EDITORS WILL VISIT PACIFIC NORTHWES

Annual Convention in 1919 to Be Held in British Columbia. Oregon and Washington.

Pacific Northwest Tourist Association Sends Handsomely Engraved Invitations Bearing Scenes of Three Commonwealths.

Next year the National Editorial Association will hold its annual conven-tion in the international Pacific North-west, visiting and holding its sessions in turn in British Columbia, Washing-ton and Oregon.

Definite information to this effect was received yesterday afternoon by W. J Hofmann, director and commis-sioner of the Pacific Northwest Tour-ist Association, from Hebert Cuthbert, secretary, who is now in Little Rock, Arkansas, attending the present session of the National Editorial Association. Favorable action was taken by the convention following the presentation of invitations to visit the international Pacific Northwest, made by the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association and by representatives of the editorial associations of British Columbia, Oregon and Washington.

E. E. Brodie, of Oregon City, past-president of the Oregon Editorial Association, accompanied Mr. Cuthbert to Little Rock and presented an invitation on behalf of the press of this Able Newspaper Men Will Come. The acceptance of the invitation is a clear-cut victory for the enterprise of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association and will bring to this section of the coast hundreds of the ablest newspapermen of the country—to judge for themselves of the resources and advantages of the Northwest, and of the part it has taken in war activities.

The convention "on wheels" plan, the novelty of which appears to have won instant favor with the National Editorial Association, will bring the newspapermen to each commonwealth in turn for one day of the session. Complete plans for their entertainment in Portland will be taken up by the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association and the Oregon State Editorial Association. Handsomely engraved invitations, covering a large sheet of heavily cal-endared paper and bearing half-tone reproductions of scenes in the three scenic commonwealths—such as Shep-herd's Dell, on the Columbia Highway. Crater Lake, Mirror Lake, in Rainier National Park, Mount Sir Robert Borden, British Columbia — were for-warded by the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association to the National Editorial Association. These invitations in text were as follows:

"The entrance of the United States into the world's war, upon the side of the allies, has brought together the peoples of the two nations on the North American continent with one common object and has induced then to combine their resources and capabili-ties in order to win the war.
