AMERICANS SHOW ACTIVITY

Yankee Patrols Penetrate Advanced Enemy Trenches Near Seicheprey and Find Hun Dead—Teutons Rain Bullets on U. S. Lines.

LONDON, May 12.—French troops on the Flanders front improved their positions north of Kemmel village yesterday and took more than 100 prisoners, the communication from the War Office this afternoon announces. German artillery is active in the Ancre River sector, south of Albert, east of Loos and near Voormezele in Flanders.

(By the Associated Press.)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, May 12.—An important section of high ground near the Yverbeek River, north of Kemmel, has been captured by the French in a strong attack. Both hills 41 and Goddons farm, which lie between La Clytte and Vierstraet, were stormed and occupied, thereby giving the French positions that had been a bone of contention for many days.

Success Short-Lived.

The Germans also received a knock on the southern battlefield, where they made a drive in an attempt to capture defenses on the elevation south of Mailly-Raineval. Here the enemy succeeded, after hard fighting, in obtaining a footing in the French front line at one place, but their success was short-lived, for a prompt counter assault drove them out, and besides their dead they left more than 100 prisoners in the hands of the defenders.

The battle for hill 44 was the outcome of the German attack of May 8. When the Germans advanced the allies were holding the elevation. Bitter fighting ensued all day long, and the Germans, in the course of time, secured possession of the hill. The British almost immediately organized a counter-attack and forced the enemy out. The next day the Germans again drove forward. They made such a heavy assault that they again captured the hill, which they held until yesterday.

Back Areas Fouled Hard.

The German gunners have been pounding the back areas hard, and during the last 24 hours great quantities of gas shells have been thrown by long-range guns. Prisoners recently captured declare that the German losses in their attack between Voormezele and Laclette, May 8, were heavy. Especially severe casualties were inflicted by the allied machine guns, which were worked to the last minute. One prisoner said he saw rapid-firing shooting into the advanced German lines at a range of about four yards. The allied artillery and rifle fire also took a heavy toll.

Own Gas Hampers Germans.

Considerable disorganization was caused behind the German lines because the gas from their gas shells blew back over their territory and forced them to use gas masks. Subsequently for the enemy, the gas was only an irritant, not lethal.

An interesting entry has been found in the diary of a German candidate officer. Writing at Calx, on the southern battlefield, April 23, he said that an attack which had been planned to take place previously had been delayed because a German division had pillaged Albert and created disorder.

PARIS, May 12.—A German attack last night on the positions recently won by the French near Orvillers-Sorel, on the southern side of the Picardy battle front, broke down with severe losses, the War Office announced this afternoon.

Artillery Fire Heavy.

There was heavy artillery fighting near Mailly-Raineval on the battle line below Amiens and also on the Verdun front.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Seicheprey salient again shows signs of becoming active. The enemy last night and this morning deluged the place with machine gun bullets.

On the same front one of the American patrols found a number of German bodies in advanced enemy trenches, where they probably had been left during the heavy American bombardment on the night of May 4. American patrols have entered the enemy lines in the sectors of Luneville and south of Verdun, but did not encounter resistance. Official report of the German losses in the Seicheprey battle, according to a prisoner recently captured, give 600 killed, wounded or missing.

Village Is Abandoned.

In the Luneville sector our patrols early Saturday established the fact that the hamlet of Anceville has been abandoned by the enemy. The Germans had not even attempted to occupy shell holes in the salient, which recently was torn up by our artillery.

Quiet prevails today on all fronts.

In a far east port, Mme. Botchkareva said, she was given sanctuary on an English man-of-war.

"I formed the Battalion of Death," Mme. Botchkareva said, "to avenge the death of my husband and to combat Prussian aggression in Russia. I am on my way to France, where I will enter service with the first contingent that will accept me. I expect to die on the battle field."

The American Red Cross Commission to Palestine, headed by Dr. John H. Finley, of New York, will soon arrive at Port Said. In co-operation with the American committee and British, Syrian and Palestine relief fund, it will combat the famine and disease which are exacting toll in the Holy Land.

GERMANY LACKS HOUSES

Shortage of 750,000 Small Dwellings Said to Exist.

AMSTERDAM, May 12.—There is a shortage of 750,000 small dwellings in Germany, according to Lieutenant Paul Koehrs, Socialist, speaking in the Reichstag on Friday. He said that in most large towns there were no more empty houses and that young married couples had to live in furnished rooms, rents having increased 50 per cent.

The house unanimously adopted recommendations of the dwelling-house committee, which includes an advance by the state of 500,000 marks and the construction of family barracks.

YOUTH PICKS UP DYNAMITE

Another dynamite scare aroused public interest late Saturday night, when S. A. Tucker, 222 Fremont street, reported at police headquarters that his young son had brought home a stick of the high explosive which he had picked up in the neighborhood.

Patrolman Rockwell investigated the matter and with Mr. Tucker found a party-filled case of dynamite in an empty house at the corner of Williams avenue and Fremont street. The explosive was turned over to the Harbor Patrol, while an investigation is being made to determine how it came to be there.

HUGE U. S. ARMY TO SMITE HUNS SOON

BOGHE BLOWS NOT FEARED

Aim Is to Reduce Enemy Reserves to Exhaustion.

FOCH'S TACTICS UPHELD

Method of Fighting and Retiring Only After Enemy Has Paid Awful Death Toll Is Declared to Have Been Fully Vindicated.

OTTAWA, May 12.—So confident is the entente of its ability to withstand any drive the Germans can launch that it has been decided not to use the American Army until it becomes a complete power and force, according to cable summary of operations on the western front received here tonight from the war committee of the British Cabinet.

"The position now is," said the summary, "that the Germans, determined to concentrate every available unit on one enormous offensive, are draining their country dry to force a decision before it is too late, while the entente are so confident that, having been given the choice of a small immediate American Army for defense or waiting till they are reinforced by a complete, powerful, self-supporting American Army, they have chosen the latter."

German Situation Critical.

"The German commander, seeing how nearly he is delivering himself to the allied reserve, has been compelled to accept temporary failure and call a halt. His position is tactically exposed in two dangerous salients on Water-logged ground. His countrymen are dangerously dissatisfied at the immense price paid for his failure to terminate their sufferings. His allies are on the verge of quarrelling and daily exhibit their growing dislike and distrust of the task-master who robs them of their lives and food."

"His reserves have nearly reached complete exhaustion. Those of the Franco-British are still in being, while the American preparations develop. The time draws closer when defeat is inevitable. Therefore, he must renew the offensive."

Allies Victory Only Deferred.

"The allies may have complete confidence in the results. For the enemy the issue is a desperate endeavor to avoid defeat; for the allies the issue is only that of victory deferred."

"The coming battle may be a repetition of Verdun on a larger scale, and if both sides should be exhausted the allies have vast powers of recuperation, while Germany has drafted her resources already."

"To the sledge hammer uses of masses of men by the enemy the allies are opposing the strategy of meeting the blow with the smallest force capable of standing up to the shock, while keeping the strongest reserve possible. Troops on the wings are possible."

CHAMBERS MILL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

COTTAGE GROVE LOSES SECOND PLANT WITHIN YEAR.

Richardson Store and Dance Hall at Leona Reported to Have Burned. Explosion Destroys Home.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—For the second time within a year J. H. Chambers, the largest lumber operator in this section, has lost his mill by fire of unknown origin. His former mill, a mile south of the city, burned last Fall. He then resumed operations at his Willwood mill, which had been idle.

This mill was destroyed by fire discovered at 3 o'clock this morning. A peculiar circumstance is that the watchman had quit his job just the day previous and the plant was unguarded last night.

A report has reached here that the Richardson store and dance hall at Leona was destroyed by fire last night. The big plant of the Leona Mills Company was not endangered. It is also reported that a small tie mill near Anlauf burned last night.

The Ole Christensen home at the Latham tie plant was destroyed this afternoon by flames resulting from the explosion of a gasoline stove.

TRUST WANTONLY ABUSED--BORGLUM

Aircraft Group Lashed by Sculptor.

THOROUGH PROBE DEMANDED

Further Letter to President Is Made Public.

DEEDS ET AL. DENOUNCED

Deliberate Falsification and Frame-Up Charged to Squelch, Coffin and Others—Loyalty to Executive Asserted.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Gutson Borglum, storm-center of the aviation controversy, made public tonight another letter to President Wilson, denying that he had betrayed the President's confidence, renewing his assertions of grave misconduct in the Government aircraft production organization, and insisting that the Senate military committee should conduct openly and thoroughly the investigation which he says he was prevented from making "by the War Department under Secretary Baker."

In regard to the documents put into the Senate record Friday designed to show that the sculptor attempted to capitalize his friendship with the President by secretly organizing a corporation to produce airplanes, the letter says Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, will submit to the Senate Tuesday of Wednesday detailed evidence and affidavits relating to "this deliberate frame-up."

"It is matter of the gravest concern to me," it adds, "that credence could be given to charges of such a nature, or that they could have been in your possession, and I have received no intimation of the falsehood until Mr. Marshall intimated that there was some sort of a charge or charges of disloyalty to you. This is so unthinkable that I dismissed and declined to even discuss them."

Confidence Never So Abused.
Borglum repeats his published answer to the charges, and continues: "Never, I believe, in the history of the country has a group of men been given so completely a Nation's resources, together with the Administration and people's confidence, as have the aircraft group, and never has such confidence been more wantonly abused. I refer here to Major-General Squires, Howard E. Coffin, Colonel Deeds and Colonel Montgomery."

Deliberate Frame-Up Is Charged.
"These civilian and military members appears in a programme planned to meet our military needs. They appear everywhere in the deliberate and elaborate machinery that placed and held the colossal contracts among a

DRY U.S. NEEDED TO WIN, SAYS HOBSON

HERO OF MERRIMAC MAKES ADDRESS AT GRANTS PASS.

Speaker Declares That Use of Liquor for Allied Armies Is to Blame for Man Power Loss.

GRANTS PASS, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—A great throng of people filled the auditorium and parlors of Bethany Presbyterian Church here today to listen to Captain Richard P. Hobson, of Merrimac fame. On the platform with him were representatives of patriotic societies of the city. There were tense moments as Captain Hobson led his audience along the line chosen for the address, "America in War."

The Captain scored the liquor traffic, treating his subject from the scientific standpoint.

"It is going to be a long war, friends, not to be won until America is a dry Nation," said the Captain. "Germany at the opening of the war restricted the output of liquor, in a few months reduced the quantity and at the end of a year abolished its manufacture entirely. Not a gallon of liquor is produced there now. We must do as much. The allies need 30 to 50 per cent more man power than is at present available. The use of strong drink is responsible for that amount of loss of man power in the allied armies today."

Hundreds pressed forward to greet the Captain at the close of his address. Captain Hobson spoke at Medford in the afternoon and at Ashland in the evening.

AUDACIOUS CONVICT MAKES BOLD BREAK

Jesse Baldwin Escapes by Ruse.

GUARDS ELUDED IN DAYTIME

Nerby Prisoner Walks Out in Trusty's Uniform.

BARS PRIED FROM WINDOW

Warden Murphy and Posse After Fugitive With Bloodhounds—Escape Is Second Undertaken by Man From Salem Prison.

SALEM, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—Jesse Baldwin, one of the state's most desperate convicts and notorious as a "bad man," added another chapter to his record at the State Penitentiary when he made a daring single-handed escape from the penitentiary at 10 o'clock this morning.

In broad daylight Baldwin pried open the bars of a window in the commissary department of the main prison building and walked unaccompanied out of the big gates unobserved under the very eyes of the guards.

By sheer nerve and a clever ruse Baldwin succeeded in deceiving the guard when he made his daring getaway through the gates.

Trusty's Suit Used.
Trustees are now attired in white suits and have easy ingress and egress at the main entrance to the yard during certain hours. Knowing this, Baldwin made his way to the kitchen, where he stole one of the white suits belonging to a trusty employed there, and which he found hanging on the wall. After changing clothes he went to the commissary, armed with a heavy bar of iron he had secreted for the purpose, and pried two bars loose from the window. His escape was discovered shortly after Baldwin had eluded the vigilance of the guards and had probably hit for the open country.

Baldwin originally was sent to the prison from Astoria on a larceny charge.

Convict Is Notorious.
During the regime of Warden Minto he broke into the headlines with a convict named Curtis by a series of rank insubordinations. Hosing of Baldwin and Curtis at the orders of Minto led to an uprising of the convicts, a demand on their part that Minto be displaced and the final ousting of Minto in favor of Warden Murphy.

Murphy and Baldwin had a clash shortly after Murphy took charge of the prison. A determined stand to disobey Murphy's injunctions resulted in Baldwin's being chained for several hours to the bars of a solitary cell. Finally Baldwin sent for Murphy and promised to be good. For many months he was one of the best prisoners of the institution until he won the privilege of the honor gang.

Daring Escape Staged.
About seven months ago he staged a spectacular escape on the same day, which he found hanging on the wall. Baldwin was recaptured not far from Albany by a Linn County Deputy Sheriff. On the way to Albany after the capture Baldwin fished the officer's revolver from his pocket, fired at him, and nearly made his escape in a desperate fight on a lonely road. Baldwin was finally overpowered and stood trial at Albany for the assault on the officer. He now has 14 years more servitude at the prison hanging over his head.

Warden Murphy, with a posse and a brace of bloodhounds, has been out all day in pursuit of Baldwin.
