SEATTLE, Wash. April 7.—(Special.)
—Earnings of $10 per day up to $500 per month by fishermen in Southeastern Alaska waters last season, which were not regarded as abnormal, were conceded by purse seiners and cannery men at the hearing before Judge Royal
A. Gunnison, Food Administrator for Alaska, held here today for the purpose of arriving at basic facts regarding salmon prices for the season of 1918. The time has come when not only the boys in khaki must fight, but all must get behind them and support them. Buy bonds and win the war. Pray and work and fight and pay."

The meeting closed with the singing of "The Star-Spangied Banner" by the sudience. The opinion was recommended.

Seiners emphasized the point that although the season proper is only of three months' duration, they are com-pelled to put in two or three months additional preparing their boats and gear and in time expended in going to and from the fishing banks. The plea of the fishermen, on account of in-crensed cost of materials and the difficulty of securing crews, was for highreprices this season than last. To this cannery men and packers objected, and offered records of earnings of the seiners to show that higher prices would not be justified.
