

EX-VICE-PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS IS DEAD

Indiana Statesman Succumbs to Ravages of Malady Long Chronic.

FAMILY AT HIS BEDSIDE

Only One Absent Is Son Richard, Now Major in American Army and Serving His Country in France.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 4.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, ex-Vice-President of the United States, died at his home here at 8:55 o'clock tonight.

The distinction of birth in a log cabin, which illustrious Americans of an earlier day commonly had, was also that of former Vice-President Fairbanks. It is probable that he was the last of American statesmen to have been born in one of these humble cabins.

The one where he was born on May 11, 1852, was at Unionville Center, O. It came dangerously near being the funeral pyre for the future statesman.

When Mr. Fairbanks was a boy of 4 his father built a new home, and the one-room log cabin was used as a general store. One day while the workmen were at lunch Charles wandered into the shop and carelessly threw a bunch of shavings into the open fireplace.

Mr. Fairbanks traced his ancestors to the days of Oliver Cromwell, who counted "Fayerbanks" among his supporters. Jonathan Fayerbanks, the first member of the family to come to America, landed at Boston in 1636.

Fairbanks' father was Loriston Monroe Fairbanks, a wagon maker of Vermont, who emigrated to Union County, Ohio. His mother was a sister of the late William Fairbanks, once general manager of the Associated Press.

Runaway Slaves Sheltered. The Fairbanks home frequently was the hiding place of runaway slaves, and no black man was ever turned away from the door. Fairbanks was 8 years old when Abraham Lincoln was elected President.

From Pittsburg Mr. Fairbanks went to Cleveland and completed his law course. In 1876 he was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives.

After marriage Mr. Fairbanks moved to Indianapolis and opened a law office. He took a deep interest in politics and assisted in local, state and national campaigns.

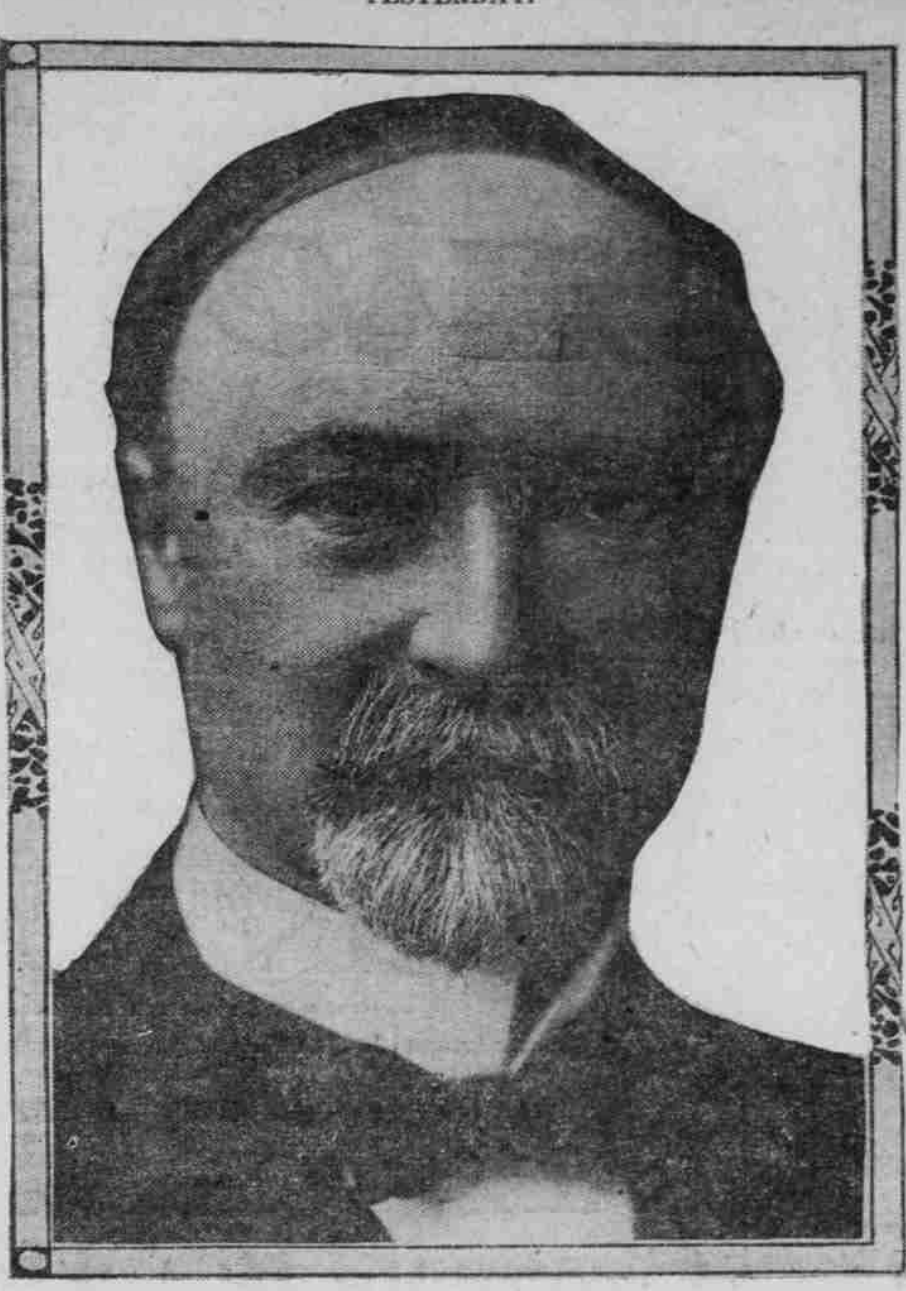

It has been estimated many times that Mr. Fairbanks did more to commit the Republican party in Indiana to the gold standard in 1896 than any other man.

WATCH NERVOUS CHILDREN. St. Vitus' dance is a disease easier to prevent than to cure. Nervous children should therefore be carefully watched for symptoms of the approach of this disease.

Long before the child becomes awkward and begins dropping things there is a period in which the appetite is rickety and the patient is tired and listless. The jerking movements characteristic of the disease come much later.

U-BOATS GIVE CLEW

Mystery of Cyclops Seems Nearer Solution.

COLLIER MAY BE PRIZE

Presence of German Submarines Off U. S. Shores for Two Months Suggests Ship's Capture or Destruction.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Did the German submarines which raided America's shipping off the Jersey coast destroy the missing collier Cyclops, or did they capture her at sea, and aboard a prize crew and send her to Germany?

Out of the mysterious disappearance of the American collier, now missing three months exactly to a day, this question has been raised by the passing remark of one of the submarine commanders to Captain Lowry, of the steamer Tuxedo, that the U-boats had been on the American side of the Atlantic for two months.

It is possible, though not probable, naval experts say, that the collier, with her great cargo of manganese and some 200 souls, might have been captured by submarines, possibly by arrangement.

It would then have been easy to send an armed crew ashore to the quarters where most of her men were asleep and take possession of the ship.

The statement of the U-boat commander two months adds to the theory of those who have maintained that there is a submarine base on this side.

"Join Marines or Leave Home," Says Wife. Frank A. Laudenberger Receives Ultimatum From Life Partner.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 4.—"Either I join the Marines or leave home" this was the ultimatum issued to Frank A. Laudenberger, a silk weaver, of Marietta, Pa., by his patriotic wife.

When Laudenberger appeared before Sergeant Jim Gandee, of the local recruiting station recently, he was told that he would have to obtain his wife's consent before he could be accepted.

ONLY GOVERNMENT CAN HALT STRIKE

Walkout of Telegraphers of Two Big Companies Seems Inevitable.

ORDER TO BE ISSUED SOON

President Koenenkamp Leaves Washington for Chicago and Will Act Promptly if U. S. Does Not Intervene.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Only intervention by the Federal Government can prevent a general strike of operators employed by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies, S. J. Koenenkamp, president of the telegraphers' union said tonight before leaving for Chicago.

On his arrival here he plans to mail out the call for a walkout as a result of the refusal of the Western Union Company to have the jurisdiction of the National War Labor Board, which sought to compose differences between the companies and the men.

Secretary Wilson, who discussed the situation with the union president is understood to have laid the matter before the Cabinet at its meeting today, but there was no indication that further steps were planned to prevent a strike.

Men to Stay at Work. The men will continue to work here pending final agreement with the Government over the controversy under advice of the National heads of the order.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A telegram was received this morning from the National head of the Federated Railway Unions to the local union here ordering the local body to remain at work and not attempt a strike as proposed in protest telegrams sent to St. Paul yesterday.
