BEDDING ALSO IN DEMAND

Portland Firemen Have Been Designated to Receive Contributions During Week--Infants' Clothing Especially Desired.

Don't forget that spare suit of othes, that old cap and that nearly form-out pair of shoes when you leave me this morning. The American Red Cross wants them It is up to you to carry them to the earest fire station, where they will be eccived by Portland firemen, who have satriotically thrown themselves into the campaign to raise 40 tons of used tothing in Portland this week, as part of the 5000 tons of clothing the American Red Cross intends to present to Herbert Hoover's commission for relief

And a month or so from now that pare suit may be keeping some worthy telgian warm in Brussels, and help him to restize that America is helping him, as well as his country.

And if you, Mrs. Portlander, have any saby clothes—even if they do early precious memories—why not take then to the fire stations, for the commission reports that 5000 newly born babies in Belgium are literally wrapped in sacking, simply because the commission's great warehouses are empty.

The old clothes won't clutter up America's ships. They will travel a few hundred tons a week on the grain ships of the commission.

even more than their part in supplying bedding, while there is hardly a fire station in the city that has not promised to lead off the campaign with substantial blue uniforms.

It does not matter what the article
of clothing is, whether it be a slive,
socks or overalls, it will be received
this week by the Red Uross.

Shipments will be made immediately
in two carload lots to the Atlantic Coast.

Every Red Cross auxiliary is interested in the campaign, for all other Red Cross work has been suspended while the campaign is in progress. It will end Salurday night.

COURTHOUSE ENGINEERS QUERIED BY JURY INVESTIGATORS.

Report That Emery Dust Had Been Thrown in Machinery Unproved After Thorough Inquiry.

Grand jury Investigation of th ourthouse engine-room fued probably will be completed early this week, at which time the county inquistorial body expected to submit a report to Proiding Judge Morrow containing sug gestions and recommendations for the onduct of the engine-room work.

Serious charges which are said to have been preferred by Clark Ryel, scharged engineer, which led to the discharged wagineer, which led to the grand jury's ordering an immediate and thorough examination of one of the ensire-room bollers, were not substantiated, it was learned yesterday. Distancerested inspectors made an examination of the boller in question and found it to be in excellent condition. Byel is said to have made the assertion that the entire heating system at the Courtbouse was endangered through the use use was endangered through the

of this boiler.

During the last week practically all of the engineers employed at the Courthouse, as well as others formerly employed there, have been before the grand jury giving their version of the engineeroom squabble, which has been in progress for nearly a year. So far as is known the grand jury has gained no definite knowledge of emery dust having been thrown into the machinery as Eyel is said to have asserted. It was found, however, that in one instance old rags were jammed in the ventilation system and one of the water pipes was clogged up at another time.

sipes was clogged up at another time.
The investigation resulted when sherlif Hurlburt and Special Agent feron, of District Attorney Evans' of ice, located a secret tap in an engineroom pipe, through which liquor de stroyed in the courtyard was draine off and taken, it is charged, by som-of the engine-room employes.
