SEDITION BILL ADOPTED

EARLY ENACTMENT EXPECTED TO FOLLOW CONFERENCE.

Penalties of Twenty Years' Imprisonment and $10,000 Fine Proposed for Disloyal Acts.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The sedition bill, prohibiting under penalties of 20 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine language or acts of disloyalty or obstruction of the Army draft and liberty loans, passed the Senate today without a record vote. It now goes to conference between the House and Senate and final enactment is expected soon.

Though modified to meet the objections of Senators who claimed the original draft would curb legitimate freedom of speech, the bill retains the broad inhibition of words or acts which "support or favor the cause of the German empire or its allies . . . or oppose the cause of the United States."

It also would punish "willful and disloyal, profane, scurrilous, contemptuous or abusive language about the American form of Government, Constitution, military or naval forces, flag or uniform," and willful utterances designed to curtail production of essential war materials.

The Senate adopted an amendment by Senator Jones of New Mexico providing for dismissal of Federal executive employes making disloyal statements. This was a substitute for one introduced by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania several days ago after attacks had been made upon George Creel, chairman of the committee on public information, and other officials on account of their writings in the past.

Senator Lodge, after he and other Senators had denounced alleged disloyal publications in the German-American press, withdrew his amendment prohibiting German language publication unless paralleled by English translations.

This is a decrease of 222,048 tons compared with the orders on February 28.

MOB VICTIM FOUND HERO

other man and I led him all the way to the tree."

Denial Made to Charges.

En route to the scene of the hanging several persons were met in automobiles and Prager was forced to sing and kiss the flag for them. At the tree the man was questioned 20 minutes by members of the mob as to his alleged pro-Germanism, Riegel is reported to have stated.

"We asked him if he was a German spy and if he had tried to blow up the Maryville mine," the alleged confession continues. "He denied he was a spy and that he had hoarded powder."

Riegel's alleged story continues:

"Somebody tied the rope around Prager's neck and several boys from 12 to 16 years old pulled him up. His hands were not tied and he grabbed at the rope. They let him down and said: 'Now are you going to tell whether anybody is mixed with you?' We told him we were going to kill him if he did not tell everything.

Anger of Crowd Grows.

"He said his parents were living and he wanted to write to them. He also said he had three partners, but refused to tell their names. The crowd kept getting more excited and angry. Someone shouted: "Well, if he won't come in with anything, string him.'

"A boy produced a handkerchief and Prager's hands were tied.

"I might have been the man who did the tying. I was drunk. Because I had been in the Army the crowd made me the big man of the affair. I guess I was sort of puffed up over that.

"Just as we were about to string him up, Prager said: 'All right, boys. Go ahead and kill me, but wrap me in the flag when you bury me.'

"Then they pulled the rope. I merely looked on. I know a number of persons whose hands were on the rope."

Riegel was said to have concluded with a tribute to the bravery of the hanged man.

"He was the bravest man I ever saw in my life. He never shed a tear, except when he kissed the flag, and he did not once beg for mercy or ask us to turn him loose."

Riegel is married and has one child.

Riegel is said to have been questioned by Coroner Lowe, in charge of the inquest, and by W. R. Trautmann, First Assistant Attorney-General of Illinois, for more than an hour. It is not known whether he divulged the names of persons known to him who participated in the hanging.

One man implicated by Riegel as one of the mob leaders testified, but the nature of his evidence was not disclosed.

Details of the hanging were also supplied today by Albert Kneedler, 19 years old, who was a witness. He said he knew the faces of some of the men who pulled on the rope and could identify them, but did not know their names.

No arrests will be made until after the inquest is concluded, probably tomorrow, according to Mr. Trautmann.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—The dying wish of Robert P. Prager, hanged by a mob at Collinsville, Ill., last Friday, that he be buried with an American flag, was respected today when funeral services attended by several hundred persons were held from a local undertaking establishment.

A large flag was draped over his body. Numerous floral tributes came from persons who had not known the man.

The services were in charge of a German branch of the Oddfellows, of which Prager was a member.

SEMENOFF FACES DEFEAT IN SIBERIA

Allies Send Ammunition and Arms, but Quantity May Not Be Sufficient.

TEUTON FORCES IN MOTION

Twelve Hundred Armed Austro-German War Prisoners Marching From Tomsk Toward Chinese Front.

PEKIN, China, April 10.—(Special.)—General Semenoff's small force that is fighting the Bolsheviki in Siberia is likely to be outnumbered soon unless it is strongly supported by Anglo-Japanese forces or other forces of the allies.

A telegram from Irkutsk states that 1200 Austro-German war prisoners, armed and equipped, are moving toward the Chinese front.

These former prisoners came from Tomsk. The last news from Blagovyeschchensk is that the Bolsheviki are in full control of the situation there and have released all the war prisoners. In other parts of Siberia there is a state of anarchy.

The allies have already dispatched arms and ammunition to General Semenoff, but fears are entertained that the quantity is not sufficient.

The delay in bringing about definite arrangements between China and Japan is likely to cause a serious situation.

It is believed that the Austro-German prisoners have been instructed to cause a conflict with the Chinese by marching into Chinese territory.

Agreement Said to Be Reached.

It is reported tonight that China and Japan have reached an agreement concerning the sending of joint forces, but, while it is known that negotiations have been going on for some time, officials on both sides remain silent.

MOSCOW, April 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—"We entertain no illusions. Victory over famine cannot be expected in the existing circumstances," declared M. Brukhanoff, a member of the national food department at the session last night of the central executive committee of the council of soldiers' and workmen's deputies. Continuing, the speaker said:

"Famine has spread among the great masses of the people owing chiefly to the disorganized transportation. There is plenty of grain in Siberia, Northern Caucasus and in the Don region. In Siberia there are 150,000,000 poods (a pood is equivalent to 36 pounds) of grain, and in the Don province there are 5,000,000 poods, but the regular export to need, sections is difficult to organize."

Grain Supply Inadequate.

M. Brukhanoff said that instead of the 25,000,000 poods of grain necessary monthly for a "semi-hunger ration" only 15,000,000, or at the most 20,000,000, was obtainable.

The government has appropriated 1,500,000,000 rubles for the purchase of grain and of manufactured articles to be exchanged for grain.

Leon Trotzky, ex-Foreign Minister, has been appointed joint Minister of War and Marine. He has been acting as Minister of War since the government was removed to Moscow.

A protest against the landing of Japanese armed forces at Vladivostok has been sent to the Japanese Consul there by a committee representing the All-Siberian Soviets. Copies of the protest have been delivered to all the other foreign consuls in Vladivostok.

The protest says that the feeling of indignation among the Russian masses caused by the landing has been intensified by the statement issued by Admiral Kato, the Japanese Ambassador.

It is denied that Japanese in Vladivostok are in danger, and the declaration is made that the landing is an interference in domestic affairs similar to the Japanese participation in the civil war at Blagoveshtchensk, in the Amur Province, where the Japanese are charged with having taken up arms against the authority of the Soviet.

The murder of Japanese at Vladivostok, it is said, was clearly of a provocative character, and cannot be charged to the legal authorities.

The protest declares that the Japanese interference is an openly reactionary movement which threatens relations between the Japanese and Russian peoples.

PRICE ADVANCES MAY END

War Cabinet Considers Action in Matter of Domestic Necessities.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Stabilizing of prices of domestic necessities, including cotton goods, woolen, manufactured clothing, shoes and hats, was discussed today by President Wilson and his War Cabinet.

It is understood that the President's counsellors believe that drastic action will have to be taken soon or the average citizen will find many of the things he needs out of reach.

While the War Cabinet was in session the first move in what is declared to be a sweeping price-fixing or stabilizing scheme being worked out by the War Industries Board was made at a conference between more than 50 leading cotton manufacturers of the country and the board's price-fixing committee.

Meetings with delegations representing the woolen and leather industries are scheduled to follow on the completion of the present conference.

WOOL TRADING SUSPENDED

Koshland & Co. to Step Aside for Government Needs.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—(Special.)—Responsive to a telegram from the Boston Wool Trade Association and falling in line with the policy adopted by the other members of that association, S. Koshland & Co., of this place, wool dealers, announced today that they would suspend all trading in wool in the United States.

This action is to enable the Government to obtain all the wool that may be needed in the making of clothing and uniforms for the armed forces of the United States.

Koshland & Co., of this city, have representatives in practically every sheep-raising community of the West. These were today notified of the action of the firm and were called in.

100 Alleged Slackers Posted.

BAKER, Or., April 10.—(Special.)—A list of 100 men who are said by the local draft board to be slackers or to have failed to return their questionnaires was announced by the board here today. It is said that some of the men may have enlisted without notifying the board. The greater part of the list, however, the board says, cannot be accounted for.

U. S. MUST STRIKE HARD

ENTIRE STRENGTH OF ARMY AND NAVY NEEDED IN EUROPE.

Charles S. Hamlin, of Federal Reserve Board, Addresses Chamber of Commerce of United States.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Speaking to more than 1500 delegates, assembled at the sixth annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Charles S. Hamlin, of the Federal Reserve Board, said tonight there would be no victory in the world war until the entire strength of the United States Army and Navy had been transferred to Europe. Mr. Hamlin spoke in the absence of Secretary McAdoo.

The speaker dwelt on German atrocities as a prime reason why American business men should see the necessity of exerting their full energies in prosecution of the war.

"Some people say there were atrocities practiced by the Indians against the whites," he said, "but compared to the Kaiser, Sitting Bull was a philanthropist."

The estimated cost of the war, Mr. Hamlin said, has been placed at $18,000,000,000 annually, but it has run slightly below that figure for the first year.

He laid stress upon the part played by the Federal Reserve banking system in the financing of the war. At present there is in the Federal Reserve banks $1,800,000,000 in gold, which, he said, is more than the gold reserve of the banks of Italy, Spain, France and England combined.

Tax Levy Basis of Suit.

Alleged excessive tax assessments are the basis of a suit which was being tried yesterday before Circuit Judge Gatens in which William Reid, administrator of the estate of David C. Pelton, deceased, is seeking to have assessments made by County Assessor Reed lowered. Personal property belonging to the estate in 1913 was assessed at $80,890, and the tax was placed at $2197.53. The plaintiff alleges the property was valued at only $28,450, and that the tax should not have been more than $781.65. He wants the Sheriff restrained from attempting to collect the higher tax levy.
