PORT DISTRICTS ON COLUMBIA FAVORED

Steamboat Traffic on Upper River Depends on Terminal Facilities.

SHERMAN COUNTY TO WOTE

Formation of Port of Rufus Will Be Decided April 24-Engineer Sands Makes Report on Traffic Survey.

Formation of port districts on the upper Columbia River, on both sides of the stream from The Dalles to Pasco and Kennewick, so that proper terminal facilities can be provided for the accommodation of steamboat traffic, is favored by all interests, according to a preliminary report of a traffic survey by Harold Rands, engineer in charge, who was before the Port of Portland Commission yesterday.

Mr. Rands said he would leave Sun-day to take up the survey of the Snake River as far as Lewiston. He expects to obtain final data so that he can file a complete report May 1, accompanied by a large scale map. He interviewed individuals, representatives of commer-cial and county bodies, and said one of the highly important matters now pending was the election April 24 to determine if the Port of Rufus would be formed, which would comprise about 108 square miles of Northeastern Sher-nan County.

Even if the Rufus election falls. Mr. Rands said, it would not prove the pop-ulation against the port movement, for some expressed the view that the Port of Portland should make a move toward actual operation of vessels first. Commissioner O'Reifly remarked that he believed Portlanders had already displayed their interest in upper Co-lumbia steamboating through having expended $150,900 to keep the Open River Transportation Company going as long as possible.

The commission decided to comply with the request of the Port of Vancouver Commissing that a dredge be sent to make a fill on property west of the Standifer Construction Corpora-tion's steel shippard, where the Amerition's steet shipyard, where the American Cau Company is to erect a large plant, moving the present Portland plant, on North Front street. It was estimated 79,000 cubic yards of material would be required and a charge of $400 is to be made for the dredge. The Tualatin will be sent there, as she is ready at the drydock. In connection with the dredge matter the commission decided on a further increase in wages to conform to those paid on Government dredges, the advance affecting deckedges, the advance affecting deck dredges, the advance affecting deck-hands, firemen, oilers, cooks and wait-ers. An inquiry was received for a price on the dredge Portland, smallest of the digging fleet, and the port body fixed the figure at $100,000.

The commission went on record as opposed to lengthening the closed peri-cula on bridges, governing the opera-tion of draws for the accommodation of traffic, and it was ordered that Cofonel Zinn, who is conducting an investiga-

Inn, who is conducting an investigation, be so advised.

Plang for a proposed new sternwheel steamer to be used for towing deepwater vessels, were submitted as completed, and it was voted that as soon as they are approved bids will be called for.
