SERVICE S NEEDED

Many Prominent Republicans Indorse Ralph Williams.

PAST ACTS ARE RECALLED

Splendid Work in Harmonizing Various Elements of Republican and Progressive Parties Attested by Strong Letters.

C. B. Moore, ex-chairman of the Republican state central committee, and a large number of other men prominent in the Republican party of the state have indorsed the candidacy of Ralph E. Williams for re-election as Republican National committeeman.

In a statement issued to the Republican voters of the state yesterday these gentlemen call attention to the fact that the continued services of Mr. Williams in his present position are needed by the party in this state and the country at large.

Their indorsement of Mr. Williams' candidacy follows: To the Republican Voters of Oregon: Ralph E. Williams, of Portland, native son of Oregon, and present Republican National committeeman, is a candidate for re-election and election. All Oregon knows that Mr. Williams was the chief factor in bringing about the reunion of the Republican and Progressive parties in the state in 1916...

These letters refer not only to the state and National campaign of 1916 but also to the recent meeting of the Republican National Committee at St. Louis, where Mr. Williams' activity materially aided in establishing the spirit of co-operation and harmony which now prevails in the party throughout the United States.

"YELLOW DOGS" HUNTED

NEW ORGANIZATION WILL ROUT OUT DISLOYAL PERSONS.

Object Is to Bring to Strict Account Every Person Whose Talk Is Not 100 Per Cent American.

Suggested by Henry Irving Dodge's story, "The Yellow Dog," in the current issue of a weekly magazine, more than 70 100 per cent Americans temporarily organized "The Anti-Yellow Dog Club" at St. Francis' Hall yesterday.

Organization of the club will be perfected at another meeting in the same hall Wednesday night. Those who have sons in the trenches will be elected permanent officers.

When the club gets under way, the man or woman who persists in saying, "It's too bad we ever got into it," and kindred remarks, will take care to whom he addresses himself. The fellow who talks against the Government and is unable to back up his statements as well as he who wanders in and out of tents without resenting such remarks may also expect to be asked to explain.

The plan is to have all such instances examined by a special committee to the end that if the authors of such unpatriotic comments cannot be reached by the law they may be smothered by an indignant and patriotic public.

Senator Underwood Favors Less Debate in Upper House.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Less debate in the Senate during the war is proposed in a resolution introduced by Senator Underwood, of Alabama, reported to have considerable support.

Now that Muzey and his "parody on history" is swept formally into the discard in the Portland public schools, and the agitation for a comprehensive course of history teaching somewhat crystallized, the history teachers of Portland have compiled some statistics to show that not one, but many, volumes have been used in teaching the youth of the city the vital history of the world.

MUSICAL COMEDY FUNNY

"FROLICS OF THE DAY" SPARKLES WITH WHOLESOME MIRTH.

Lyric Show Is One Succession of Chasers and Clever and Well-Sung Musical Numbers.

Plotless, but highly entertaining, is the musical comedy, "Frolics of the Day," this week's attraction at the Lyric Theater, with Ben T. Dillon and Al Franks in the title roles.

The inevitable Mike and Ike, it appears, together with several other Americans, and a French Count of the side-door Pullman type, are trying to amuse themselves in the city of Paris, portrayed as it was in the days before the Hun interrupted. Mrs. Jack Wilmer, purported to be a wealthy grandwidow, originates a plan to reconquer the love and passions of her former husband, Jack. She pretends that she is going to marry the Count, and a series of hilarious incidents follow.

Robert Fitzsimmons is scheduled to stage a battle with a French champion. The French champion, however, fails to appear for the bout, and Ike is induced to play the part. The fight is full of mirth-producing thrills.

The whole show is one succession of chasers and clever and well-sung musical numbers, such as "Because of You," "Follow the Girls,"
