"Well, here I am back in the old harness again; my boys gave a hearty welcome, and i am working, living and steaping (cometimes) down under the ground 26 feet, with many feet of concrets over my head and on the sides, in an old Bocke dugout. The planks on the floor float around like a sea of wafer, and we have to keep men, working the pumps day and night pumping the waier out. The walls and calling are dripping with water. We are wet to the skin most of the time. Things are quint on the line now, because of the mud and water. If you are of the mud and water. If you are of the hoard walks you go out of sight.

"One company was going up the line."

Crystolia Logistations came in all day and many more are expected by tomorrow morning.

In addition to the sessions held at the Central churches tenight, two special mass meetings were held in North and South Salem. Bishop W. T. Summer, of the Episcopal Church, spoke at the Lealie Methodist Church in South Salem and Miss Elizabeth McDowell and Frank Jackson spoke at the Jason Lee M. E. Church in North Salem. Miss McDowell is president of the Columbia Eliver Baptist Missionary movement for the United States and Canada.

Excellent adversess are scheduled at all three of the sessions tomorrow for both the men's and women's divisions.

"One company was going up the line to take over. When they arrived there they had a roll call and found four of their men missing, and went back over the way they had come up and finally found two of the men with all their nacks on standing completely covered over their heads in roll mud and water, suffocated and dead. They had made a misstep and went under out of sight. As this was at night they were not missed until it was too late to save them. Tommy is Cheerful.

"But this place of horrors has its amusing side, too. Tommy is an interesting subject. He is always cheerful, fully impressed with the business on hand, and never a quitter. An amusing thing happened during the recent battle of Cambral. I had a little time while my nurse was preparing some instruments, and walked over to the receiving station, and was looking over the rows of cases, and saw a young Tommy smiling and seeming young Tommy smiling and seeming quite pleased with himself; so I asked him why he was so happy and he amilingly replied that the Boche who lay next to him was the one who had lay next to him was the one who had wounded him. He said there were six of his pals and himself who had stormed a dugout, and ordered about 20 Boches to surrender. The Boche leader's reply was to throw a stick grenade, which is very deadly, and this grenade wounded four of his pals. He threw one of his hand bombe into the place and it wounded several and the rest began to come out and surrender. rest began to come out and surrender.
