COAST CONFERENCE CALLED TOMORROY

to Meet to Thrash Out Athletic Problems.

FRESHMEN QUESTION UP

Eligibility of First-Year Men to Be Decided-Whether or Not to Suspend Athletics for Duration of War to Be Discussed.

By JAMES J. RICHARDSON. The special meeting of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Conference scheduled for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Imperial Hotel, will be attended delegates from all of the schools in the conference. Four very important advisability of suspending the fresh-man rule are the two most important problems up for discussion.

The University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College delegates to the conference will vote to continue athletics. Leland Stanford, Jr., University of California has already abolathletics for the duration of the Just what attitude the other schools in the conference will assume on this very important question is a matter of conjecture.

Some Ready to Quit.

It is known that some of the schools represented in the conference are in a weakened position regarding the continuation of athletics and are ready to drop off. This meeting has been called Score: with the idea of bolstering up their attitude and getting them back into

An object lesson for the conference and Object lesson for the conference delegates is the coming back of Yale and Princeton into the intercollegiate fold. In view of President Wilson's proclamation and the War Department's attitude on the athletic question it is hard to conceive how any of the schools in the country could con-scientiously vote for the abolition of intercollegiate athletics.

The freshmen rule bobs up at every gathering of the intercollegiate dele-gates. The emailer institutions will undoubtedly vote to suspend the freshmen rule during the period of the war, but it is doubtful if they can muster enough votes to carry the proposition which will be bitterly fought.

O. A. C. Favors Rule. Oregon Agricultural College will vote to retain the freshmen rule. Dr. A. D. Browne, physical director at the Cor-Browne, physical director at the Corvallis institution and secretary of the conference, is a great believer in keeping the "rooks" out of intercollegiate athletics until they have spruced out in a green cap for a period of one year. There is no question but that college athletics have suffered a severe joil on athletics have suffered a severe jolt on the Pacific Coast. Countless numbers of athletes have enlisted or been called into the service and the athletic directors wear a more or less worried appearance when the future of college athletics is discussed. A. D. Browne has fostered intra-l athletics at the Aggle institu-collegiate athletics. "If the other four days. their students instead of a select few there would never be any occasion for abolishing the freshmen rule," said Dr. mann, Bagby and Thomas. Browne over the long distance phone

They will reach Los Angeles Monday evening, and that will give them a night's rest and put them in shape to play Tuesday afternoon. The clubs have contracted with a com-pany that runs "jitney" automobiles regularly between San Francisco and Los Angeles, to transport the players between the various baseball towns, and it is asserted that by the new arrangement the transportation bills will be less than if the increased fares on the railroads were paid.

By this arrangement, besides effecting a saving to the ball clubs, the desired result of relieving the railroads of as much passenger traffic as possible to make the control of the contr sible to make way for the handling of

PENTECOSTAL CHURCH OF NAZA-RENE HOLDS ASSEMBLY.

Rev. C. Howard Davis Greets Delegates in Welcoming Address-District Likely to Be Divided. A large attendance marked the ses sions of the 14th annual district assembly of the Pentacostal Church of the Nazarene yesterday, and the ad-dresses and discussions were interesting. The assembly opened on Tuesday in the First Methodist Episcopal Church South, the use of which is donated for the occasion. An address of welcome from the Nazarene churches of Portland was delivered by Rev. C. Howard Davis, pas-tor of the First Nasarene Church. This was followed by a warm greeting from Dr. J. T. French, pastor of the First Methodist Church, South. Re-sponses were made by Rev. J. T. Lit-
