Canadian and American Red Cross Buildings Raided by Murderous Boche Airmen.

AWFUL SUFFERING CAUSED

Terrible Missiles Strike Wing of Canadian Hospital and Sick and Wounded Soldier Occupants
Perish in Flaming Ruins.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Early Thursday morning German airmen bombed a Canadian hospital in the vicinity of a Canadian institution and exacted a considerable toll of casualties. Among those killed by the explosion or flames was an American medical officer who was administering an anesthetic to a British officer in the operating room. The raid occurred at 12:30 o'clock in the morning.

The hospital attacked was a large one and was marked by huge Red Cross signs. The German airmen, working partly by the light of the moon, dropped four bombs near the hospital and then, not apparently able to see exactly where they were hitting, lighted a brilliant flare to illuminate the surroundings.

As the place was lighted up by this flare they released another bomb or two which dropped squarely on a large wing of the hospital. Part of the wing was demolished and many persons were killed and wounded when the building collapsed and buried them. The demolished wing caught fire and burned fiercely with many victims still pinned in the wreckage.

Rescuers Show Bravery.
Nothing more awful has occurred in the annals of the hospital service since the war began. Every available person in the neighborhood was called out to assist in the rescue work. With the assistance of ladders and other fire apparatus the hospital proper was rapidly emptied of patients and personnel. It was a desperate situation. A roaring furnace represented what was left of the big wing.

Many unconscious forms were carried out by heroic men who risked their lives to reach them. Excellent work on the part of the firemen finally resulted in the fire being extinguished, but there were still many victims, including more than one sister, buried in the ruins. There was no hope that they were alive.

Private Houses Wrecked.
Only a few persons were injured by flying glass, as most of the windows in the hospital had been shattered by bombs dropped the previous night. Several private houses were wrecked and a number of civilians, including several babies, were killed and injured. That the raid was planned on a much larger scale than recent ones over this territory is evidenced from reports made by many Americans in villages over which the raiders passed. The Germans came in wave formation and then scattered widely. One squadron dropped bombs a few hundred feet from an American village, and at the same time one of the long-range guns shelled a village a few hundred yards away.

ELK NEARING NEW HOME

TWO ANIMALS DIE AS RESULT OF TRIP OVER TRAILS.

City Park Superintendent Returns After
Accompanying State Biologist Into Big Bottom Country.

Satisfactory progress is being made with the elk taken from the City Park and now being driven to the region of the Big Bottom country of Clackamas County, according to the report of City Park Superintendent Kayser, who returned yesterday from a trip to that section of the country.

One elk was killed accidentally and two others died as a result of being physically unable to stand the hardships of the trip. Another elk may die, but these casualties, while not anticipated, were not surprising because of the long and difficult trip necessary to land the animals in the proper district.

The transportation of the elk over the trails in the mountains is under the direction of W. L. Finley, state biologist, and has progressed about eight miles into the mountains. Ample time is being taken so that the animals will not be subjected to unnecessary fatigue.

HOUSEBOATS TO BE MOVED

Mooring Near Industrial Plants Will Be Forbidden.

Determined to rid the commercial waterfront of all scows and houseboats, the City Council yesterday instructed City Attorney LaRoche to draft an ordinance which would eject them from waterfront property adjacent to industrial plants, and yet allow them moorings at other points.

Complaints have been made to the City Council by Lloyd J. Wentworth, district supervisor of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, and others.

At a special meeting of the council yesterday, complaints were registered against a number of scow dwellers mooring near the new grain elevator under construction and adjacent to the State-Ballin Shipbuilding plant.

AUSTRIA GERMAN PROVINCE

resembles the Lombard and Venetian uprisings in 1848, except that today the empire is hampered by her engagements in a war from which she does not see a way to escape.

At Chosen, crowds, exasperated by police brutality, set fire to the barracks and to the city hall, where the mounted police were lodged. Eight of the officers were burned to death.

At Koln the people pulled down the Austrian flag and raised the Bohemian flag. Public buildings have been burned at Taber and other towns in Bohemia and in Olmutz, Moravia.

At Prague the offices of the German newspaper, the Zeitung und Neue Nachrichten, were sacked.

The Prague correspondent of the Stuttgart Neueste Nachrichten telegraphed to his paper that the events of last Sunday at Prague exceeded in gravity all the previous demonstrations. The Neu Freie Presse, of Vienna, appeals to all conservative elements for the preservation of the Austrian state, asserting that "only the tenacity and union of those who desire the preservation of the state can make the monarchy survive this great crisis."

ITALO-SLAV ENTEENTE STRONGER.

The Croatian press reports that martial law has been proclaimed in Bosnia; that rioting has occurred in various towns and that the Italo-Slav entente is daily becoming stronger.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Serious disturbances are reported in Austria in official dispatches today from Switzerland. Foreigners, it is declared, are not permitted to enter the country. The disorders are attributed, the dispatches said, to Socialists and Jugoslavs.

MILK PRICE WILL RISE

PINTS WILL COST 8 1/2 CENTS JUNE 10; MORE JULY 1.

City Milk Commissioner Abolishes Sale of Cream in Quarter Pints; Other Recommendations Made.

Consternation will, forsooth, reign this morning in the ranks of small consumers of lacteal products—the housewives who are wont to buy their milk in pints and their cream in quarter pints. Where these provident persons have been accustomed to paying 7 cents for a pint of milk, they face the necessity of paying 8 1/2 cents after June 10.

No more will the dealers handle quarter pint bottles of cream, and the consumer must take a half pint or go without.

These were two of the recommendations agreed upon last night at a session of the City Milk Commission. While these and the other recommendations go first to the Mayor, it is taken for granted that they will be made effective with his approval.

Aside from the jump in the price of pints and a recommended raise of 5 cents per three-gallon can for milk at wholesale, old prices were not disturbed. It was made plain, however, that appreciable advances will be sought about July 1, when the supply begins to dwindle.

A recommendation was passed by Henry B. Reed and William L. Brewster, of the commission, that retail milk shall be delivered only in an equal number of empty bottles as are taken by the customer. On written request of the customer, the distributor shall furnish one additional bottle so that extra milk may be obtained. The customer shall pay 5 cents for each bottle not returned to the distributor, and may obtain milk by setting out 6 cents instead of a bottle for each bottle of milk desired.

Another recommendation provided that delivery of retail milk be made at the residence entrance most accessible to the street, whether it is the front door or back door.

Emphasis was placed by the dealers on the new provision under which they will not leave a bottle of milk for the customer who neglects to put the empty bottle out before their arrival.

BRITISH WRATH STIRRED

PARIS SHELLED DURING FEAST OF CORPUS CHRISTI.

Air Raids of English on German Cities
Discontinued During Religious Celebration.

LONDON, May 31.—A wave of indignation is sweeping over the country, aroused by the German response to the British consideration for the celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi, at Cologne.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The least one could have looked for was that the German government should observe toward Paris on the feast of Corpus Christi the same consideration as had been solicited on behalf of Cologne."

The Star says: "In Germany yesterday the festival of Corpus Christi was celebrated without disturbance. Although weather conditions were suitable, there were no allied aerial attacks on any Rhine towns, the promise of the British government."

In Paris the festival of Corpus Christi was celebrated under a bombardment of German long-range guns. A church was hit and 18 persons injured during the day.

PARIS, May 31.—The German long-range bombardment of Paris was resumed early this morning.

PODOLIO DISORDERS GROW

Entire Communities Reported
Drenched With Gas by Germans and Asphyxiated in Course of Reprisals.

MOSCOW, May 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Strong revolutionary detachments of demobilized Russian soldiers and peasants equipped with machine guns and artillery have risen in the district of Tschigirine, in the Province of Kiev, in an attempt to seize governmental power.

The Bolshevik government has been asked to send troops to subdue the revolutionaries.

German forces, while disarming Ukrainian troops today at Odessa, were fired upon. The Germans then arrested a number of the important personages in the Black Sea port and took them to the German army headquarters.

Peasant disorders are spreading throughout the province of Podolia.

LONDON, May 31.—The Germans in their reprisals against peasant disorders in the Ukraine drenched several villages near Kiev with gas, according to a Petrograd dispatch to the Daily Express.

Thus, adds the message, whole communities were asphyxiated.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The privilege of communicating with consuls in code has been restored by the Russian government to the American Embassy at Volodga, the State Department was informed today.

64 CLATSOP BOYS ENTRAIN

Astoria Gives Soldier Contingent
Rousing Sendoff.

ASTORIA, Or., May 31.—(Special.)—Sixty-four Clatsop County young men left this morning to begin military training at Fort McDowell, Cal. Five of them will leave in a few days, completing the county's quota of 69 men. Those who started today were entertained at breakfast by the women of the Red Cross, the Girls' Honor Guard, city officials and citizens in general. A stirring address was given by Hon. John H. Smith.

Later a procession headed by the MacEachern shipyard band marched to the depot, where a short talk was given to the men by Rev. Father Waters and the farewells were said. It was a touching scene that brought tears to the eyes of many an onlooker, especially when a little tot shouted to one of the men: "Good-by, daddy; hurry and come back to mamma."

As the train moved away the men stuck their heads from the car windows and gave three rousing cheers for President Wilson, the Red Cross and the citizens of Astoria.

to the spruce production division of the United States Army, and the wives of the officers of the division corps will handle the sale of flowers for the benefit of the corps recreation fund.

Both Seattle and Tacoma are planning rose shows and the members of the local club want to take no chances on Portland's losing its pre-eminence as the city of roses. President Ellsworth of the club has appointed as members of a committee to arrange for the show: Mrs. A. D. Charlton, Mrs. Jay Smith, Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, Mrs. Walter T. Sumner, Mrs. C. C. Overmire and Mrs. Omar C. Spencer.

Many gardens in the Portland Heights district have already been placed at the disposal of the committee for the selection of choice blooms.

In addition to the military feature, made possible by the presence of a large number of officers and enlisted men in the spruce production division, a number of novel features will be arranged in connection with the show.

HOW FOCH WILL WIN THE VICTORY

In the whole history of war, as one journal remarks, one can find no individual responsibility equal to that of Gen. Ferdinand Foch, "called to the head of six millions of soldiers to achieve victory for human liberty and civilization." Four great nations have unreservedly entrusted their armies and their destinies to this French General. More than six millions, in fact, may be under his supreme command, for the Italian Premier says that the Allied conference "recognized a united front from the North Sea to the Adriatic as an effective reality"; and some estimates place the Allied troops in France and Belgium alone at not less than six million. What, ask our military critics of the press, is the plan of this leader in whose genius the Allied nations have such faith?

It is to answer this question that the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for June 1st has been prepared. The article includes the opinions of the war experts and presents all available information.

This number of "The Digest" might justly be termed a "Foch Number," because the cover shows a strikingly handsome reproduction in colors of an authentic picture of the great French Commander-in-Chief.

"The Digest" Prevents a One-Angled View

These are anxious days in Flanders and Northern France and those of us who look only at the heroic struggle the British are making against heavy odds may be perhaps the least bit fearful of the outcome. But this is only a partial view after all. What we should do is to survey the Allied lines as a whole—French, American, Italian, and English—and then we realize at once that the pressure at the North is only a part of the great struggle and that Southward hope and help are still to be had in generous measure. So, too, the reading of but one morning or evening paper gives one a merely partial view of this great world-crisis. What is needed is a reasoned analysis of the whole situation, drawn from all possible sources, and quoting the views of many periodicals. This you have every week in THE LITERARY DIGEST, the greatest of news-magazines. Buy a copy and be convinced.
