

VETERANS TO HELP IN LIBERTY DRIVE

Men With War Records to Be in Oregon in Interest of Third Loan.

GENERAL GREENE TO SPEAK

Camp Lewis Commandant Will Be Principal Speaker at Great Auditorium Rally—French Officers Lend Services.

Many military men are now numbered among the speakers who will address Portland and Oregon audiences during the third liberty loan, according to arrangements perfected by Milton R. Klepper, state manager of the liberty loan speaking bureau, who returned from Camp Lewis yesterday morning.

In personal conference with General Greene, commandant at Camp Lewis, Mr. Klepper was assured that General Greene, who recently returned from the European front, would appear in Portland at a speaking date early in the campaign. It is planned that a large mass meeting will be held in the Auditorium, at which General Greene will be the principal speaker.

War Experiences to Be Told. General Greene will relate experiences of the western front. He is an eloquent and forceful speaker, and his observations as an American military expert will be pertinent to the cause and of great interest to the people.

French Captain on Programme. La Belle France will be represented in the Oregon campaign by Captain J. C. Chambliss, who fought in Flanders, Champagne and Alsace. At the outbreak of the war he was in the export business in Africa, and was called home to join the colors in August, 1914, and was in active service until last November, when he came direct from the first-line trenches to serve as an instructor at Camp Lewis. Captain Mawdsley was wounded at the Somme.

Organization rallies of liberty loan workers began yesterday throughout Oregon. The following itineraries have been announced for organizers already in the field: Medford, March 13, P. S. Robinson. Crane, Vale, Ontario and Baker, March 13, Fred Johnson and Canyon City, March 14, J. D. Zurcher. Klamath Falls, March 15, Blaine Hallcock. Tillamook, March 15; Hillsboro, March 15; Eugene, March 16 and 21; Salem, March 22, J. K. Kollock. Hesperia, March 18; Condon and Joseph, March 14; Moro, March 15, J. S. Campbell.

HOOD RIVER GIVES $450

Campaign for Armenian Relief Fund Not Yet Completed.

HOOD RIVER, Or., March 12.—(Special.)—Leslie Butler, president of the Butler Banking Company, who managed the local campaign, reports that a total of about $450 has been subscribed to the Armenian and Syrian relief fund. "Many have not yet been notified," says Mr. Butler, "and funds are still coming in."

One of the best reports on the drive was made by the committee in charge of the Upper Hood River Valley. Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy. Thousands of families suffer by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $2. You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is found in many varieties. Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain granulated sugar syrup. Nothing better, but why buy it if you can easily make it yourself in five minutes. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made—at $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—infamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Soreness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt results. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MOVING PICTURE NEWS

Mabel Normand in Newspaper Mystery Playlet 'The Floor Below' at Peoples.

Everybody knows Flora, while Barnett was one of the stars of 'The Submarine Eye,' recently shown at the Star Theater. Sessue Hayakawa is to make several more pictures for Paramount before he takes up his duties as head of his own company. Margery Wilson has become known as the titan beauty of the Triangle lot. Same Miss Wilson, ex of Portland's Rainbow Grill. Before Ford Sterling became an entertainer he was known as George Stith. Alice Hollister, Helen Gardner, Marguerite Snow, Lillie Leslie, Cleo Ridge—these were a few of the first film vampires. What makes 'em cry in the 'Movies'? Why, Massenet's 'Elegie,' via violin, and perhaps harp and cello, turns the trick. Glycerin tears not the vogue these days. Jane Novak, feminine star of 'The Eyes of the World,' the popular picture, is now Bill Hart's leading woman.

Melbourne MacDowell, noted tragedian and former husband of Fanny Davenport, continues in the limelight. Some time ago he instituted proceedings to have a marriage annulled, five years he said was contracted without his knowledge. He claimed that Kathryn Neff, now Mrs. MacDowell, married him when he was mentally incompetent. Now comes Sylvester V. Innes before the court and claims he financed MacDowell when the actor was down and out. In doing this it was with the understanding that should the financier obtain an engagement for the unfortunate, the earnings from said engagement should be divided upon a 50-50 basis. During the time Innes, as MacDowell's manager, was seeking an engagement for his charge, the former was to pay all expenses and furnish pocket money. This, Innes claims, he did. The testimony of the suit, which was instigated by Martha W. Innes, wife of MacDowell's manager, is now with the court and money loaned to the extent of $678.51, brought out the fact that MacDowell for a time earned a salary of $200 per week as a moving picture actor. Later he worked for $40 per week. MacDowell in defense contended there was no time limit in the contract he made with Innes and that, therefore, it was not fair. He also testified that the contract had been abandoned by mutual consent, and denied any obligation was incurred with regard to bond, rooms or loans except those mentioned in the contract. MacDowell's most recent film appearance of prominence was with Dorothy Dalton in 'The Flame of the Yukon.'

Screen Gossip. Seattle is planning a "movie" ball, at which the public is to get a glimpse of pictures in the making and a number of stars from Southern California. Portland fans may expect to see several of these players as they journey through Oregon for Seattle. Julian Eltinge will spend a few more weeks in vaudeville and then return to California to make pictures. Bill Russell, former American star, has formed his own company and will distribute his pictures through Mutual. George Walsh has recovered from injuries sustained in a fall during a cross-country run, following the completion of "Jack Sprague, Prodigious." Mollie King, 29-year-old blonde beauty who has been a prominent figure in recent Pathé serials is now with live. Mollie started on the stage with Maxine Elliott in "Her Own Way," with Sam Bernard in "The Belle of Bond Street," and was in vaudeville with her sister Nellie. D. W. Griffith's latest film spectacle was a first showing last week at Pomona, Cal., and audiences "gaped," laughed, cried, shouted and everything else through the run of this remarkable feature, according to the press agent, who asserts that "it makes 'The Birth of a Nation' look like a spilt-reel subject." Carl Laemmle, in his general invitation to all producing concerns to close their studios and make pictures at Universal City, asserts that the plant easily can be made to accommodate all the producing companies in the United States. Flora Finch, Chester Barnett and Donald Hall are among the players with Bessie Love in Pathé Plays.

PORTLAND MAN IN FRONT-LINE CLASH

Dr. Harold Bean Returns Home After Six Months Spent on Battlefields.

BATTLE OF YPRES THRILLS

Physician Says American Troops Are Given Excellent Treatment and Are Anxious to Pit Themselves Against the Huns.

To be cut off by the barrage fire of the Germans for 90 minutes from the British forces to which his hospital unit was attached at the battle of Ypres last September was one of the thrilling experiences of Dr. Harold C. Bean, First Lieutenant Medical Reserve Corps, U. S. A., and son of United States Judge Bean, who arrived in Portland yesterday after several months at the European battle front. "Expecting momentarily to be taken prisoners by the Boches," said Lieutenant Bean yesterday, "we hid or destroyed all letters and every other possible mark of identification that might prove of value to the enemy if we had been captured. But after what seemed an endless suspense, we were restored to our own forces an hour and a half later. It was in all an experience we will not soon forget."

Stretcher Carriers Brave. Reporting to the proper officials in London on their arrival, the American medical men were sent immediately to France, where, after a few hours' instruction in the use of gas masks, they were ordered to the front-line trenches in Belgium, where they served as reinforcements to the British field ambulance service. These medical experts had complete charge of all first-aid cases coming from the front-line temporary dressing stations. After receiving first-aid treatment the injured soldiers were thence sent by motor ambulances to the clearing stations in the rear, where the first major operations were performed. "The stretcher-bearers, it was my observation, are deserving of more credit than they receive," remarked Lieutenant Bean. "Exposed to grave and constant danger, they are at all times fearless and unhesitatingly and uncomplainingly go about the performance of their work. These men are untrained and have no opportunity for defending themselves if attacked. They carry only the stretchers with which to bring the wounded men to the first-aid stations; they are at in the thickest of the fight with no chance to avoid the constant danger to which they are exposed."

Wounded Huns Given Care. Lieutenant Bean is loud in his praise of the extreme courtesy that is shown Americans, regardless of the branch of the service to which they are attached. They are thoroughly appreciative of the aid and assistance and welcome the spirit of co-operation the Americans show. Lieutenant Bean was also impressed by the constant care given by the British forces towards captured German prisoners, especially the wounded captives. He says the medical officers have strict orders to give wounded Huns the same skillful care that is shown the Tommies, and what is more, he says these orders are rigidly enforced.

Last November Lieutenant Bean was pronounced physically unfit for further military service and was ordered home. Returning from the war zone, he passed through the American lines of communication and visited many of the hospitals, which he found thoroughly established with a full corps of physicians, surgeons and nurses and equipped with exceptional facilities for treating the wounded.

Troops Anxious to Fight. "Our troops are well clothed, have an abundance of good, wholesome food, are well taken care of and are in the best of spirits," said the returned Lieutenant. "With the exception of the men are all eagerly and impatiently awaiting the chance to get into the fight and do their part towards hastening the end of the awful conflict. I also came across the Atlantic in a transport, where I also found that our men are well provided for and are a happy and contented lot." Upon landing in the United States, Lieutenant Bean was joined at Elkridge, Md., by Mrs. Bean, who remained with relatives in this country while he was abroad. She accompanied him to Portland. Lieutenant and Mrs. Bean expect to make their home in this city.

Action in Conference Next Proceeding; Appropriations Provided Are Largely for Purposes of Army and Navy.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—With its legislative riders authorizing sale of all enemy property in the United States and purchase by the Government of the German-owned wharves at Hoboken, N. Of the appropriations, which are largely for the Army and Navy, $73,000,000 was added by the Senate. This addition, with the amendments for disposition of the enemy property, are yet to be accepted by the House. The Senate eliminated a committee amendment suspending tariff duties on Army material.

Reimbursement to men and nurses in the military service for private property lost is provided for in another amendment, attached to the measure to expedite relief for men losing effects in the torpedoing of the steamer Tuscania.

Principal appropriations in the bill as increased by the Senate include: Army—Supplies, $28,358,000; transportation, $12,000,000; storage and shipping facilities, $130,000,000; barracks and quarters, $67,250,000; military posts, water and sewer systems, 20,180,000; hospitals, $21,270,000; engineer field operations, $70,000,000; ordnance stores, $27,000,000; ordnance manufacture and purchase, $34,000,000; artillery, $114,000,000; temporary office buildings, $5,775,000; additional employees, $4,470,000. Navy—Ordnance, $10,000,000; Washington gun factory, $5,499,000; yards and docks, $6,144,000; hospital construction, $7,750,000; training camps, $12,000,000; ordnance stations, $2,500,000. Fuel and Food Administrations, $1,750,000; War Trade Board, $1,015,000; State Department emergencies, $300,000; Bureau of Risk Insurance, $1,537,000, and enforcement of the espionage act, $300,000.

Ten Millions for Nitrate. A $10,000,000 fund for purchase and sale of nitrate of soda to farmers is made a revolving fund by an amendment adopted by the Senate. Under this amendment the proceeds of the sale of nitrate of soda will be reinvested in additional supplies during the continuance of the war. The Department of Agriculture has received orders for nitrate of soda under this fund from nearly all Western states and is filling them rapidly.

In all weathers the skin and complexion can be kept wonderfully clear, soft and white by the use of this inexpensive lemon lotion which any girl or woman can easily prepare. The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin. Those who will make it a habit to gently massage this lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands once or twice daily may be repaid with a skin that is flexible and young-looking and a peach-like complexion—Adv.

HER DAUGHTER WAS SAVED FROM OPERATION Mrs. Wells of Petersburg Tells How.

Petersburg, Va.—"For two years my daughter suffered from a weakness and pains in her right side; at times she was so bad she could not do any work. For two years she was attended by the best physicians here, and both agreed that she would have to be operated on. I suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at first she refused to take it, but finally consented. From the very beginning it helped her, and now she is entirely well, and telling everybody how much good it has done her."—Mrs. W. D. WELLS, 226 North Adams Street, Petersburg, Va.

Wells did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, sideache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial that would soon find relief from such suffering. To Darken Hair Apply Sage Tea

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prevent revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drugstore all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

A Never Failing Way to Banish Ugly Hairs (Aids to Beauty.) No woman is immune to superfluous growths, and because these are likely to appear at any time, it is advisable to always have some depilatory powder handy to use when the occasion arises. A paste is made with some of the powder and water spread upon the hairy surface; in about two minutes this is carefully removed and the skin washed. You will then find that your skin is entirely free from hair or bumps. Be sure, however, to get real depilatory.—Adv.
