

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

REGISTRATION TELEPHONES. Main 1076, A 6005. City Editor, Main 1076, A 6005. Advertising Department, Main 1076, A 6005. Superintendent of Buildings, Main 1076, A 6005.

AMUSEMENTS. ORPHEUM (Broadway at Taylor)—Vaudeville. This afternoon at 2:15 and tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

THIRIFT STAMPS and WAR SAVINGS STAMPS on Sale at Business Office, Oregonian.

BISHOP ESTATE $12,500.—Moses S. Bishop, who died in Portland December 26, although a resident of Goldendale, left an estate appraised at $12,500, real property and personal effects forming $200 of it and notes and mortgages in Multnomah County forming the balance.

MOVIE CASE TO BE DISMISSED.—Upon motion of the city, the agent for which is Mrs. Eleanor T. Colwell, secretary for the Board of Motion Picture Censors, a charge relating the ordinance regulating motion pictures, filed last week against Joseph J. Parker, of the Majestic Theater, will be dismissed when it comes before Municipal Court tomorrow.

WOMAN CONVICTED OF LARCENY.—When Mrs. R. H. Craddock, house detective for a local department, was sent to the home of Mrs. Cora G. George, 714 Marion street, to ask about some articles of feminine apparel alleged to have been taken from the store by Mrs. George, she was charged by Mrs. M. Fletcher, mother of Mrs. George, yesterday in Municipal Court, Mrs. George was found guilty of larceny and Judge Roseman ruled that the goods must be returned. He suspended a sentence of 30 days in jail.

SPECIAL ROUND TRIP RATES FIXED.—At a meeting of the North Pacific Coast Passenger Association for Oregon, held yesterday afternoon, various local railway officials conferred on routine matters, transacting little business save the establishment of special rates for forthcoming events in Oregon. Special round-trip rates were fixed for the Oregon Grand Army of the Republic annual encampment, to be held at Albany in May, and for the L. O. U. P. convention, to be held at Seaside, during the same month.

GLASS IN HERBICIDES FALSIFIED.—More rumors of glass being falsified in herbicides were traced yesterday by City Bacteriologist Pernot and found to be without foundation. Loaves of bread thought to contain pulverized glass were submitted to Professor Pernot and were thoroughly examined. The rumor has been going the rounds for some time. Nearly every day suspected loaves are taken to the city laboratories by one person or another, but no glass has been found.

JUDGE MORELAND'S WIDOW GETS ESTATE.—C. Moreland, late clerk of the State Supreme Court, leaves his entire estate, the appraisal of which is not given, to his widow, Abbie B. Moreland, and asks that she be put in sole charge of the estate. In accordance with the will, which was filed for probate yesterday, Mr. Moreland died February 22. He was 56 years old.

BAR FIXTURES ARE SAVED.—Holding that Joseph Paquet, owner of the premises and prominent business man of the East Side, had no knowledge as to the purpose for which the property at 225 East Morrison was being used, Circuit Judge Gantenbein yesterday morning refused to sign an order authorizing the destruction of certain bar fixtures taken from the place in a raid conducted by special agents of the District Attorney's office.

CLERK NAMED AS FORGER.—Federal Authorities Trace Money Order Cashed by George D. Ham. George D. Ham, a former clerk for Sherman, Clay & Co., was arrested yesterday by Federal authorities for forging the signature of H. H. Dundore, manager for music business, to a post office money order for $5.50, which had been sent through the mails by D. Jackson, of Woodburn.

VICTORY MENUS.—A. A. Hoover, the Doughnut King, has a special menu for every meal. Doughnuts for breakfast, cake for lunch and pie for dinner. And his Fro ch pastry fits in pretty well anywhere. And it's a Victory in process, made with one-third substitute flour. Drop into the retail store, 145 Third, and take home something good. Phons any special orders to the bakery a day ahead and they will be delivered to your grocer for you.—Adv.

Dundee Man Gets License to Wed. CHEHALIS, Wash., March 12.—(Special.)—Marriage license was issued here to A. M. Bailey, of Dundee, Ore., and G. M. Putnam, of Wapato, Wash.

CARD OF THANKS.—We wish to extend to the kind friends our sincere thanks and appreciation for their sympathy and kindness shown us during our recent bereavement. MRS. B. D. GARLAND, SUE M. GARLAND.

OLD DEFENSE FAILS

J. A. Horner Is Found Guilty on Bootlegging Charge.

COURT IMPOSES $100 FINE

Clever Bit of Detective Work by Deputy District Attorney Bernard Brings About Speedy Conviction of Accused Man.

A clever bit of sleuthing by Deputy District Attorney Bernard brought about the conviction in Circuit Judge Gaten's court yesterday of J. A. Horner on trial for bootlegging. The case was on appeal from the District Court, where Horner had been convicted and fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Horner on the witness stand gave the old story of Portland bootleggers to the effect that a "mysterious stranger," whom he had never seen before, met him on the street and gave him some baggage. The stranger said that he got an expressman to deliver the baggage to a certain address.

To make his story sound more plausible, Horner produced an old envelope, on the back of which was written the address to which he said the stranger had directed the baggage should be sent. The envelope also had a typewritten address on its face and it was this address that Bernard decided to investigate.

He traced the envelope to a family living on the East Side, where he found they had given it to an expressman as a guide to their address for the delivery of some trunks. This expressman to whom they had given the envelope happened, by a strange coincidence, to be the same man to whom Horner had given the "mysterious stranger's" baggage delivered.

It was brought out in the testimony that the baggage, which consisted of about a dozen bottles of alcohol, were delivered by the expressman to 1217 First street. On the witness stand Horner at first denied he knew the location of that particular house, although it was brought out he lived but a few blocks distant. Under cross-examination he was compelled to admit that he owned the house at 1217 First street and held a mortgage on the house at 1217 First street, where the contraband liquor was delivered.

After this damning testimony had been brought out, together with the facts about the stray envelope and the improbability of the "mysterious stranger" could have been involved, it took the jurors but a short time to find Horner guilty as a bootlegger. Judge Gaten assessed a $100 fine.

WITNESS DROPS $4000. DORSEY SMITH GIVES TESTIMONY IN GAMBLING CASE.

A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, Defendants, Alleged Frame-Up to "Shake Down" Hush Money.

"I have lost about $4000 in Portland gambling-houses during the last seven months," declared Dorsey Smith, a shipworker, in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon in giving his testimony in the case of A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, charged with running poker and other games in the Oregon Walker Hotel, North-west building. The place was raided by Sergeant of Police Thatcher and his squad upon Smith's complaint early last Sunday morning.

Three checks, drawn on an Oregon City bank and returned because of no funds, were submitted by J. J. Fitzgerald, counsel for the defendants, and he testified that they were cashed at a price of 85 cents per check. The names of three firms which can forward the fish at the price quoted, and in large quantities, were immediately telegraphed to Washington.

PORTLAND MEN HONORED. Captains Selling and Joyce Made Medical School Instructors.

Two former Portland physicians, now in the Medical Corps of the United States Army, have made good in their work so completely that they are now instructors. They are Captain Laurence Selling, son of Ben Selling, and Captain Thomas M. Joyce, formerly of the firm of Coffey, Jones, Sears & Joyce.

WEDDED HAPPINESS BRIEF. Thomas Bathe and Julia Hastings File Suits for Divorce.

OLD DEFENSE FAILS

J. A. Horner Is Found Guilty on Bootlegging Charge.

COURT IMPOSES $100 FINE

Clever Bit of Detective Work by Deputy District Attorney Bernard Brings About Speedy Conviction of Accused Man.

A clever bit of sleuthing by Deputy District Attorney Bernard brought about the conviction in Circuit Judge Gaten's court yesterday of J. A. Horner on trial for bootlegging. The case was on appeal from the District Court, where Horner had been convicted and fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Horner on the witness stand gave the old story of Portland bootleggers to the effect that a "mysterious stranger," whom he had never seen before, met him on the street and gave him some baggage. The stranger said that he got an expressman to deliver the baggage to a certain address.

To make his story sound more plausible, Horner produced an old envelope, on the back of which was written the address to which he said the stranger had directed the baggage should be sent. The envelope also had a typewritten address on its face and it was this address that Bernard decided to investigate.

He traced the envelope to a family living on the East Side, where he found they had given it to an expressman as a guide to their address for the delivery of some trunks. This expressman to whom they had given the envelope happened, by a strange coincidence, to be the same man to whom Horner had given the "mysterious stranger's" baggage delivered.

It was brought out in the testimony that the baggage, which consisted of about a dozen bottles of alcohol, were delivered by the expressman to 1217 First street. On the witness stand Horner at first denied he knew the location of that particular house, although it was brought out he lived but a few blocks distant. Under cross-examination he was compelled to admit that he owned the house at 1217 First street and held a mortgage on the house at 1217 First street, where the contraband liquor was delivered.

After this damning testimony had been brought out, together with the facts about the stray envelope and the improbability of the "mysterious stranger" could have been involved, it took the jurors but a short time to find Horner guilty as a bootlegger. Judge Gaten assessed a $100 fine.

WITNESS DROPS $4000. DORSEY SMITH GIVES TESTIMONY IN GAMBLING CASE.

A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, Defendants, Alleged Frame-Up to "Shake Down" Hush Money.

"I have lost about $4000 in Portland gambling-houses during the last seven months," declared Dorsey Smith, a shipworker, in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon in giving his testimony in the case of A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, charged with running poker and other games in the Oregon Walker Hotel, North-west building. The place was raided by Sergeant of Police Thatcher and his squad upon Smith's complaint early last Sunday morning.

Three checks, drawn on an Oregon City bank and returned because of no funds, were submitted by J. J. Fitzgerald, counsel for the defendants, and he testified that they were cashed at a price of 85 cents per check. The names of three firms which can forward the fish at the price quoted, and in large quantities, were immediately telegraphed to Washington.

PORTLAND MEN HONORED. Captains Selling and Joyce Made Medical School Instructors.

Two former Portland physicians, now in the Medical Corps of the United States Army, have made good in their work so completely that they are now instructors. They are Captain Laurence Selling, son of Ben Selling, and Captain Thomas M. Joyce, formerly of the firm of Coffey, Jones, Sears & Joyce.

WEDDED HAPPINESS BRIEF. Thomas Bathe and Julia Hastings File Suits for Divorce.

OLD DEFENSE FAILS

J. A. Horner Is Found Guilty on Bootlegging Charge.

COURT IMPOSES $100 FINE

Clever Bit of Detective Work by Deputy District Attorney Bernard Brings About Speedy Conviction of Accused Man.

A clever bit of sleuthing by Deputy District Attorney Bernard brought about the conviction in Circuit Judge Gaten's court yesterday of J. A. Horner on trial for bootlegging. The case was on appeal from the District Court, where Horner had been convicted and fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Horner on the witness stand gave the old story of Portland bootleggers to the effect that a "mysterious stranger," whom he had never seen before, met him on the street and gave him some baggage. The stranger said that he got an expressman to deliver the baggage to a certain address.

To make his story sound more plausible, Horner produced an old envelope, on the back of which was written the address to which he said the stranger had directed the baggage should be sent. The envelope also had a typewritten address on its face and it was this address that Bernard decided to investigate.

He traced the envelope to a family living on the East Side, where he found they had given it to an expressman as a guide to their address for the delivery of some trunks. This expressman to whom they had given the envelope happened, by a strange coincidence, to be the same man to whom Horner had given the "mysterious stranger's" baggage delivered.

It was brought out in the testimony that the baggage, which consisted of about a dozen bottles of alcohol, were delivered by the expressman to 1217 First street. On the witness stand Horner at first denied he knew the location of that particular house, although it was brought out he lived but a few blocks distant. Under cross-examination he was compelled to admit that he owned the house at 1217 First street and held a mortgage on the house at 1217 First street, where the contraband liquor was delivered.

After this damning testimony had been brought out, together with the facts about the stray envelope and the improbability of the "mysterious stranger" could have been involved, it took the jurors but a short time to find Horner guilty as a bootlegger. Judge Gaten assessed a $100 fine.

WITNESS DROPS $4000. DORSEY SMITH GIVES TESTIMONY IN GAMBLING CASE.

A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, Defendants, Alleged Frame-Up to "Shake Down" Hush Money.

"I have lost about $4000 in Portland gambling-houses during the last seven months," declared Dorsey Smith, a shipworker, in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon in giving his testimony in the case of A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, charged with running poker and other games in the Oregon Walker Hotel, North-west building. The place was raided by Sergeant of Police Thatcher and his squad upon Smith's complaint early last Sunday morning.

PORTLAND MEN HONORED. Captains Selling and Joyce Made Medical School Instructors.

Two former Portland physicians, now in the Medical Corps of the United States Army, have made good in their work so completely that they are now instructors. They are Captain Laurence Selling, son of Ben Selling, and Captain Thomas M. Joyce, formerly of the firm of Coffey, Jones, Sears & Joyce.

WEDDED HAPPINESS BRIEF. Thomas Bathe and Julia Hastings File Suits for Divorce.

OLD DEFENSE FAILS

J. A. Horner Is Found Guilty on Bootlegging Charge.

COURT IMPOSES $100 FINE

Clever Bit of Detective Work by Deputy District Attorney Bernard Brings About Speedy Conviction of Accused Man.

A clever bit of sleuthing by Deputy District Attorney Bernard brought about the conviction in Circuit Judge Gaten's court yesterday of J. A. Horner on trial for bootlegging. The case was on appeal from the District Court, where Horner had been convicted and fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Horner on the witness stand gave the old story of Portland bootleggers to the effect that a "mysterious stranger," whom he had never seen before, met him on the street and gave him some baggage. The stranger said that he got an expressman to deliver the baggage to a certain address.

To make his story sound more plausible, Horner produced an old envelope, on the back of which was written the address to which he said the stranger had directed the baggage should be sent. The envelope also had a typewritten address on its face and it was this address that Bernard decided to investigate.

He traced the envelope to a family living on the East Side, where he found they had given it to an expressman as a guide to their address for the delivery of some trunks. This expressman to whom they had given the envelope happened, by a strange coincidence, to be the same man to whom Horner had given the "mysterious stranger's" baggage delivered.

It was brought out in the testimony that the baggage, which consisted of about a dozen bottles of alcohol, were delivered by the expressman to 1217 First street. On the witness stand Horner at first denied he knew the location of that particular house, although it was brought out he lived but a few blocks distant. Under cross-examination he was compelled to admit that he owned the house at 1217 First street and held a mortgage on the house at 1217 First street, where the contraband liquor was delivered.

After this damning testimony had been brought out, together with the facts about the stray envelope and the improbability of the "mysterious stranger" could have been involved, it took the jurors but a short time to find Horner guilty as a bootlegger. Judge Gaten assessed a $100 fine.

WITNESS DROPS $4000. DORSEY SMITH GIVES TESTIMONY IN GAMBLING CASE.

A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, Defendants, Alleged Frame-Up to "Shake Down" Hush Money.

"I have lost about $4000 in Portland gambling-houses during the last seven months," declared Dorsey Smith, a shipworker, in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon in giving his testimony in the case of A. L. De Forest and Alfred Gustafson, charged with running poker and other games in the Oregon Walker Hotel, North-west building. The place was raided by Sergeant of Police Thatcher and his squad upon Smith's complaint early last Sunday morning.

PORTLAND MEN HONORED. Captains Selling and Joyce Made Medical School Instructors.

Two former Portland physicians, now in the Medical Corps of the United States Army, have made good in their work so completely that they are now instructors. They are Captain Laurence Selling, son of Ben Selling, and Captain Thomas M. Joyce, formerly of the firm of Coffey, Jones, Sears & Joyce.

WEDDED HAPPINESS BRIEF. Thomas Bathe and Julia Hastings File Suits for Divorce.

This Is the Best Ever. Unquestionably the most for the money—a latest model talking machine, substantially made; tone equal to the best; beautifully finished; guaranteed material and workmanship—all for $3 Down $3 a Month or $52 Cash. You pick out 22 records and all accessories, included in the above price; latest songs, dance records, orchestras, band, etc.

Get a Battery for Yourself in the shape of a bank account, and see that day by day something is stored up for the time when either your earning power may be less and your needs, perhaps, greater. This old-established bank invites you to make it your banking home. A dollar or more opens a savings account here. LADD & TILTON BANK Washington and Third

DANCING. GUARANTEED $4.00. DeHoney's Beautiful Academy, Twenty-Third and Washington Sts. Beginners' classes start Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings this week. The only school teaching class lessons three hours, 8 to 11. Separate hall for beginners. Plenty of practice for you. Will not become embarrassed and we guarantee to teach you to dance in eight lessons for $4. Private lessons, all hours. If you wish to meet with refined people and learn from professional dancers, call at once. If you have failed in other schools, remember we guarantee to teach you. Select dancing parties every Saturday evening. Phone Main 7656.

Just a Hint of What The Hazelwood Special Lunches have to offer—we planned a series of 15 special lunches especially for those who want quick service and "a good lunch" for 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c, 45c.

In San Francisco STOP AT THE HOTEL STEWART. Carey Street, just off Union Square. From $1.50 a Day. Breakfast 60c, Lunch 60c, Dinner $1.00. Sundays: Breakfast 75c, Dinner $1.25. Municipal car line direct to door. Motor Bus meets principal trains and steamers.

YOUR SPRING HAT IS HERE. It's among the new ones we've just received in our Hat Dept. All the favored shapes and new shades—you can't possibly be disappointed. Brook and Beaver $3. Stetson, Borsalino and Trimble $5. Trench Caps and Plain Caps $2 and $2.50.

Save Wheat Save Meat Save Sugar. To Save Your Eyes See WHEELER OPTICAL CO. Second Floor, Oregonian Building.

SALVATION RALLY CHANGES. Saturday Night's Meeting to Be at Chamber of Commerce.

EQUIPMENT TAKEN BACK. Dump Cars Sold to Highway Commission Found Unsatisfactory.

DAMAGE SUITS ARE FILED. Victims of Auto Accidents Bring Action Against Car Owners.

CHANGE OF VENUE DENIED. Frank Gaudio, Alleged Murderer, to Be Tried in Portland.

PUBLIC BOXES PROHIBITED. Ordinance to Be Introduced as War Emergency Measure.

ALIEN SUSPECT RELEASED. August Trasko Proud He Is Citizen of United States.

FARM NOT SATISFACTORY. Former Owner of Cigar Vending Machine Wants to Trade Back.

LEWIS COUNTY PAYS JUDGE WHITE. CENTRALIA, Wash., March 12.—(Special.)—

The Portland Hotel. "A generation of hotel leadership." 129 Bdwy.—388 Wash.