actually operating. The city has about 12,000 inhabitants.

MONEY STOCK INCREASED

More Than a Billion Dollars Added to United States Circulation.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—War needs have increased the general stock of money in the United States more than $1,000,000,000, from $2,312,000,000 last April shortly before the war began, to $3,312,000,000 on March 1. The increase was caused almost entirely by the rapid expansion of Federal Reserve notes.

CALGARIAN SUNK BY U-BOATS; 48 PERISH

Firing of 4 Torpedoes Shows Attack Made in Force by Submarines.

17,515-TON VESSEL LOST

Disaster Takes Place Off Irish Coast. Same Kindly People Who Cared for Tuscania Survivors Again Offer Hospitality.

LONDON, March 6.—Official announcement was made by the Admiralty today that the British armed merchant cruiser Calgarian has been torpedoed and sunk on March 1. Two officers and 48 men were lost. BELFAST, Ireland, March 2.—The British liner Calgarian has been torpedoed off the Irish coast. There were 610 persons aboard, nearly 500 of whom have been landed at Irish ports. The Calgarian was struck by four torpedoes. The Allan liner Calgarian was a vessel of 17,515 tons gross, 548 feet long and 76 feet of beam. She was built in Glasgow in 1914. There are no published records of the recent movements of the Calgarian, which for some time has been in the service of the British government. The last report given out concerning the liner was in April, 1916, when she sailed from Halifax for England with Canadian troops. Attack in Force Made. A most unusual circumstance in connection with the sinking of the Calgarian is the fact that she was struck by four torpedoes. So far as published reports have shown, in no previous case has a merchantman been subjected to such a heavy attack by submarines. Evidently the Germans concentrated U-boats to ensure the sinking of the liner. NEW YORK, March 6.—The Allan liner Calgarian, torpedoed off the Irish coast, has been for some months serving as a British cruiser, converted from the status of a merchantman, conveying cargo ships between British ports and Nova Scotia, according to officers here of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, Limited, owners of the Allan line. AN IRISH PORT, March 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The people of this town, who a few days ago won the gratitude of the American people by their kindness to the survivors from the Tuscania, have extended their hospitality in the last few days to nearly 500 men from the Calgarian, one of the finest auxiliary cruisers in the Atlantic service. The Calgarian was torpedoed in the late afternoon, not far from the place where the Tuscania met her doom. First Shock Slight. The ship's bell had just sounded 4 o'clock when a torpedo struck. The shock was so slight that it was thought the vessel had merely touched a mine astern. It was hoped to get her safely to port. A considerable time later a second torpedo struck her, followed quickly by two more. By this time there were several hundred men crowded together in the vicinity and the work of disembarking the crew was hastened. By good fortune, the Calgarian remained afloat on an even keel for some time, notwithstanding the four torpedoes. It was possible to take off nearly all the crew except men in the storerooms and others who had been injured by the explosion. Most of the rescued men were brought here. SHEEPMAN TRIES A COUP

(Continued From First Page.) cago, by a man giving his name as T. W. Allen. The company telegraphed to all Eastern livestock markets to be on the watch for the missing ewes. Meanwhile the ewes had been re-consigned, and had arrived at Omaha, Neb., where the supposed owners placed them for sale with the commission firm of Clay, Robinson & Co. Again the fact that the ewes were unfit for the climatic change had been stolen and that warrants were out for Allen and all his accomplices, caused comment and suspicion. The commission firm contacted with the Winnebucca bank, asking for light on the responsibility and character of T. W. Allen, in Harney County, at Crane, holds forth a stockman of wide and unblemished repute, 'Tom' Allen. With this individual in mind the bank telegraphically informed the firm that Allen was 'O. K.'

Owners Swear Out Warrants.

Still the suspicious commission house were not allayed, and they delayed the sale. Then came the N-bar-N's message, advising that the ewes had been stolen and that warrants were out for Allen and all his accomplices. Upon the arrest of two of the alleged partners in the case, it was found that Allen was an alias of G. A. Wheat, of San Antonio, and that his companion was C. H. Brown, an uncle of Pratt, who had been stolen and that warrants were out for Allen and all his accomplices. Wheat claims that Brown induced him to come from Texas, offering him $500 and expenses to take a shipment of cattle from Winnebucca to market. He declared that he knew nothing about the ownership of the ewes, and that he was surprised to find herds once hidden across the country with furnished bail without delay. Pratt still traveling. Pratt, with the missing 600, and with the pack animals and train, has not yet been located. It was learned that the Southern Pacific agent at Winnebucca was first asked for ten double-deck cars, sufficient to ship the entire herd, but that he informed Wheat, alias Allen, that only seven cars were available. Mr. Murphy believes that the herd is hidden across the country with the remainder of the missing flock, bound for some unknown point where disposal will be attempted. 'We lost 100 of the ewes from the effects of the forced drive, which was inhumane in the extreme,' said Mr. Murphy yesterday. 'The cruelty of such a proceeding, to my mind, even outweighs the theft, which is the largest I have any knowledge of. 'We are far from pleased with the amount of bail fixed upon Wheat and Brown, and we are two men charged with the theft of property valued at $50,000, and their bonds are fixed at the absurd sum of $1500. As for Brown, I should be surprised if any time he would be heard of again. 'The N-bar-N property is largely owned by Portland stockholders. Its president is John Kiernan, while James H. Murphy is secretary and treasurer. After an absence of three years, a pigeon that was entered in a pigeon race from Bordeaux, France, has returned to its loft at Witheridge, England.

JOHN E. REDMOND, IRISH LEADER, DIES

Nationalist Statesman Succumbs in London Following Surgical Operation.

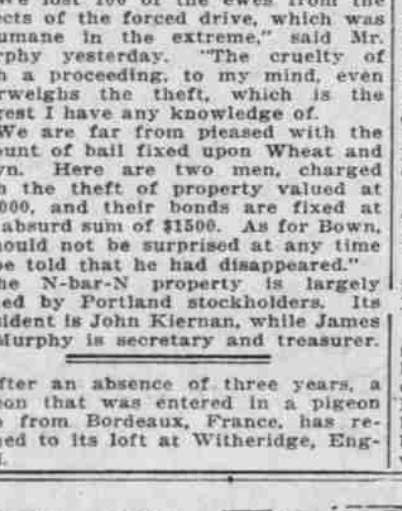

DEATH CAUSES MOURNING

King is Shocked and Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Leader, Says That Opponent and Self Were Not So Far Apart on Irish Question.

LONDON, March 6.—John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, died at 7:45 o'clock this morning. Death followed a recent operation for an intestinal obstruction. This was borne courageously and it relieved the patient, but heart failure intervened Tuesday night. The physicians attending Mr. Redmond issued the following announcement: 'We regret to announce that John Redmond died at 7:45 this morning. Owing to several serious attacks of illness a severe operation was performed with great courage. It had become imperatively necessary, owing to an intestinal obstruction. This was relieved by the operation and for some days satisfactory progress was maintained. After a fairly comfortable day Tuesday heart failure supervened during the night and after a few hours Mr. Redmond passed peacefully away.' The news of the death of the Nationalist leader, brought messages of sorrow and regret from all sections of the community. King George, when he was informed of the event, was deeply shocked and expressed his profound regret. Premier Lloyd George was similarly moved when he learned the news. It is expected the funeral will take place in Dublin, with burial at Glasnevin Cemetery. Simultaneously a solemn requiem mass will be held in Westminster Cathedral. Redmond became leader of the Nationalist party after the deposition of Charles Stewart Parnell, the first crowned king of Ireland. While uncompromising in his demand for home rule for Ireland, he was not a 'separatist' but demanded government by representative consent. Redmond was born in County Wexford, Ireland, in 1851, and was educated at Trinity College, Dublin. He was elected to Parliament in 1881 from the constituency of New Ross, which he represented until 1885, when he was elected as member from North Wexford, and later represented Waterford. He had served continuously in the House of Commons for 37 years. In paying tribute to the memory of John Redmond in the House of Commons today, Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, said: 'I am proud in our attempts at a settlement of the Irish question.'

OUR DEFENSE

Our boys are defending this country on the high seas and on the land. Our own defense against a common enemy is to keep the system clean by ridding the body of the toxins, or poisons, which are bred in the intestines. When you feel tired, sleepy, headachy, when your breath is offensive, or pimples appear on the face and neck, it is time to recognize the danger and protect your bodily health by taking a good laxative or liver medicine. The machinery of the body needs to be oiled, kept in good condition, just as the guns or machinery of a ship. Why should a human person neglect his own machinery more than that of his automobile or his guns? Yet most people do neglect themselves. Their tongue has a dark brown color, skin sallow, breath bad, yet they fail to see that their machinery needs attention. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have been known for nearly half a century. They are made of May-apple, leaves of aloë and jalap, made into a tiny pellet and coated with sugar. They are standard and efficacious. You can obtain them at any drug store in vials for twenty-five cents. Ask for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—and get no other!
